The HUMAN SIDE Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

(Copyright, 1937, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TWO STRIKING anniversaries appear in the news. Tomorrow is the one hundred and twentieth birthday of our national anthem, the Star Spangled Banner. It is also the seventy-seventh birthday of General John J. Pershing, whose 2,000,000 men in France and Flanders fought under those same stripes and stars.

What, indeed, could be more fitting and appropriate than that the birthday of the song which salutes the flag of our country should fall on the anniversary of our great general who carried that flag to victory in the greatest war in the history of the world? The flag, indeed was born in the shock and travail of war, and the national anthem was inspired while British guns were hammering away at Fort Henry, off Baltimore. It was then, in "the rocket's red glare," that Philip Barton Key saw the flag so gallantly streaming.

As for General Pershing, he comes to 77 in fair health and, we hear, excellent spirits. He spends much of his time in France, directing the activities of the commissions which supervise the cemeteries of our soldier dead and erect splendid memorials to the young men on the fields of battle where they died. A fine job for the old general — important, dignified, wholly in keeping.

FRANCIS SCOTT KEY'S manuscript of "The Star Spangled Banner" is still in existence; 32 lines of writing in small, neat hand. An ordinary sheet of notepaper, yellowed, time-stained. Those lines were set down under the strangest of circumstances, under the impulse of terrific drama.

Key, living in Baltimore, lawyer and poet, had enlisted in the militia to fight the red coats after the British captured Washington, the national capital, and did their best to burn down the White House. They were bent, too, on capturing Baltimore, and had assembled a fleet out in the roadstead to batter Fort McHenry into surrender.

While those British cannons were getting the range and preparing to open up the bombardment, Francis Scott Key got into a small boat and had himself rowed out to the British flagship under a flag-of-truce. He went to appeal on behalf of a friend, Dr. William Beanes, who had been captured by the British and was being held prisoner.

THE ADMIRAL and his staff greeted Key courteously, accepted his assurance that Dr. Beanes had treated British wounded with no less care than he had given to American wounded, and ordered the doctor's release from the ship's prison. But the admiral explained that it was impos-

EX-SHREVEPORT MAN DIES

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Services for William G. Hudson, 60, former Shreveport resident who died Friday in a hospital at Covington, will be at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Osborn funeral home with the Rev. A. J. Hollingsworth officiating. Burial will be in Forest Park cemetery. Mr. Hudson, who resided at 3624 Napoleon boulevard, New Orleans, was district engineer for the Portland Cement association. He died after a lengthy illness.

WOODWARD SAYS HE ACCOMPANIED GANG THAT SHOT OFFICER WOLFF

Claims He Was Made To Go Along And Do Things He Did On Trip

NEGRO WOMAN ALSO AIDS BY FURNISHING 'LEADS'

White Woman Tells Of Washing And Dressing Hairston's Wounds

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 11.—(AP)—General Louis Guerre, head of the Louisiana state police, said late today that Thomas Woodward, 38, alias George Jackson, captured in a Mississippi river swamp hideout, admitted he was a member of a group of desperadoes who shot and killed a Gulfport, Miss., policeman Tuesday.

"He admits he was with the others at Gulfport," Guerre said after questioning Woodward, "but claims he was forced to go along and was made to do the things he did."

At the same time, Guerre revealed that his office received a report that two other members of the gang, the only two still at large, believed to be Bob Campbell, alias Anderson, and Joe Gill, alias Myers, were seen getting off a bus at Shreveport late yesterday. Guerre said that, according to his report, a woman met the two and drove away with them in an automobile.

State police questioned Woodward twice, once this morning, once this afternoon. They also questioned other members of the group of prisoners taken Friday morning near Vidalia, La.

'ROPE JUSTICE' STORY NEAR BANDIT'S BED

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Gangster "Goldie" Hairston may have died shortly after reading a detective story.

State police who raided the hideout of the gang he allegedly headed, found an open detective magazine beside his bed.

"Rope Justice"—read the caption on the page, over a picture of a man with a noose about his neck. A half dozen other detective magazines lay nearby.

State police who raided Hairston's gang hideout in the swamp country north of here at dawn yesterday, theorize that he died there of bullet wounds. The officers think Hairston's lieutenants stripped his body of clothing and attempted to dispose of the body near Jena, La., where it was found Thursday afternoon.

The magazines are included in the evidence being held here by state police.

The state police superintendent said that Evey Lee Pratt, chubby 26-year-old former student nurse, admitted during questioning that she tended wounds "Goldie" Hairston, reputed leader of the newest southwest gang-

RAIN SQUALLS DELAY SPANISH FIGHTING

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Rain squalls sweeping over the Bay of Biscay coast today hampered but did not halt the advance of Insurgent General Francisco Franco's legions on Gijon, last government port on the northern coast.

The downpour aided the defense of hardy Asturian miners trying to block the insurgents' westward drive along the coast, but insurgent dispatches said it could not prevent capture of Maxucha peak, dominating the seaboard road to Gijon.

The Asturians lost their positions on the western ridge of the Cuera mountains yesterday. Insurgent advices today stated prisoners disclosed that new trenches were being dug in the mountains near the Sella river.

Franco's men said they had captured a large quantity of munitions from the retreating troops.

Other of Franco's fighters were engaged east of Ribadesella, and a junction with those advancing from the east is sought. Along the seafront insurgent gunboats pounded at outer defenses and fishing ports.

Little aircraft resistance has been offered by the government against the tightening ring of insurgents about Gijon. Franco is using some sixty planes. When five government ships appeared yesterday, they were promptly engaged and shot down.

Nations Adopt Plan To Gun 'Pirates' From Sea Lanes

Chief Responsibilities To Rest On Navies Of Britain And France

WAY REMAINS OPEN FOR ITALY TO PARTICIPATE

Submarine Protocol To The London Treaty Of 1936 Made Criterion

By Joseph E. Sharkey

NYON, Switzerland, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The nine-power Nyon conference tonight adopted a plan to sweep pirate submarines from the Mediterranean sea lanes.

The plan, embodied in a draft protocol, placed prime responsibility for that task on the navies of Britain and France.

But it left the way open for Italian participation on equal terms with the British and French even for possible cooperation in the anti-pirate drive between Italy and Soviet Russia, whose accusations of Italian submarine attacks kept Italy from the council table.

Italian adherence remained uncertain. The conference agreed to invite Rome to enter the patrol, but if Italy declines the others agreed to carry on without her.

The plan did not mention German participation in the Mediterranean patrol. Germany stood aloof with Italy when the latter declined an invitation to Nyon because of Soviet charges that Italian submarines had sunk two Russian merchantmen in the Mediterranean.

Although Soviet Russia was assigned a lesser part in the patrol—given charge of Black sea operations but with the right to send her ships as convoys into the Mediterranean—Maxim Litvinoff, Moscow's foreign commissar, indicated satisfaction with the agreement.

The draft protocol is to be submitted at once to the participating governments for approval. If this is given the delegates will reassemble

Tot Lost In Ozarks 4 Days Relates Fantastic Story

Tiny Florence Jackson Expected To Recover From Harrowing Experiences

BERRYVILLE, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Exhausted but happy as she snuggled close to her mother in a hospital today, four-year-old Florence Jackson of Chelsea, Okla., told a broken and frequently fantastic story of her four days and four nights of wandering, lost, in some of the wildest woodlands of the Ozark mountain country near here.

Physicians who remained constantly at her bedside said she apparently suffered no lasting ill-effects from her strange experience. Bruises and scratches covered her body and the bottoms of her tiny feet were too sore to touch, but she had only a slight cold. She had apparently lost a good deal of weight during her long wanderings but the temperature which she was running when she came out of the woods entirely nude near a farm house late yesterday was gone this morning.

After a night's sleep, she talked in childish treble and disconnected

VACATION ENDS IN CITY MONDAY

All Schools Resuming In Monroe After Long Play Period

After a vacation period of more than three months, schools of city and parish will re-open tomorrow. In every instance, it is expected that there will be considerably increased registrations.

The 140 boys and girls who have been cared for as far as grammar grades are concerned in a private school at the Louisiana Baptist home will all come to Monroe public schools this fall as the institute's school is abandoned. Of this number, 40 will enroll in high school and the remainder will be enrolled in the grammar schools of city and parish.

The Ouachita parish high school, anticipating a large enrollment, will have five new classrooms located on the second floor of the old Peters Furniture building, South Grand and Calypso streets.

The schools of the city of Monroe

MERCHANT OF DELHI CRITICALLY INJURED

VICKSBURG, Miss., Sept. 11.—(AP)—B. L. Bradley, 37-year-old merchant of Delhi, La., was in critical condition in a local hospital tonight after falling down two or three flights of stairs in the city hall. Hospital attaches said he suffered a skull fracture and a fractured leg.

Apparently, no one saw Bradley fall. Officers in the police department on the first floor heard a crashing noise and rushed into the hall just in time to see Bradley roll down the stairs and lie still on his face.

'LITTLE CHICAGO' PICKS CANDIDATES

Mayor Kokinos Opposed For Reelection By 'Bud' Holstein, Jack Humble

They're off! The annual political race is under way in "Little Chicago," mythical municipality east of Five Points that recognizes the remainder of Monroe only as a suburb.

As to the outcome of the campaign, which ends with the municipal election on October 5, no one will venture a guess, much less a prediction. That is, nobody but the present mayor and standard-bearer of the Superplutocrats, Gus Kokinos.

Gus, who is a fearless optimist, is certain he will be re-elected. Claiming everything that is not solidly nailed down, he lists these major accomplishments since he took office last November: a ball park, a new filling station, bus service through the business district of "Little Chicago," electric signs everywhere, new transformers and a wholesale beer firm.

Gus, an ice cream manufacturer and retail grocer, is opposed by W. C. (Bud) Holstein, wholesale coffee dealer and leader of the Acrobats, and Jack L. Humble, concrete contractor and head man of the Plutocrats.

Three men had qualified to run for each of the municipal offices when the deadline was reached at midnight Friday. Besides those of the mayoralty candidates, the ballots will bear these names:

For commissioner of ditches and alleys—Joe Cascio, Acrobats; R. C.

NEW JERSEY GIRL WINS BEAUTY TITLE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—Miss Bertrand Island, N. J., won the title of Miss America, 1937, tonight from 48 other contestants.

Miss Bette Cooper of Hackettstown, N. J., was adjudged victor with Miss Texas, Alice Emerick of Fort Worth, second, and Miss North Carolina, Ruth Carvington of Charlotte, third.

After much indecision the judges eliminated Miss Miami, Miss Irmgard Dietel, and Miss California, Miss Phyllis Randall, who survived the talent contest.

The five girls, all five feet six, had bubbled with happiness a few minutes earlier as photographers crowded about them before the judges called them over for conversation—"to study their intelligence and personality," they said.

Seven thousand persons crowded the amusement pier, a half mile out over the Atlantic ocean, to watch the final tests tonight.

CONDUCTOR KILLED

CORINTH, Miss., Sept. 11.—(AP)—R. I. House, veteran Pullman conductor, lost his life here today when he fell between two coaches while attempting to board the Southern railway's "Memphis Special" as it moved out of here.

POSTAL PUP RESUMES TRAVELS

Resuming his journeys after 40 years of "inactivity," Owney shown above stuffed and wearing the decorations he acquired in a life-time of world-traveling, has been shipped back to Toledo, O., for the postal clerks' convention. It was there in 1897 he was shot by mistake as a mad dog. Many years ago Owney strolled into the Albany, N. Y., postoffice, was adopted by mail clerks and subsequently visited, via mail train and boat, postoffices all over the world. He was decorated by the Japanese emperor.

WILLIAM MORRIS, PIONEER, EXPIRES

Death Ends Long Career Of Former Merchant Of Old Trenton

William L. Morris, for nearly 75 years a resident of Ouachita parish, and a pioneer merchant of Old Trenton before West Monroe was established, died at 6 o'clock Saturday night after a long illness at his home, 402 Natchitoches street, West Monroe. Mr. Morris was in his 79th year. He was born in Catahoula parish January 8, 1859.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Methodist church, West Monroe, Rev. Martin Hebert, pastor of the church officiating, assisted by Rev. H. W. Ledbetter. Burial will be held in the family plot in the old city cemetery, Monroe.

Active pallbearers will be Fred Mitchell, Myatt McClendon, Charlie Noble, Herbert Rhinehart, Clifton Mize, Will Mitchell.

Honorary pallbearers: C. E. Bynum, Sr., C. E. Faulk, R. Downes, Jr., J. W. Wheelis, Henry Hamilton, Dr. Morgan Simonton, Dr. J. W. Murphy, Dr. H. D. Catlett, Ben Belt, A. W. Riggs, Sr., M. M. Munholland, Dr. A. G. McHenry, Jack Morrison, Judge Charles Schulze, N. G. Tippit, R. M. Browning and J. T. Chappell.

Mr. Morris was a son of the late John E. Morris, one of the most prominent figures in the life of Old Trenton, who died in 1914. The family came to Ouachita parish to live when William was a lad of five years. The elder Morris entered the mercantile business and was actively identified with the social, religious and commercial welfare of the community. His son followed in his footsteps at an early age, getting his first training in his father's store. When he was

FAIR WEATHER FOR NEXT WEEK FORECAST

(By Associated Press)

Fair weather forecasts for most of the cotton belt next week pleased planters and processors handling a bumper crop.

Water damage was a source of concern in the mid-south.

How much it would affect national production, estimated by the government at 16,098,000 bales, was a question.

W. H. Jasspon, president of the Merchants Exchange at Memphis, said rainfall in the Mississippi delta was "the most serious since 1906."

Many operators of gins and oil mills placed an embargo on raw cotton and cottonseed and suggested that picking cease until the surplus moisture is dissipated.

R. J. Goode, Alabama agriculture commissioner, urged farmers not to gin wet cotton, warning of damage to lint and "souring" of seed in storage. Rain damage to the state's cotton was estimated at $7,500,000.

Fifty gins in Coahoma county, Miss., and others in Greenville and Marks, Miss., were reported closed.

More favorable conditions prevailed elsewhere and the outlook indicated clearing skies for the affected area.

JAPAN COUNTS 60 DEAD IN TYPHOON

Leaves Hundreds Of Others Injured And Scores Missing Along Coast

TOKYO, Sept. 12.—(Sunday)—(AP)—Japan today counted at least 60 dead in the wake of a 75-mile-an-hour typhoon which scourged her western and southern coasts, injuring hundreds and leaving scores missing.

The gale swept in from the Loochoo islands and yesterday morning struck Shikoku, the southern island, where its ravages were greatest.

At many places the winds coincided with high tides, sweeping walls of water inland, trapping many victims.

Property damage running into millions of dollars was spread from the extreme southwest to the Tokyo-Yokohama area, a swath some 900 miles long.

Shipping suffered heavily. At least one ocean steamer was tossed ashore. It was feared the death list would be considerably increased when all returns are in from the Japanese fishing fleets.

In Shikoku and elsewhere the storm destroyed rice and other grain crops of which part had been counted on to feed the growing Japanese armies in China.

In such great harbors as Osaka, Kobe and Yokohama shipping was at a complete standstill. In Osaka Japan's western metropolis, 600 buildings, including the customs house and marine police headquarters, were inundated.

The 7,000-ton Japanese freighter Lima Maru went aground on the Shikoku coast of the inland sea, but it was believed no lives were lost there.

The Japanese liner Nagasaka reported intercepting a distress call from a ship believed to be American, which first reported herself aground north of Futai island, but later radioed that she had been refloated.

High winds swept through Tokyo but the capital escaped major damage.

LEAKING STEAMER BEACHED BY TUGS

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Tugs beached the steamer Malchace today on the west bank of the Mississippi river after it began taking water through a seam in its side.

The coastwise vessel of the Solvay Process company was being loaded with soda ash and caustic soda when water was discovered leaking into the hold.

Tugs hauled the vessel onto the bank where its stern sank under water as it settled in river mud.

The Malchace is 375 feet long with a displacement of 15,000 tons.

TRICK RIDER KILLED

BAKER, Ore., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Fred Hunt, 35, former world champion trick rider, was found dead at the foot of a 300-foot grade near Halfway, 70 miles east, today, with the wreckage of his automobile and trailer and the torn body of a horse nearby.

'MANAGEMENT' IN SECTION LIKELY TO BE CHANGED IN SHORT TIME

Nipponese Force Strikes Hard All Day Against Collapsing Chinese Front

DEFENDERS RUN THROUGH KNEE-DEEP MUD IN TERROR

Real Resistance Expected To Be Encountered On Tsingchow-Paotingfu Line

By James D. White

PEIPING, Sept. 11.—(AP)—With Japan's seizure of North Hopeh province virtually completed and with Japanese legions bearing the flag of the rising sun steadily farther south, much of north China was expected tonight to reopen soon "under new management."

The Japanese army struck hard against the collapsing Chinese front all day, driving a wedge ten miles south of Machang, where opposing armies have been fighting for weeks.

Tsinghsien, 40 miles south of Tientsin, was captured, Japanese said.

The advance was expected to open the Japanese controlled portions of the Tientsin-Pukow railroad toward the capital and the Peiping-Hankow railroad, important parts of north China transportation systems on which Japan now holds with a tight grip.

Japanese troops began their attack long before sunrise today. They said they had captured all positions around Machang by sunrise and a few hours later stormed its broken ramparts and pursued fleeing Chinese troops through knee-deep mud to Chinghuien.

Chinghsien is 16 miles from the Chinese base at Tsingchow where, Japanese said, an unbroken Chinese line extends westward to Paotingfu. There north China's heaviest artillery and best war equipment now awaits the Japanese advance. Paotingfu is less than 100 miles from the Japanese vanguard.

It is believed here the real north China resistance will come on the attempt to break China's Tsingchow-Paotingfu line.

CASUALTIES HEAVIEST OF WAR THUS FAR

SHANGHAI, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Japan's army, backed by the big guns of her navy, thrust two miles into Chinese lines north of Shanghai today only to be forced to relinquish part of its gains at nightfall by surging Chinese counter attacks.

The drive was launched from the shore of the Yangtz estuary, where Japan for nearly three weeks has been trying to gain a footing for her growing Shanghai army. Its apparent objective was Yanghang, four miles inland from the Wusung forts.

At the end of 24 hours of fighting the Japanese claimed an advance of two miles from their previous positions. They then appeared to hold about one-third of Yanghang. But Chinese later reported they had only reached the outskirts of that town and that counter attackers had driven them back from there.

Chinese rushed heavy reinforcements into the Yanghang battle. The conflict was one of the bitterest and among the most important battles of the four weeks of Shanghai warfare. Casualties on both sides were re-

NEWSPRINT PLANT VIRTUALLY ASSURED

GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Subscription of $250,000 in stock of the East Texas Newsprint mill, to be constructed at Lufkin, was assured by members of the Texas Newspaper Publishers association at the concluding session of its two-day meeting here.

The subscription, officials declared, practically assures early start of construction of the mill, as more than 80 per cent of the required capital has been arranged.

A policy of "more economy and less taxation" was urged by the publishers in a resolution adopted today calling on Governor James V. Allred to ask state legislators to adopt a program of economy and not to add any further burden to Texas taxpayers.

The publishers selected Fort Worth for their annual meeting in February, discussed the proposed campaign to "sell" Texas as a market and agreed to cooperate in the reorganization of the Southwest Vocational school for training printers at Dallas, under the direction of the directors of the Southern School of Printing at Nashville.

Total subscriptions for the proposed newsprint mill at Lufkin have reached $6,250,000, it was declared. The mill will manufacture 50,000 tons of newsprint and 40,000 tons of high grade kraft pulp annually. Officials said that it would mark the beginning of a new era of industrial development for east Texas.

FRESHMEN WILL ATTEND PROGRAM

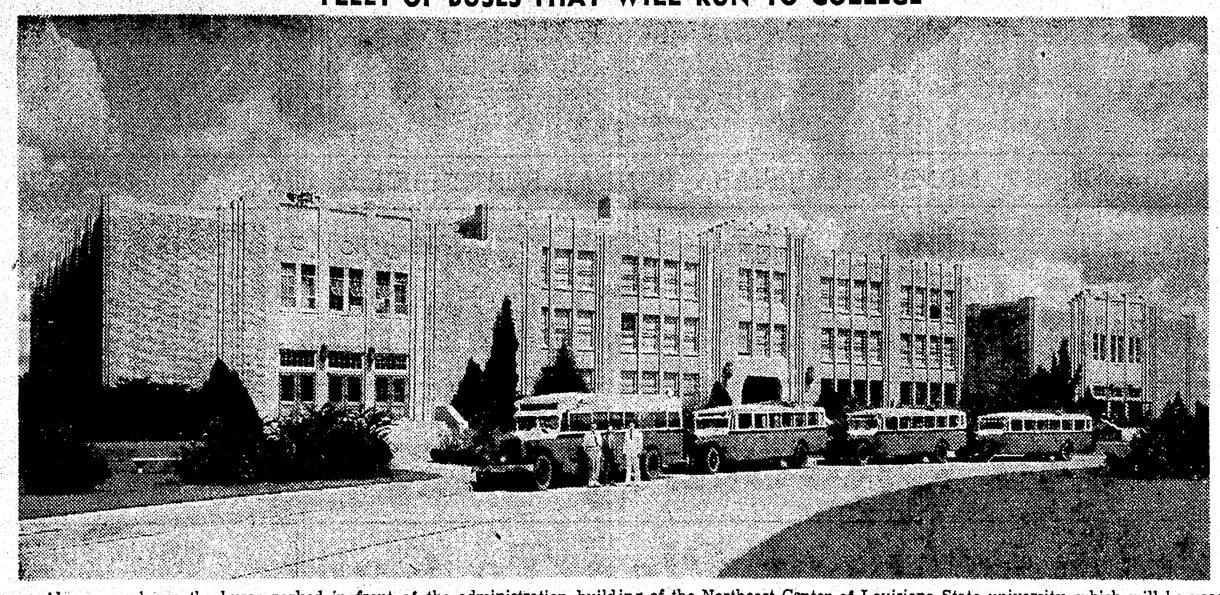
FLEET OF BUSES THAT WILL RUN TO COLLEGE



Above are shown the buses parked in front of the administration building of the Northeast Center of Louisiana State university, which will be used to convey students each day to and from the college here. They are owned and operated by F. K. Carkuff, who also operates the Twin City bus line between Monroe and West Monroe. There will be three lines maintained, one starting at Winnsboro and picking up students at Mangham and Rayville. A second line will start at Delhi and will bring students to the college from along points on the Dixie-Overland highway. The third and last route will be from Jones, La., McGinty community, Bastrop, Mer Rouge and Monroe. The fourth bus will be maintained as an extra or supplementary bus to be utilized in case of an emergency.

SECOND WEEK OF BAPTIST REVIVAL TO START TODAY

Rev. James Kramer, evangelist, will today start the second week of evangelistic services at the First Baptist church. Nightly services have been conducted the past week and there has been a large attendance and unusual interest has been shown in all services.

Rev. Kramer will address the entire Sunday school, beginner and primary departments excepted, on the second floor of the educational building. The Major Memorial Bible class will be host to all other similar classes of Monroe and West Monroe at this service which has been arranged for 9:30 a.m. today.

A large mass meeting has been planned for 3 p.m. at the same place when the public is invited to hear his celebrated address: "What Is the Matter With the American Home?"

His theme at the 11 o'clock service will be: "Sheltering Wings."

LOUISIANA TECH TO OPEN MONDAY

Student Registrations Expected To Reach New High Mark

RUSTON, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—Louisiana Tech's fall semester will begin Monday, with student registrations expected to reach a new high mark. Besides the enrollment procedure, which will precede the beginning of class work on Thursday, a series of orientation activities will be conducted to aid new students in becoming adjusted to college life.

The freshmen will meet in the college auditorium at 9 a.m. Monday. They will be welcomed by President E. S. Richardson, and talks will be given by James Price, Logansport, senior class president and editor of the Tech Talk; Roselyn Stokes, Bunkie, president of the Y. W. C. A., and B. Frank Walker, Cotton Valley, head of the Y. M. C. A. L. J. Fox, chairman of the assembly programs and associate professor of sociology at Tech, will preside.

Preliminary registration of the beginners will be conducted at 9:45 a.m., after which the usual English entrance tests will be given. Students found to be deficient in English through these examinations will be placed in special classes for additional preparatory work.

Freshman girls will meet with Miss Alma Burk, dean of women, and the boys with W. L. Mitchell, dean of men, at 1:30 p.m. on Monday. All of the beginning students will meet again in the auditorium at 2:30 p.m. for assignments to personal advisers, except the engineering students, who will report to the engineering auditorium. A large number of upperclassmen as well as faculty members will assist freshmen who have not decided upon a major subject.

Official registration of first-year students is scheduled for Tuesday, from 8:30-12 a.m. and from 1-4 p.m. The young men's and women's Christian organizations will give a reception at 5 p.m. Tuesday at the home of President and Mrs. Richardson, and the student body will be guests of the Gem theater at 7 p.m.

On Wednesday, tours of the campus will be staged for the freshmen by the upperclassmen, followed by an entertainment to be given near the auditorium by the religious organizations council. At 2 p.m. the students will be guests of the Rialto theater. A tea will be given at 7 p.m. by the home economics department, and a student night program at 8 p.m. in the auditorium will conclude the program for Wednesday.

Events planned for Thursday, when class work will begin, include the traditional log-burning vesper service to be given by the Y. W. C. A. at 6:30 p.m. at the west end of the campus, and a Y. M. C. A. program at the men's dormitory at 6:45 p.m.

A Pan-Hellenic party for all women students will be held in the women's gymnasium at 4 p.m. Friday. The Tech football schedule will open at 8 p.m. Friday. The Tech football team will play Oklahoma City university.

All seniors and juniors will be registered on Monday, September 13, from 8-12 a.m., and sophomores will be enrolled on Wednesday.

Varsity and freshman football players and members of the band were enrolled Friday.

When she dies, an Eskimo woman's knife is buried with her.

BECKER PROVES ABLE EXECUTIVE

Completes Year As Head Of United Electric Service, Inc.

In completing his first year as general manager of United Electric Service, Inc., located at 306 North Third street, G. F. Becker has established an enviable record as an executive and has built up his organization from a personnel of 10 to a staff today of 40 salespeople, expert mechanics and office force.

During the past year United Electric Service, Inc., established a record for Servel-Electrolux refrigerator sales in the southern region, selling more Servel-Electrolux refrigerators above its alloted quota than any other distributor in the southern region. This record won for the company the Servel-Electrolux factory trophy.

United Electric Service, Inc., now leads in this territory in the number of sales of Delco units including Delco light plants, batteries, radios and water systems. This record was achieved notwithstanding the fact that New Orleans distributors are included in the United Electric Service, Inc., territory. Sales of Delco units during the past year exceeded that of any of the 25 distributors in the territory.

Since United Electric Service, Inc., came under the management of Mr. Becker it has added to its stock of merchandise the well-known Sherman gas ranges, Progress vacuum cleaners, a number of automotive lines and installed new equipment in practically every department.

Besides selling Servel-Electrolux refrigerators, Sherman gas ranges, Delco products and other lines, United Electric Service, Inc., has the most completely equipped automotive department in north Louisiana under the supervision of expert factory trained men. This department offers a complete check-up service on all makes of automobiles and employs equipment valued at more than $4,000 in its operations.

Mr. Becker, on the occasion of his first anniversary as general manager of United Electric Service, Inc., extends his thanks to the public in the territory for its cooperation in making the past year a successful one for his company. Mr. Becker is a service engineer and before coming to Monroe was in charge of equipment sales in nine states and worked out of New Orleans and Atlanta, Ga.

FINDER OF FLAWS SCANS V-8 PARTS

Devise Invented To Test Airplane Engines Now Used In Ford Plants

DEARBORN, Mich., Sept. 11.—(Special)—A device invented to safeguard the lives of airline passengers now is testing Ford V-8 parts for flaws invisible even under a microscope.

The device requires only iron dust and electricity to bring into plain sight cracks in the metal so tiny they defy detection by any other method of inspection.

The method has proved so successful in "finding accidents before they happen" that the bureau of aeronautics urged its use on all vital parts of airplanes and engines. Ford engineers believe they are the first to bring this safety measure into the automobile field.

The apparatus is simple to operate. It consists of a powerful coil of new design, which quickly magnetizes the part to be tested. The operator then dusts the part with iron powder. The powder piles up in plain view along the entire length of any flaw in the metal.

"A crack too small to be detected otherwise still is large enough to split the magnetic field," one of the Ford technicians said. "The field is positive on one side of the flaw and negative on the other. The iron dust therefore is drawn at once to the flaw and makes it plainly visible."

Minute cracks are caused occasionally in steel by uneven cooling after heat treatment, he explained. Usually they are not deep enough to cause trouble during the normal life of the car, as Ford parts are built with a wide margin of safety, but any part showing the slightest defect is thrown out.

"This new equipment is the latest of many steps we are taking to insure long life and freedom from trouble in the Ford V-8," the engineer continued. "It enables us to reduce the chances of part breakage to a minimum.

"The proportion of rejected parts is small, because of the high quality of the steel used in Ford cars and the advanced methods employed in treating it. The new test is helping us make the standard still higher."

A feature of the new flaw finder is its adaptability to mass production technique. Parts sent through the magnetizer are placed in an oil bath containing iron powder. Any crack is disclosed instantly to the inspectors since the oil makes the line of powder, which collects along the flaw, visible at a glance.

Faulty parts are discarded and the others move through a demagnetizing coil and to the assembly line.

Ford Opens 'Roads of World'

CONSULS of foreign countries and good roads association representatives took part recently in dedication of the "Roads of the World," a half-mile roadway comprising reproductions of 18 world famous highways, newest feature at the Ford Rotunda, gateway to the Ford Rouge plant at Dearborn, Mich. Photo shows A. O. Bray, acting British consul at Detroit, scattering on the road actual road material brought from the Grand Trunk Road of India, the ancient highway which traverses fabled Khyber Pass and once the route of Alexander's legions. In the party are Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company; Wallace R. Campbell, president of Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited; Edward N. Hines, "father" of the good roads movement, and representatives of countries represented in the roads.

CHRYSLER SALES HEAD PRODUCES 'MINIATURE CAR'

Joseph W. Frazer, vice-president in charge of sales of the Chrysler division, Chrysler corporation, had some very definite ideas about what he wanted in a small town car for his personal use. Accordingly, in collaboration with Chrysler engineers and the Derham Body Works of Rosemont, Pa., he put these ideas into effect and in so doing achieved one that combines the smartest of lines with handling ease and spryness.

The chassis of a Chrysler Imperial convertible sedan, with 121 inches wheelbase and an eight-cylinder engine, was used in producing the "miniature town car." The passenger compartment is covered by a silk mohair top of original design and is lined with taupe Bedford cord. A sliding glass partition separates this compartment from the driver's seat. Interior fittings are complete and tasteful, including a radio control in the rear quarter panel on the right-hand side and cigar lighters of the type that automatically emerge from their sockets when hot.

The driver's compartment is finished in black leather. In inclement or cold weather a canopy protects that compartment and with the windows raised it becomes as snug as a sedan.

Because of the special supplementary frame used in all Chrysler convertible models, the miniature town car is as rigid and permanently free from noises as a closed model, while the convertible design permits the use of exceptionally sleek and swanky lines. Two fog lights, mounted below the regular headlamps on the front end, add to the smart appearance of the car. They are extremely useful, too, in driving along the seacoast where summer fogs are prevalent.

The "miniature" town car has been in use by Mr. Frazer's family in their Newport, R. I., home this summer and has attracted much attention in that fashionable resort, so much so that Mr. Frazer has had several offers to sell it for considerably more than it cost. The Chrysler division does not intend to put this model into production but will receive orders for it as a custom job.

OLDS SALES SET ALL-TIME RECORD

Retail Deliveries For Month Of August Show 38 Per Cent Increase

Oldsmobile's retail sales during August of this year established a new all-time high record for the month, showing an increase of more than 38 per cent over the same period of 1936, according to figures released today by D. E. Ralston, Oldsmobile's general sales manager.

During the past month, Oldsmobile dealers delivered 16,978 new sixes and eights to customers, as compared with 12,262 cars delivered during August, 1936.

Retail sales for the last 10 days of August totaled 5,035 units, an increase of 827 cars over the 4,208 Oldsmobiles sold at retail during the final 10-day period of August, 1936. From January 1 through August 31 of this year, Oldsmobile retail sales totaled 146,700 new cars, a substantial increase over the first eight months of 1936.

Mrs. Sallie Humble Lauded In Resolution By Fellow Workers

A committee from the Monroe City Teachers' association, appointed by Paul Neal, president, met the past week to express their appreciation of the worthy work and inspirational life of Mrs. Sallie Humble, member of their organization, who is at this time retiring from the teaching staff of the Central Grammar school and from the teaching profession.

The resolution reads as follows:

"WHEREAS: Mrs. Sallie Humble, member of this association, is the first of its members to retire under the new state retirement plan, after a long life of unselfish service to the public,

"THEREFORE, be it resolved: It seems fitting that at this time the members of the Monroe City Teachers' association pay special tribute to this member who has taught faithfully in the city system for many years and has always rendered gracious, efficient, and unselfish service. Her pupils loved and respected her and appreciated her training for right ideals and for substantial character that should help to make happy and successful lives possible for them. She possessed a rare understanding of the joys and problems of childhood because there was a time when she valiantly carried on as home-maker, mother and teacher. Mrs. Humble's splendid success, her gentle charm, and her brave and cheerful life, will continue to serve as an inspiration to each of us, the members of the Monroe City Teachers' association."

AUTO THIEVES TRADE CARS WITH LOCAL MAN

Malcolm S. Biedenharn believes that "a fair exchange is no robbery" but when he walked into his driveway at 1801 Pargoud boulevard Saturday morning with the intention of driving his automobile to town and saw a strange machine parked in the place where he had left his Buick coupe Friday night, he felt that the proverb had been misapplied, particularly when it developed that the automobile was a stolen car.

Mr. Biedenharn reported the theft of his automobile to the Monroe police and when officers investigated the machine which had been swapped for his own, they discovered that it was a stolen car which had been taken in Beaumont, Tex., and driven to Monroe.

The Monroe police described Mr. Biedenharn's car as painted a tan color and carried Louisiana license 272-834.

FURNISHINGS FINE AT WILLIAMSBURG

150th Anniversary Of American Constitution Recalls Taste Of Past

When all America joins in celebrating the 150th anniversary of the American constitution on next Friday, September 17, much of the interest resulting from this national event will center on old Williamsburg and the Virginia colony, because of the important figures in the constitutional convention who were Virginia delegates. For many months past, Williamsburg has claimed attention of interior decorators, home furnishings authorities and all lovers of fine furniture, supplying inspiration for a new trend in home decoration.

The nation-wide celebration in honor of the constitution's sesquicentennial will last more than a year and a half, climaxing on April 30, 1939, with the 150th anniversary of George Washington's inauguration as president of the United States. Each of the 13 original states will hold an individual celebration on the anniversary of its ratification of the constitution, and other important dates during that formative period will be observed.

Williamsburg and the whole aristocratic Virginia colony will come in for a major share of interest during this celebration, for their delegates to the constitutional convention are among those honored today as the founders of our democracy.

George Washington, who represented Virginia and served as president of the convention, spent much time as a young man in Williamsburg; James Madison, called "father of the constitution," was another Virginia delegate, John Blair, who signed the constitution for that state, was born in Williamsburg.

There were other Virginians, of course—famous men—who objected to the constitutional convention and refused to support it. Patrick Henry, who secured his license to practice law in Williamsburg, was chosen a delegate from Virginia and declined the honor, framing his refusal in words of unmistakable opposition to the objectives of the convention. George Mason, Washington's neighbor, attended the convention but did not sign the constitution, deeming some parts of it dangerous and fearing a monarchy might be set up under it. Edmund Randolph, Williamsburg-born and prominent Virginia delegate, objected to the powers conferred on the president and the senate, and likewise refused to sign the constitution.

These early Virginians were men of strong character and equally strong opinions, and supported or opposed a cause with tremendous intensity. They had decided feelings in other affairs than politics, too, as exemplified by the houses and furnishings of Williamsburg during its period of glory. To find a place in the aristocratic homes of that old city, furniture had to be beautiful—and completely practical. For in spite of the strong influence of England on the Virginia colony, life there was hard and dangerous and the wilderness of the New World was still savage and almost unbroken. There was no place for elegant uselessness in this gay colonial town, but there was a background of culture, a love of classic beauty that distinguished the furnishings of Williamsburg homes.

And the same is true today of modern Williamsburg furnishings which are pointing the way to a new trend in home decoration. Twentieth-century Americans appreciate the hardy practicality of Williamsburg pieces, tempered by the symmetry of classic designs, and they choose modern Williamsburg furniture all the more readily because its construction is so lasting.

SAM DANNA BACK FROM PALERMO

Returns From Trip Made To Native Land; Had Good Voyage

Sam B. Danna, 721 DeSiard street, arrived in Monroe on a morning Illinois Central railroad train, Saturday, after an absence of more than 10 weeks in which he paid a visit to his native Italy.

He sailed on the Italian liner Rex from New York to Palermo, on June 26, and the return was made on the Conte de Sovoia, of the same line. He arrived in New York early Thursday and hurried to take the first train for Monroe.

"It sure is good to be back to Monroe," he said upon arrival, "although I had a fine time in Italy."

Mr. Danna is a naturalized American citizen and has lived in this country for 37 years. His last trip to his native land was paid 10 years ago. His chief desire this time was to visit his father, now 86 years old, who is his only close relative now living in the home country.

He said Palermo, a city of 500,000 people, was more beautiful than ever and had improved much since the last time he was there. He saw many of his relatives and friends and reported that conditions seem good in Italy. Everybody is working, although pay is very small, he said.

GETS HOTEL POST

Mires R. Jackson, for some time manager of Hotel Frances, and later manager of a large hotel in El Paso, Tex., has just accepted the position of manager of Hotel Gardner in Shreveport. He will remove with his family to that city at once, it was stated Saturday. Mr. Jackson said that he had received offers of the management of larger hotels in the north but that he preferred to remain in the south.

A Man's Home Life

Among the list of questions which a certain bonding company asks concerning a man who applies to them for a surety bond is, "Is the applicant's domestic life happy?"

It is plain that this cold-blooded company which is in the business of bonding persons so that their employers will be protected from loss by embezzlement of funds entrusted to them, feels that the state of a man's domestic affairs plays an important part in his reliability. Is his home life happy? If it is not, assuredly he is not as good a risk as if it were.

The man whose domestic life is in a state of disturbance cannot be at his best. Furthermore, his sense of proportion, his conception of moral values may be sadly distorted. His judgment may be seriously impaired. He is not as good a risk as he would be if his home life were serene.

And it does not matter if the man himself is not to blame. If his marital companion is the one at fault, the man is nevertheless impaired. A man whose life partner is cutting up high jinks is not as good a business executive or a ditchdigger as he would be if she were doing her duty by him; while if the man himself is on the down grade, if he is in a state of mesmerism about some illegitimate charmer, then he is still worse off. Not only is his mental state below par, but his moral principles are off center. Under such a spell he might do anything. He might do that which would horrify him when he came to himself.

There is nothing which so strengthens and steadies a man as a wholesome, happifying home life; and there is nothing which so demoralizes and weakens him as an unhealthy home life. And, to repeat, it makes little difference who is to blame—the effects are there just the same. Persons who know human nature will place little dependence in the man whose home life is on the rocks.

Married couples who desire to make progress in this world should intelligently guard the state of their domestic life. They should make it their mutual business to keep their home affairs soundly constructive. If one goes down the other is certain to be hurt.

TIME-TABLE FLYING

Principles similar to those which have given the reassuring character of routine to regularly scheduled cross-Pacific flights have triumphed once more in the preliminaries to trans-Atlantic air service. It is scarcely to be questioned that winged communication between America and Europe will shortly be cleared of any stigma of stunt flying or melodramatic exploitation with the accent on personality.

China clippers have already demonstrated what can be done in commercial aviation on the basis of rigid tests, scientific preparation and authoritative and impersonal operation. For the past nine months time tables have been observed with admirable fidelity on the San Francisco-Manila air run, via Honolulu, and Midway, Wake and Guam islands, and since last November, the weekly interchange in both directions has been extended to Macao and Hongkong. Hundreds of passengers have been carried without a single fatality. The general public has been unaware of the name of pilot of mechanicians functioning on this schedule, just as it has been oblivious to the identity of engineers or stokers on railways trains.

Commercial flying is being accepted as a matter of course with a realization that new routes will not be opened until fully studied and serviced by the finest and most dependable equipment. Up to the present the Atlantic has furnished the chief obstacle to a systematic globe girdling devoid of dramatization. Today the splendidly appointed clippers that have passed between the Newfoundland and Ireland "stations" give promise of a sane and secure further development of air transport reduced to a minimum of sensationalism and raised to a maximum of security.

AN UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY

A favorite legend, once written into a popular novel, is that somewhere in the world there persists the remnant of prehistoric ages, a land untouched by time and unvisited by modern man. It is surprising to learn that an unexplored plateau exists in the United States, never invaded or surveyed, though within sight of a perpetual parade of curious tourists.

In Grand Canyon National park, Arizona, stands the inaccessible plateau known as Shiva temple. Its outer sides are sheer cliffs of sandstone. The plateau is heavily wooded, but it is unknown what kind of animal life may exist on it. An expedition sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History, of New York City, has been granted permission to scale the cliffs and find out. There is some possibility that strange creatures may exist there, whose remote ancestors were cut off from the rest of the animal kingdom by erosion of ages ago.

There is a haunting possibility, however, that the scientific explorers may struggle up the cliffs, cutting a trail as they go, to be met at the top by a billboard advertisement for soap or cigarettes. They may find in the forests of Shiva temple the self-evident remains of a picnic party, including pop bottles and peanut shells. The little "lost continent" of the Grand canyon may not be so lost as it seems. There should be some place in the world where the foot of man has never trod, but it is hard to believe it lies in Arizona.

WILD WEED

By Helen Welshimer

I CANNOT name the weeds and growing grasses
That idly gossip with the tousled breeze,
But now that autumn comes and summer passes
They tell me of a plant there is in these

THAT all the year men mow and burn and ravage
To find it grows the faster after pain;
Tenaciously, soil-clinging, greenly savage,
It comes again to tryst with sun and rain.

THE gentler blossoms that the meadows cherish
Lie briefly sweet and cloistered for a while,
In symmetry of magic that must perish—
The unprotected marches mile on mile!

ALTHOUGH my scuffled weed is never wanted,
I brave the wrath of gardeners to proclaim
I bow to vigor that will rise undaunted
In weed, love, faith, consistently the same!

MENTAL MEASUREMENTS

By BRUCE CATTON

So stealthily is the burden of civilization shifted from the aging generation onto the backs of its children that the change rarely is perceptible. Fortunately, there are a few distinct mileposts along the road to the future, and one of them—the opening of colleges and universities for fall terms—is directly at hand for close observation.

If every adult properly fulfilled his duty to posterity, he would interest himself in the processes by which thousands of high school graduates are permitted to proceed with higher courses of training for service as leaders in the arts, professions, trades and sciences.

Along with the thrilling experience of actually seeing the wheel of time and circumstance start a new revolution, the observer would get an eyeful of just how much progress we are not making in teaching boys and girls how to live and make a living.

There is, for instance, the report of an eastern college after its study of about 500 applications for admission. The 1937 model male freshman, the report says, will be 18 years and six months old, five feet 10 inches tall, and will weigh about 152 pounds.

These figures, showing an increase in physical proportions over freshmen of previous years, will be great news for the athletic coaching staff. But their significance for the rest of the faculty, for the student himself, and for civilization in general is negligible.

Beyond listing the physical measurements and seeing that high school grades meet certain standards, the registrar's figures usually leave the freshman an unknown quantity as far as his affinity for building bridges, researching in botany or mastering constitutional law is concerned.

And the likelihood is that he will remain an unknown quantity until he muddles through one or more years of his course, or until he blunders onto his "chosen" field or is led to it by the rare teacher who regards his job as somewhat more than a daily 50-minute lecture to each class.

The college performs a great service in spreading its groaning table of intellectual fare before the freshman. And the 18-year-old contributes his part, in most cases, with ambition and determination to make good at something or other.

Failure to pin down that "something or other" is the gap on the production line in mass education. The job is only half done when the physician's staff weighs and measures the newcomer and the college prexy welcomes him at the orientation assembly.

The wheel of progress will turn ever more swiftly and more efficiently when institutions of higher education seriously attempt to learn what's above a prospective freshman's neck as well as what's below it.

A BOOK REVIEW

TOURING INDUSTRIAL SLUMS OF AMERICA

Those who followed carefully and in detail the revelations of the LaFollette civil liberties committee will find little new in Clinch Calkins' "Spy Overhead." The book is a summary of the grubbier examples of industrial espionage turned up by that committee, illuminted by Miss Calkins' frequently acute comment.

The LaFollette slumming expedition into the tenderloin of industrial relations was a dramatic production directed by Senator LaFollette. Miss Calkins has collected and strung together a bunch of the more odorous morsels.

Three hundred detective agencies in the country do industrial work, Miss Calkins indicates, and the amount of the "overhead" for this kind of work may be guessed from the fact that Pinkerton's alone was paid $419,000 by General Motors in 31 months.

The technique of spying, of disrupting unions by detectives planted within them, of the agent provocateur, of professional strike-breaking by "finks, nobles, hookers, sluggers, missionaries and ropers," of the tear gas business, of blacklisting, of the manipulation of public opinion, all are discussed.

The cream of the jest to Miss Calkins is found in those instances where detective agencies shamelessly mulcted the industries that employed them, by padded expense accounts, shadowy activities with no reality, and exaggerated reports aimed quite successfully at scaring more spy-money out of jittery employers.

Miss Calkins has contrived, with senatorial assistance, a thrilling personally-conducted tour of the industrial underworld.—W. T.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

Some years ago—about fifteen I should say—I used to pass along the Grand Concourse on way to Hunter Island inn, Woodmansten and other rather lively spots in the New Rochelle direction.

The Concourse was then in the first throes of a building boom but its structures were scattered, Mostly old frame shacks, vacant lots, sometimes with goats, and refuse heaps. The Edgar Allan Poe cottage was in a scrub-by little park, seldom having visitors.

The other night I passed along the Concourse and beheld again the growing miracle of New York. One of the city's widest boulevards, it is now lined on either side with enormous modernistic apartment houses. The subway has tunnelled there.

With roadside parks on either side filled with benches, there are full grown trees and a wide display of shrubberies and flowers. Thousands of home dwellers were out on the benches enjoying a sort of domesticity little known to down-town New York. Not only was the Concourse built up, but down side streets as far as the eyes could see were apartment houses.

There were enormous movie places, fine department stores an array of spic specialty shops. Indeed, in almost no time another giant city has attached itself to the metropolis. The little Poe Park has now a tremendous esplanade and is filled with several thousand people, strolling or resting on the comfortable benches.

Every corner had its traffic cop, so steady and large is the constant stream of motor cars. And so far as I could notice there were very few open spaces between the Bronx and New Rochelle.

Grand street, which is the lower East Side Broadway, has a block almost entirely given over to bridal costumes. The windows are filled with blushing waxen brides aflow with long trains. The trade is not confined to the section. Many come from uptown to be outfitted as, bridal styles change but little and Grand street prices are lower.

One of Coney Island's big problems is the lost child. Scarcely a day passes without one or several vanishing temporarily without trace. Always they are believed drowned. But in almost every case they have merely wandered and have soon been picked up by the police. Incidentally, Coney had the best season since the depression, this summer. Many concessionaries who had decided to have one more try before quitting are happy they did, for they are back in the chips.

In the vicinity of Columbia on Riverside Drive in the late eventing the benches fill with scholarly gentlemen who watch the flow of motor traffic and the river craft. They are professors at Columbia and live in the neighborhood. Many are gentle, self-effacing souls who suggest the immortalized "Mr. Chips."

A book that fascinated me is Gelett Burgess' "Look Eleven Years Younger." Burgess has the liveliest mind I know in the writing world and this book proves it. It's different. Incidentally, Hollywood scouts might do worse than interview Miss Eve Lyn, an unprofessional model whose animated and comprehending poses enliven the tone. It strikes me that they might find in her that rara avis, a genuine female comedienne.

One of the tough ones for the radio announcers is the line of coast planes called "Sky Sleepers." One unfortunate today spoke of the "Sky Speaker" and in an effort to recover himself fairly shrieked "Sly Keaker."

Air accidents have odd reactions in bookings. In most instances after a fatal crack-up, there is no falling off in passengers for several days. Then there is a slight lull. The air lines have had much success in admitting that several big disasters have taken place, but showing that by comparison to the number carried the results are no worse than with other modes of travel.

The struggles of artists in portraying costumes and machines of the year 2,000 are interesting. They usually effect a Robin Hood nonchalance. All agree, however, that the stiff collar is doomed. In the comic strips, pseudo-scientific, the hero always has a feather in his hat, so the mysterious future should not daunt us. But the authors have their own problems in naming people of the future—Martians, Venusians and Space people generally. The rule seems to be: Go back to primitive people with short names full of consonants. Here are a few names from one of the short story magazines dealing with the astounding: Bern Hedan, Jex Bartol, Urnas, Orca Sanla, Fang, Olaf Morga, Zeefug, Vall, Lok, Jibso, Doron Welles, Moob and Snarth.

STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein

MORE than 250 years after his time, true recognition is coming to Joost van Vondel, the greatest of all Dutch writers and the Shakespeare of his nation. Here is the story of a man who, though the greatest poet of his age, is scarcely known on this side of the Atlantic.

One reason for the comparative neglect of Vondel has been the failure of the Dutch to translate his works. It is only now that translations are being made and the real depth of the man is becoming apparent.

Vondel was as much of a political writer as was Milton, but while Milton was a pamphleteer, Vondel expressed his political views figuratively in his poetical works. His greatest work is "Lucifer," the drama which places him in a category with Shakespeare. Unfortunately, however, he is little remembered for his equally notable prose.

Born in 1587 in Cologne, the son of a merchant, a Baptist who had fled from Antwerp to escape the Spanish Inquisition, Vondel moved to Amsterdam when he was 9. It appears that he began writing early. Honored in the last year, Vondel's portrait appears on a Dutch stamp, portraying him as a scholar.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

(Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine)

Because of the relationship of the thyroid to other glands, extracts of the thyroid have been prepared in pure form and are used in the treatment of many different diseases.

If a person who has developed the condition called myxedema, which is the result of lack of thyroid extract, is given some of the artificial extract, he begins to feel better immediately.

In a few days he becomes warmer and less sleepy; his thoughts, his speech and his muscle movements become more rapid; fluid begins to disappear from his body due to the action of the thyroid on the kidneys; the skin is stimulated to growth and peeling takes place; the hair loses its thick, coarse texture and grows faster.

There is nothing more dramatic in medicine than the effects of thyroid extract given to a myxedematous dwarf or a cretin. In case of overweight due to lack of thyroid secretion, the results are equally striking.

In many of these cases the fat begins to increase considerably immediately after childbirth and the fat accumulates particularly on the hips, buttocks, thighs and breasts.

It is necessary in every instance to make certain that the overweight is definitely of the thyroid type. The administration of extra thyroid for the control of overweight not of that type may produce symptoms of extra thyroid action which are far more serious than the overweight itself. In such cases, the rapidity of the heart, the nervousness, irritability, warmth and sweating are indications and warnings of the danger.

In certain skin diseases with severe dryness of the skin, thyroid extract is sometimes used to advantage, and it is frequently given to pregnant women in order to supply the extra material that they need at this time.

The disease most definitely related to the thyroid gland, beyond the signs of its overactivity or underactivity, is the condition called goiter. Goiters are of two main types—the simple enlargement of the gland and the enlargement which is associated with excessive action.

Whenever the thyroid gland is insufficient to supply enough thyroid secretion to the human body, it enlarges. Sometimes this enlargement occurs because the body is getting an insufficient amount of iodine; in other instances, it occurs because the gland itself is insufficient.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—There is another art war in the national capital, arising out of the charge by Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri that a painting of heroic size in the capitol rotunda showed two little girls having five hands—one more than you would suppose—and that another painting features an Indian with six toes.

Howard Chandler Christy and his "Miss America" model listened in the gallery as Clark asked the senate not to accept Christy's painting of the signing of the constitution without inspecting it closely or heaven knows what they might find. Mr. Christy was not pleased by the inference that he might inadvertently have inserted a three-legged James Madison or an extra ear on a Pinckney.

Clark afterward took some news men around to the rotunda to prove his point. He proved it to his own satisfaction, but the rest of us are divided.

It's Just A Bunion

The two little girls were daughters of Governor Charles Carroll of Maryland, and guides, insisting they are perfectly normal, say the fifth hand obviously is that of a powder-wigged gent directly behind them. The painting is "Washington Resigning as Commander-in-Chief."

The other picture is "Baptism of Pocahontas," and the Indian Clark referred to is the brother of Pocahontas. Guards have a harder time with this one, but they suggest that the sixth item is no toe, but doubtless an oversized bunion.

And on the other hand, who is Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri to declare with certainty that the brother of Pocahontas wasn't born with six toes?

Rules Forbade Drinking

WPA officials secretly are rather proud of the way the workers' alliance people who "marched" here 2,500 strong to demand reinstatements and no further WPA cuts behaved themselves while here. Most of them were workers discharged from WPA art, theater, music and other cultural projects, some of them still WPA workers and others just sympathizers. About two-thirds were "white collar" workers.

Harry Hopkins and an assistant administrator made an unannounced visit to their cot-and-tent camp at midnight, found quite a few kneeling in prayer before retiring.

Officials were especially pleased, however, to find complete cleanliness in all places where the "marchers" had camped or held meetings. Rain poured down upon them, but there was little grumbling. Citizens who went down to Potomac park at night to offer drinks or beds uptown to rain-soaked men and women gathered around campfires were advised that rules forbade drinking and leaving camp.

There were no disturbances of any kind. Captain Carroll of the park police was courteous and helpful to the "marchers," in contrast with the capitol police, who kept groups of them standing for hours on stairways with the vague and unkept promise that they might get into the senate gallery where dozens of vacant seats awaited them.

The WPA officials were convinced that the visitors had pride in their WPA jobs—or ex-jobs—and were enthusiastic about their projects. In fact, they privately expressed the idea that they were "pretty good people."

When Sidney Robert Elliott, British co-operative leader and editor of "Reynolds News," visited this country recently, he and Mrs. Elliott had a date to see Mrs. Roosevelt at Hyde Park. The first lady met them at the train.

They've been expressing admiring astonishment ever since over the fact that their hostess stopped at stores on the way home and personally bought her vegetables and meat for dinner.

Soldier Comes First

Many of the Japanese military officers now making headlines in China are former students of Senator Elbert D. Thomas of Utah, who went to Japan more than 30 years ago as a Mormon missionary. Thomas was delighted when his first lecture on Mormonism in Tokyo drew a capacity audience. Then someone explained to him that his listeners were not likely converts, but young military students from a high-hat university who wanted to test their understanding of English.

Later Thomas tutored many of these high-born young men. He had many good words to say for the Japanese. And also the comment:

"China places the scholar first and the soldier last. Japan places the soldier first and the scholar second."

BOY SCOUTS ENJOY CAMP AND BOAT RIDE

RAYVILLE, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—Monroe and Tallulah Boy Scouts were the guests of the Rayville Scouts on a two-night boating and camping trip to Starlington. The trip was made on the "Chuckle," the boat owned by George B. Franklin and captained by L. V. deGruy. Mr. Franklin furnished the boat without any cost whatsoever to the Scouts.

Father M. R. Gremillion, Scoutmaster of troop one of Monroe, and troop 43, of Rayville, was in charge. Scoutmaster Tom Wafer of troop 67 of Sterlington, came on board to welcome the scouts.

The 31 scouts who enjoyed the outing were: troop one of Monroe: Llewlyn Crider, Bill Geiger, Frank O'Brien, Harold McMillam, Walter B. Crider, Louis Ladart, Sam Danna, Mike Elioff, Harold Geiger, Marvin DuBos, Filhiol Breard; troop 56 of Tallulah: Jim Folk, Ralph Linton, Percy Benjamin, Bruce Tyner; troop 43 of Rayville; Tommy Christian, George Ballas, W. M. Temple, Ben Ratcliff, Eugene Oliver, Norman Nunnally, Fred Christian, Billy Gambrel, Fred Jones, Joe Vernon Boles, Thomas Rushing, Gerald Harrigill, Tom Perkins, Benny Christian, Dewey Baker and Fred Kirk.

ster band, received in a gun battle with Gulfport officers.

"She admitted washing out his wounds and bandaging them up," Guerre said.

Hairston's nude, bullet-pierced body was found Thursday near Jena, La. Relatives buried him today in Arkansas.

Then followed the dawn raid by federal agents and Louisiana and Mississippi officers on the gang hideout in the swamps south of Vidalia, near Deer Park, La. Seven persons, two white men and two white women, and two negro men and a negro woman, were taken in the raid and quick, unexpected captures in the nearby area.

All seven were brought here to the East Baton Rouge parish jail with a quantity of ammunition, medical supplies and personal effects.

Names of the seven were listed at parish prison as Woodward and Robert Graham, 60-year-old Concordia parish police juror, who Guerre said owned the hideout shack; Miss Pratt and another white woman, Gladys Stamp, 24; and three negroes, Leon Boxley, 29, Ernest Jackson, 21, and Rosie Filmore, 60.

Two deputy sheriffs from Upshur county, Tex., where Woodward is believed wanted for bank robbery, arrived here late this afternoon to question him, Guerre reported, however, that the Texas officers failed to identify him.

"Woodward tells us that he was having something to eat at a hamburger stand at Gulfport when the shooting took place," Guerre said. "He claims he didn't have a gun and that the others drove by and picked him up, making him take the wheel.

"Then, after they hit a dead-end street and turned around, Woodward says they had a flat tire and the others made him get out and change tires. He took the wheel from there on."

The negro woman told her questioners, Guerre said, that she was Graham's cook. "She gave us a lot of leads," he added.

Guerre said his men had finished their questioning for the day but would resume tomorrow morning, starting with Miss Pratt.

"She's ready to break," said the state police chief. "I think we'll get it all out of her tomorrow."

The Gulfport chief of police and the county attorney for Harrison county, Miss., were to arrive here tomorrow to join in the questioning. They will attempt to determine the circumstances concerning the death of Patrolman J. O. Wolff of Gulfport, who was fatally shot in attempting to halt the gangsters' automobile.

TOT LOST 4 DAYS RELATES STORY

phrases of her tramp as a babe in the woods.

Local officers listened closely to everything she said in view of the theory that she might have been temporarily abducted, but it was difficult to distinguish between actual experience and what she might have dreamed in fitful slumber in the forest.

When she wandered away from her parents last Monday afternoon, she related, she realized she was lost and called "for mother to come get me."

"I wanted to go to grandfather's house to go buggy-riding," she said.

As hundreds combed the wooded hillsides for her, she wandered deeper and deeper into the tangled growth.

One night, she said, she slept on a log, or inside a log. When darkness fell again, she told of climbing a tree. Another night she recalled sleeping on a flat rock "and I caught a cold and called for mother to come."

Once she hid in the woods when she saw two strange men—probably members of the searching party.

She told of spending one of the nights in a house deep in the forest "after a black man and woman picked me up and took me there."

She related that "they put me on a cot that night and then gave me breakfast and told me to go on."

"I was mad and hit them with my hands," she said.

Whether she dreamed this, it was impossible to say. She insisted the man and woman were negroes, but no negroes live in the hills.

After her story, she slept again.

A mighty search in which 700 persons participated came to a dramatic conclusion yesterday when the haggard, naked child stumbled into a Missouri farm house north of here, just seven miles from the spot where she disappeared last Monday.

Rushed to a hospital here after a reunion with her hysterically happy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Chelsea, Okla., the red-haired, blue-eyed tot asked simply for a drink of water. Given that and some warm milk, she fell into fitful slumber.

Scratches from briars dotted her legs and feet and her hair was almost a mass of burrs but examining physicians said she would recover unless she developed pneumonia.

Sheriff Tom Morris, who went with the parents to the farm home of A. W. Goodwin, 25 miles north of here, told how the child was found.

"She called across Indian creek to Mrs. Goodwin," he said, "and Mrs. Goodwin crossed and brought her to her home. She had a tomato and some sheep sorrell (an edible weed) in her hand and said she had been eating them and wild grapes.

"She didn't have a stitch of clothes on when she showed up at the farm house. She told the Goodwins that her dress got wet and mussed up and that she threw it away."

Sheriff Morris said the child had not been harmed while lost in the wild, mountainous region.

ported heaviest of any single battle thus far.

In the early stages of their drive the Japanese were aided greatly by big guns aboard their warships, their field batteries and airplanes. But that advantage was lost once they gained the town, where the Chinese swarmed forward to engage them hand to hand.

Fighting continued far into the night, with the outcome still in the balance.

A Chinese military spokesman said the action constituted a major Japanese offensive, evidently resigned to break the Chinese lines along the 20-mile front from Woosung to Liuho. Japanese forces from Woosung, Liuho and Lotien were said to have converged on Yanghang in the drive.

Shanghai passed another day of death and terror. Japanese aviators in bombing raids over the Chinese districts of Nantao, Chapei and Lunghua dealt heavy punishment.

Mayor O. K. Yui of Shanghai announced that in Lunghua alone 60 Chinese civilians were killed.

The international settlement had its daily spraying of shell fragments and shrapnel as a Chinese aviator penetrated the Japanese anti-aircraft defenses to bomb the Japanese airfield in Yangtzepoo and the Japanese flagship Idzumo, in the Whangpoo river just off Shanghai.

The airfield bombing was believed to have inflicted heavy damage but the airman could loose only two ineffective bombs at the Idzumo before the batteries drove him off.

Japanese land forces also tried to break through on the Whangpoo side. There the story was much the same as at Yanghang. The heaviest guns yet brought into action in the battle for Shanghai backed an infantry drive at Kiangwan, center of the Chinese lines on this side of the V-shaped fronts. For a time the Chinese front was rolled back, but desperate resistance kept the Japanese from holding their gains.

The Chinese continued building temporary emergency railroad lines near the front in spite of the steady hail of missiles. These lines are skilfully camouflaged, running through houses, set inside trenches, covered over with trees.

Troop transportation occurs only at night, when it can not be detected by the Japanese air scouts. Once the trains bring up their reinforcements they return loaded with wounded.

less than 20 years old he entered business himself in Old Trenton, which at that time was one of the chief cotton shipping centers in North Louisiana. He was immediately successful, and it is recorded that at 22 years of age his business had yielded profits of $10,000, which was considered a substantial fortune in those early times.

In later years, after the coming of the railroad and the subsidence of Old Trenton as a shipping center, Mr. Morris established a large general merchandise store at West Monroe at the corner of Commerce and Natchitoches streets. This concern, known as W. L. Morris and company, came to be recognized as one of the great mercantile establishments in this section of the state. The building was destroyed by fire in 1920.

Shortly after the death of his father in 1914, Mr. Morris retired from active participation in the mercantile business, devoting himself to the administration of his large property interests. In spite of failing health in the last few years he continued active until early in the present year, when began the illness which culminated in his death Saturday.

Mr. Morris was a charter member of the Monroe Building and Loan association and was for many years its vice-president and a large stockholder. He was always actively identified with the religious life of Old Trenton and West Monroe, and was a charter member of the old First Methodist church at Trenton, which is now the First Methodist church of West Monroe.

He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Leila Parker, who died in March, 1900. His second marriage occurred in 1901 to Miss Annie McClendon of West Monroe, who survives him. Seven children, born of the two unions, also survive. They are John Morris, Rayville; Mrs. Helen Mitchell and Mrs. W. B. Inabnet, Monroe; Mrs. J. O. Miller and Mrs. R. E. Lee, West Monroe; Mrs. George Gilmer, Mansfield, and Will L. Morris, Jr., West Monroe. Three sisters also survive: Mrs. E. N. Faulk and Mrs. Lena Rhinehart, Monroe, and Mrs. Lucy Duncan, Ruston. Eleven grandchildren are also survivors.

'LITTLE CHICAGO' PICKS CANDIDATES

St. John, incumbent, Plutocrat; Stanley Freeman, Super-plutocrat.

For commissioner of utilities and money bag—F. M. Cole, Acrobat; L. R. Roper, Plutocrat; Steve Powell, Super-plutocrat.

For coroner—Dr. T. A. Mitchell, Acrobat; "Doc" S. M. Austin, Plutocrat; "Doc" A. M. Smelser, incumbent, Super-plutocrat.

For constable—Burl Mollis, Acrobat; Leon Osterland, Plutocrat; A. P. Richardson, Super-plutocrat.

For justice of the peace—Morris Allen, Acrobat; Tony Danna, incumbent, Plutocrat; H. A. Gentry, Super-plutocrat.

For chief of police—Girodie Prophit, Jr., Acrobat; Bert Mahoney Plutocrat; Allen Ritter, incumbent, Super-plutocrat.

Since sufficient time has not yet elapsed for the candidates to get down to issues, they have confined themselves principally to personalities. Nevertheless, woman suffrage has come in for some slight mention. The Acrobats are in favor of giving the ladies the right to vote; the Plutocrats are opposed; the Super-plutocrats indifferent. Mayor Kokinos had this to say: "Suffering humanity—take the Spaniards and Chinese, for instance—is of more importance than the suffragettes. I have more vital problems upon which to kink my brain."

Bud Holstein qualified in place of Bill Ross, Plutocrat commissioner of utilities and money bag, as the Acrobat candidate for mayor. The latter was being boomed by Tom Adams, who was defeated last year by Mayor Kokinos, but Bill had to decline the honor of making the race because he is moving from "Little Chicago" within a short time. Now Tom is giving all the candidates a lift. Close friends say he hopes to be unanimously elected mayor in 1938.

Leon is carrying on for the Osterland family in the constable contest, substituting for his brother James, the incumbent, who is no longer a resident of "Little Chicago."

Mayor Kokinos is already envisioning a landslide for his entire ticket, but the Acrobats and Plutocrats vow they will snow the ice cream gang under on October 5.

Meanwhile, a sound truck has been pressed into service to advise Monroe of the details of the campaign, and the various candidates are extolling their virtues on banners hung on the walls of headquarters for the campaign, Spatafora's pharmacy.

ROOSEVELT SAYS WORLD NERVOUS

President Concerned Over Situation In Far East And Europe

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt publicly expressed his concern over far eastern and European developments today, declaring they had people nervous the world over and justifiably so.

He said the nervousness was evident not only in financial circles, but in every home and every democratic government.

While he did not know about the other governments, he said he believed he could speak for the democratic governments.

The president talked to newspaper men in his tiny office in the left wing of his mother's big stone house.

He would not reply to a question today whether he would favor withdrawal of American military and naval forces from China after reasonable additional time had been afforded American nationals to leave danger zones.

Switching to domestic affairs, the president said he would favor nationalization of the railroads only as a last resort and if private ownership failed.

A reporter had observed, in asking the president's views, that France had nationalized her railroads and that Carroll Miller of the interstate commerce commission had referred in a recent speech to a single system for the United States.

Norman H. Davis, ambassador-at-large to Europe, will be a presidential guest tomorrow on a cruise on the Hudson on the yacht Potomac.

ACTIVITY PUSHES STOCK PRICES UP

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Buyers flocked to the stock market today and in the most active Saturday session since last March forced selected shares up $1 to $3 or more.

The abrupt reversal of Friday's broad decline was attributed largely to covering by shorts, seeking to even up their positions over the week-end, in addition, traders found many shares selling at what they considered depressed levels and bought them eagerly in fair sized blocks.

President Roosevelt's statement at a Hyde Park press conference that the people of the world were rightly "jittery" over war possibilities came too late to have much effect on the market. It was eagerly scrutinized however, in Wall Street, which has had its own jitters to contend with this week.

Opinion of brokers was that war fears helped to push shares down in Tuesday's wide slump, but that later they were generally discounted or ignored and other factors predominated in forming market sentiment.

A general opinion throughout the financial community that business might be in for a recession over the next few months was, it was asserted, important in depressing market sentiment.

At the close today many stocks were a little under their best for the day but still well in advance. The rally did not, however, spread to all divisions. Steel, rail and motor shares generally participated, but utilities were under pressure and many slipped widely.

At the close, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks had advanced 80 cents to $58.60. Transactions totaled 1,400,000 shares, last equalled March 6, and compared with 229,000 last Saturday.

Prominent in the advance were U. S. Steel, up $2.25 at $95.25, Bethlehem, $82.50, up $2.25, Chrysler, $97.25, up $2.37; du Pont, $144.75, up $2.25, Westinghouse Electric, $131, up $3.62, Santa Fe, $62, up $3, New York Central, $28.62, up $1.37, Union Pacific, $110.50, up $5.50, and Western Union, $43, up $1.37.

system will, in all probability, care for a record number of students, according to advance indications.

Besides the parish and city schools, St. Matthew's Catholic school also opens tomorrow, and with the addition of a kindergarten department this fall.

The Louisiana Training institute also opens its grammar and high school term tomorrow and with promising outlook, according to Supt. Harvey Dillon. The curriculum of the school has been expanded and a course in agriculture and automobile mechanics added.

The Northeast Center of Louisiana State university will not open until September 20, but an orientation program will be given freshmen on Monday and Tuesday.

In addition to the public and Catholic schools and Northeast Center, Monroe's two commercial colleges will also open fall sessions Monday. These are Bish Mathis institute and the Monroe Commercial college, which are anticipating a large registration, students being in attendance from not only Monroe but also from cities and towns throughout northeast Louisiana.

MEMORIAL HOSPITAL NEARS COMPLETION

JENA, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—The Henry E. Hardtner Memorial hospital will be completed soon in Urania by the Urania Lumber company. The hospital will contain about ten or more rooms to be used for company employees, and will be in charge of the company physician, Dr. O. F. Matthews, assisted by other surgeons. The building is of frame construction and is situated on the main highway not far from the company store, the hospital is being erected in honor of the memory of the late Henry E. Hardtner, founder of the Urania Lumber company, who was a nationally known authority on reforestation.

sible, for the time being, to send them back to land. The bombardment was about to begin. They must await the result.

And then the British guns rained shot and shell on Fort McHenry. Francis Key saw the screaming shells explode against the bastings as the fleet moved in. Flying from those bastions was the flag of the young republic—the flag of red and white stripes, with white stars on a square blue field in the upper left-hand corner. Proud, defiant and untouched, it snapped in the breeze all that afternoon. And then the sun dropped down and dusk came on and night fell blackly over all.

But through the night the British guns roared on and Francis Key could follow the arching flight of the red-hot shells. His heart tightened at every cannon's roar, for fear that fort and city were doomed. In silence and the dark, he paced the deck in painful suspense, peering through the blackness toward the fort, praying for daylight, wondering if the flag was still there.

AND THEN the light came, spreading rapidly, and the first beams of the rising sun bathed in glory the shimmering stars and stripes. The attack had failed. And Francis Scott Key returning to shore, put down on scraps of paper the lines that had burned into his brain as the British cannon hammered Fort McHenry. And that night, in a Baltimore hotel, he wrote down, upon a sheet of notepaper, the 32 lines that became the anthem of the republic—"The Star Spangled Banner"—"O, long may it wave, O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!"

NATIONS ADOPT 'PIRATE' PLAN

early next week for the formal signing.

The submarine protocol to the London naval treaty of 1936, to which nearly all powers, including Italy and Germany adhered, is made the criterion of submarine piracy. This means that any undersea craft of whatever nationality which sinks merchant vessels without warning and without providing for the rescue of the crews will be liable to destruction on sight.

The agreement provided that Britain and France will maintain supervision of the ship routes of the entire Mediterranean. All signatories will be responsible for policing their own territorial waters.

An essential point of the accord is that all submarines moving in the Mediterranean sea must show the flag of their country; otherwise they are liable to be sunk immediately.

The nations participating, in addition to Britain and France, the sponsors, were Soviet Russia, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Egypt, Bulgaria and Rumania.

Yvon Delbos, French foreign minister, served as president of the conference.

the various stores and later all will be taken to headquarters at 2505 South Grand street. All votes must be cast not later than 5 p. m. on September 20, the day before the party is held.

All the entrants in the contest are working with a will, piling up the votes, and the contest bids fair to be hard-fought when the home stretch nears.

Entertainment features will include a sack race, a husband calling contest, a liar's contest, band concerts, the crowning of the most popular young woman who will be showered with gifts from merchants in addition to the great honor of being elected to this coveted position.

A street dance, on the 2500 block of Lover's lane, will conclude the night's festivities, all of which will be held in the paved plaza in this block, which has been chosen as the central location for all concerned.

In another part of today's paper, appears a page advertisement in which South Side merchants tell of the elaborate plans formulated.

The merchants to date that will participate, as announced in this advertisement, are the following:

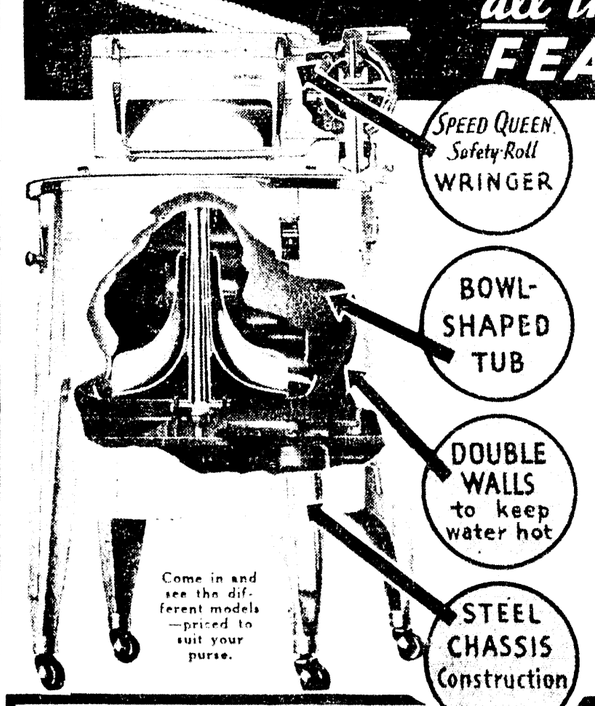
SPEED QUEEN —is the only washer that offers all these fine FEATURES



SPEED QUEEN Safety-Roll WRINGER

Offers exclusive features found on no other wringer. When the safety bar is pressed, three things happen: (1) pressure is released, (2) both rolls stop instantly, (3) power is automatically disengaged. To reengage all three merely push down top.

BOWL-SHAPED TUB

No other washer has a tub like the Speed Queen. Its smoothly rounded, curved bottom design employs same principle as a mixing bowl. The result is maximum water action with no "dead corner pockets."

DOUBLE WALLS to keep water hot

Your dirtiest garments come at the end of your wash. If the water cools off, it's almost impossible to get them clean. The Speed Queen has double walls which insulate the tub and keep the water steaming hot from the first batch to the last.

STEEL CHASSIS Construction

The only washer that has a steel chassis. This steel chassis makes the Speed Queen a strong, solid machine. Nothing can work loose or get out of alignment. The drain spout is mounted to the steel frame—not the tub.

RUSTON CHURCH DRIVE PLANNED

Trinity Methodist Group Lays Basis For Building Of New Edifice

RUSTON, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—Plans for canvassing for funds to build a new Trinity Methodist church in Ruston will be considered at a meeting of the building committee of the church in the office of T. L. James here at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, it has been announced.

The present Methodist church here, erected in 1904, "has served its purpose," members of the committee pointed out, and a larger building, with a greater seating capacity in the auditorium, is desired.

The new building will be erected one block east of the old building, adjacent to the Methodist educational building constructed about three years ago, and will face Vienna street. It will have an auditorium to seat about 700 people and the building will be arranged for air-conditioning in the future if sufficient funds are available, it was reported. Brick to match the educational building will be used.

While the committee expects to proceed with the new church building if $25,000 is subscribed for the project, the group believes that they "should have $40,000 to build, and then have the price of the old building for extras, such as an organ, seats, etc." A circular letter mailed to members of the church states that "almost everyone on this kind of proposition can give at least an amount equal to one month's earnings, and some can give considerably more."

An architect has made plans for the new building and the contract for construction will be let by November 15 or before, if the response justifies that action, it was announced.

A resolution authorizing the committee to make the canvass for the funds, passed by the board of stewards this week, is as follows:

"Resolved, that the building committee of the Trinity Methodist church be and is hereby instructed to make a canvass for funds for the building of a new church, this canvass to be begun not later than September 15 and run for approximately 30 days, and if in the opinion of the committee they secure sufficient funds they are to let the contract for the building of a new auditorium. If the contract is not let by December 31, 1937, they are to return to each and every donor the donation made."

T. L. James, Ruston business man, is chairman of the building committee, which includes the following members: Rev. Guy M. Hicks, J. D. Holland, T. H. Mills, J. C. Ritchie, C. E. Tooke, and E. L. Walker.

CHOUDRANT P.-T. A. HOLDS FIRST MEET

CHOUDRANT, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—The Choudrant P.-T. A. held its first meeting of the year at the Baptist church, with Judge E. L. Walker of Ruston as the principal speaker. The meeting opened with the singing of "America" followed by an invocation led by Rev. E. A. Burgess. Those taking part in the program included Henry Riser, Miss Crystal Richmond and Judge Riser.

During the business session Mrs. J. Arch Oneal was elected secretary of the organization.

Many Farm Families Aided Through Federal Efforts

More Than 150 Now Participating In Ouachita Rehabilitation Program

Railroads, steamship companies, banks, in fact all big business turned to the government for financial assistance during the depression, and Uncle Sam has their notes for many millions of dollars. Slowly but surely, the golden trickle of dollars which watered the top-notchers of industry and business filtered down until it reached a stratum where the all-but-forgotten farmer, struggling to scratch a living from the soil, felt its life-giving effects. The thin stream which gave new life to the one-horse farmer and which is still pumping the vital element, money, into his economic life, has its source in the rural rehabilitation of the resettlement administration of the federal government.

More than 150 families in Ouachita parish have felt its beneficial effects. These families, all living on small hill and swamp farms, are mostly tenant farmers and sharecroppers, who, until three years ago, lived in the utmost misery and constituted a burden on local relief rolls.

Through the operations of the rural rehabilitation program in Ouachita parish these families have been removed from the relief rolls and given a chance to find their feet. For all of them it is a sharp struggle and there are many who still look at life with lugubrious eyes, but it is a fact that all of them are happier because of the fact that at last the golden trickle of dollars has reached their level, and now they can, through the agency of this government department, see a little daylight ahead. For Uncle Sam has a very efficient organization ready to stand behind the one-horse farmer and give him the small money credit which he can get nowhere else, but which he must have in order to carry on.

The rehabilitation program in Ouachita parish is entering its fourth year and since its inception it has proved a life-saver to every one of the 152 borrowers on its books. The program here is in charge of Prentiss G. Boyd, farm supervisor, and Mrs. Mildred Jean Swift, home supervisor, through whose able management it has achieved a great success and which, but for the lack of a sufficient force and funds, could do three times as much good as it is now accomplishing.

The rehabilitation of the one-horse farmer is not a relief project. It is essentially a business proposition and part of the broad social program inaugurated by the present Roosevelt administration. It is designed primarily to assist the farmer whose assets are so small that no bank or individual business house could be induced to finance his yearly operations.

Most of the families doing business with the rehabilitation administration are tenant farmers. A few own their own places. All of them were in a sorry plight and most of them so discouraged that if they could have found other occupation they would gladly have given up farming and taken it up.

Under the rural rehabilitation program, a family must be well recommended to become eligible for a loan under the system. Each applicant for a rehabilitation loan must agree to invest the money in such equipment as will enable him to successfully farm his land. He is asked to run his business on a cash basis and is supplied with a simplified farm budget and bookkeeping system which enables him to keep up with the operation of his farm on a business-like basis. Funds used to purchase non-recoverable items for the farm must be repaid within one year. Recoverable items, such as equipment and stock, may be paid for over a period of three years. All loans carry five per cent interest charges.

Each family making a rehabilitation loan is required to purchase a mule, a cow, hogs, chickens; to plant enough food and feed crops to supply them during the winter, and a cash crop, the proceeds of which go to repay the government loan, pay rental on the farm in the case of the tenant farmer or sharecropper, and put a little aside.

Through the supervision of Mrs. Swift all of the families in Ouachita parish on the rehabilitation program have been supplied with automatic cookers and canning equipment as well as cans, and have been shown how to can and preserve food for the winter months. All equipment is furnished as part of the loan and paid for on the same basis as recoverable items. This year the pantries of all the families on the rehabilitation program are well stocked with canned corn, string-beans, tomatoes, squash and other garden vegetables as well as jars of preserved fruits and jams. There will be no shortage among these families this winter.

The program calls for the maintenance of a winter garden which supplies vegetables to the family. All have chickens which are a source of income during the winter, as well as furnishing a meat supply.

This year's loans to Ouachita parish farmers through the rehabilitation program amount to $34,255.20, or an average loan of $220 to each farmer.

Clients of the project own 84 automatic cookers and 69 sealers. The number of quarts of fruits and vegetables already canned this year are reported at 38,509, with fall beef canning not yet done. Approximately 35,000 pounds of dried foods have been gathered; 2,200 bushels of potatoes are in the bins with fall crops not yet gathered and no estimate is available of the syrup crop. It is certain that farmers and their families on the rehabilitation program in Ouachita parish will not go hungry this winter.

Mrs. Swift makes almost daily visits to one or another of the families on the program. They are scattered all over Ouachita parish; some on hill lands, some in swamp farm lands; a few on the main highways but most are so far off a main road that it is necessary to reach their places in wagons or on foot. No road is too rough, however, but that Mrs. Swift has traveled it to give advice and help to those who need it, for it is the objective of her office to imbue new spirit into the hearts of these one-horse farmers and to set them back on the road to economic independence.

"The rehabilitation project is not one of relief—it is truly a rehabilitation project," Mrs. Swift explained. "It is essentially a business proposition and those who are accepted for loans are clients of the government who are expected to conform to certain rules and are required to pay back the loans at stipulated times plus the interest of five per cent which is charged for the use of the money.

"Had it not been for rural rehabilitation in Ouachita parish and other sections of the country, the one-horse farmer would have gone under, the relief rolls would have been larger and society as a whole would have felt the effects of his failure," she said.

"After a careful study of the project in Ouachita parish, one cannot help but conclude that, considering these clients were people who were down and out when they got their rehabilitation loans, they have made more real progress in the past year than the average town dweller dependent on any sort of work he can get to make a living," Mrs. Swift concluded.

THREE PRISONERS ESCAPE

The Monroe police Saturday reported the escape of three negro prisoners from the city chain gang. The men were James Williams, who made his getaway while working near the city hall shortly before noon Saturday; George Hall and Ike Davis, who escaped Saturday morning about 10 o'clock from the chain gang at Louisville avenue and Eighteenth street.

PROFESSIONAL WOMEN WILL HOLD MEETING

An important meeting of the Business and Professional Women will be held at the clubhouse Tuesday at 8 p.m. and all members are urged to attend. The meeting will last but one hour and plans for the coming year will be arranged.

On the same night and at the same place, at 7 p.m., all program chairmen are asked to meet for a session of one hour.

YANKEES REMOVE SENATORS FROM RACE FOR FLAG

Nats' Defeat Makes Five-Club Affair Of Spurt For League Pennant

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The American league pennant race became a five-club affair today as the Yankees whipped the Washington Senators, 6 to 4, to crush the Nats' last mathematical hope of getting anywhere in the championship fight.

Although Jimmy DeShong held them to five hits, the Yanks tagged him in the right spots. One came in the fifth inning, when, after Red Rolfe singled, Joe DiMaggio deposited his 41st homer into the left field stands to sew up the game.

Kemp Wicker, Yankee rookie, turned in a fine seven-hit performance, weakening only in the third when a walk, an error by Don Heffner and singles by Mel Almada and Cecil Travis produced three runs.

Buddy Lewis opened the fifth with a homer to put the Nats in the lead. They stayed there only a few moments, however, since DiMaggio brought the Yanks into the front to stay in the last half of the same frame.

TIGERS WIN DOUBLE

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers won both ends of a double header from the Chicago White Sox today, 9 to 5 and 4 to 2. The Chicagoans fell three games behind the Bengals.

The first game was a slugfest with the south-siders tossing in four errors to give the Tigers their margin of victory. A four-run second inning and a three run eighth inning knocked out Bill Dietrich and John Rigney.

The Tigers came from behind with a three-run attack in the eighth inning of the second game to dispose of John Whithead while Roxie Lawson and George Gill limited the Sox to five hits.

BRUINS DEFEAT BUCS TO CLIMB NEARER TO TOP

Victory Places Cubs To One And One-Half Games Of New York Giants

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The pennant-aspiring Chicago Cubs battled their way to within one and one-half games of the league-leading New York Giants today by beating back a ninth-inning rally to defeat Pittsburgh's Pirates, 5 to 4.

Stanley Hack showed the fighting spirit of the now desperate Bruins in the final frame by risking injury to catch a twisting foul beside the concrete stands after a hard run, ending the game.

The Pirates had just scored two runs. This brought up dangerous Lloyd Waner, but Hack's spectacular play retired him.

The Giants were idle today, rain causing postponemnt of a game with Boston on the Bees' playing field. The teams will play a doubleheader at Boston today.

CARDS TROUNCE REDS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Despite homers by Lew Riggs and Chick Hafey, Mike Ryba pitched the Cardinals to a 5 to 4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds today in the first of a three-game series.

Joe Medwick got his 200th hit, a double, in the fourth and singled to bring home a run in the seventh. Don Padgett, with three safeties, led the 12-hit assault on veteran Paul Derringer. Ryba also allowed 12 hits.

Riggs' homer came in the fourth, with Ernie Lombardi on base, to drive in two runs for the Reds. After a walk, three straight singles, two errors and a long fly in the seventh had given the Cards a two-run lead. Hafey's eighth-inning homer reduced the margin to one run.

Pine Bluff, El Dorado Play Today

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Pine Bluff's Judges held a one-game advantage over the El Dorado Lions today as the teams rested before resuming their Cotton States league Shaughnessy playoff finals here Sunday.

Willis, left handed ace, is expected to take the mound for the Judges in the next tilt and either Stefurak or Raper for El Dorado. The game will start at 3 p. m.

Pine Bluff pounced on two El Dorado pitchers to win the initial game of the series last night 5 to 2 before more than 2,300 fans, largest baseball crowd in the city's history. Grant, Judges' first sacker, clouted three doubles and a single.

After Sunday's game, the next three contests will be played at El Dorado, the sixth at Pine Bluff and if a seventh is necessary a flip of a coin will decide its site.

GEHRINGER STOCK TAKES NEW HIGH

Charley Heads Hit Parade With .387; Medwick Drops To New Low, .378

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Gehringer stock hit a new high and Medwick a new low on the big league batting market this week.

Result: Charley Gehringer, the Tigers' "strong silent man," was at the head of the hit parade with a .387 average, while Ducky Medwick, not only ousted from the two-league leadership, was fighting to hang onto his National league pace.

Gehringer clouted 11 hits in 29 chances during the week and wound up with a .387 average, 23 points better than his nearest American league rival, Lou Gehrig, who dropped two points to .364.

Medwick, collecting only six hits in 30 official times at bat, nose-dived ten points to .378, and but for a more complete collapse on the part of Paul Waner, who managed only eight-for-36 and sank 11 points to .364, he might be even more closely pressed than he is.

As a result of Waner's walloping doldrums, Gabby Hartnett, the Cubs' catcher, slipped into second place in the National league race with a .365 mark.

Biggest boost of the week was that by Cecil Travis, Washington shortstop, comebacking after a deep batting slump. He hit safely 20 times in 46 chances to raise his mark ten points and deadlock Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees for third place in the American league, at .356.

Dolph Camilli of the Phillies, increased his average to .333 and made the National league's top ten for the first time this year.

GAME AT BROWN FIELD WILL OPEN GRIDIRON SEASON

Local Team Will Depend On New Material To Win Contests This Year

The Ouachita Parish High school Lions, who open their 1937 football campaign against the Louisiana college freshmen here next Friday night at Brown stadium, will have to depend greatly on new material this year to turn out a winning football team in the new class AA football classification in state high schools.

Coach "Lefty" Haynes, beginning his third year as head coach of the Ouachita forces, has only one regular lineman and two others who earned letters returning to take over jobs in the forward wall along with a flock of "green" youngsters. The backfield will suffer the loss of Solly Mayer, fleet little halfback, and W. B. Stewart, fullback, but even at that the backfield candidates available surpass the linemen in experience. The Lions still hold hopes, however, that Stewart, who is eligible, will return to school tomorrow.

Floyd Van, veteran tackle, has been moved to an end position this season. He is Ouachita's most experienced performer and the only returning regular from last season's line.

Big, 240-pound Buford Goss looms as the fastest developing lineman and is a cinch to win a tackle berth. Goss was only a reserve last fall, but he gained enough experience to letter.

Fain Richards, a guard, won his letter also in the forward wall last year and stands a good chance to win a guard job in the line this year. However, he was confined to the second team this week because he "hasn't yet started taking the training seriously."

Heading the list of backfield candidates are Paul Patterson, fullback, and Alvin Fleming, halfback, both regulars from last fall, and Maurice LeBlanc, a halfback, and Watson Stron, quarterback. Other backs looking good are Cason Mitchell, George Vaughan, E. C. Hinton and Sam Williams, halfbacks; Clayton Brown, fullback, and John Wilhite, quarterback.

From the looks of things at the present, just about all the backfield chores will be stacked on Patterson and Fleming. Cason Mitchell is a fast-stepping back and, should Stewart return, this quartet would no doubt provide the Lions with a good backfield combination.

The "first string" lineup last week included Van and Warren Seivers, ends; Goss and Benny Averette, tackles; James Peters and Roy Edgar, guards; James Brothers, center; Watson Stron, quarterback; Maurice LeBlanc and Alvin Fleming, halfbacks, and Paul Patterson, fullback.

Seivers and Edgar came up from the 1936 freshman squad while Goss, Averette, J. Peters and Brothers were reserves last year.

The second team included Jack Tremble and Mitchell Funderburk, ends; Muriel Jones and Harry Bittick, tackles; Fain Richards and Howard Griffith, guards; "Moon" McMullen, center, John Wilhite, quarterback; E. C. Hinton and George Vaughan, halfbacks, and Clayton Brown and Sam Williams alternating as fullback.

Richards, Wilhite, Vaughan and Williams appeared in the lineups last season, but the others are all new, mostly up from the freshman squad.

Others who are expected to make a battle for places in the starting lineup are Albert Gerson, tackle, Buck Bourgeois, guard, and Tommy Younse, center.

Coach Haynes said the lineups used this week were only tentative and would probably undergo changes this week as he whipped his squad into shape for Friday's season opener.

He has had a squad of about 40 boys appearing for practice daily and, with the aid of Assistant Coaches George Riser, Roy Ary and Woodrow Turner, expects to glean another stellar team from the material at hand.

The Lion squad Friday completed two weeks' training and took an off day yesterday, but will return to work tomorrow afternoon. Scrimmage sessions are expected to feature the work tomorrow, Tuesday and Wednesday, as the coaches make final changes and decide on the lineup for the coming of the Louisiana Normal frosh.

Team managers this year will be James Inabnet, Billy Rocha and Dennis Pumphrey.

EVANGELINE LEAGUE SETS RECORD FOR CLOSE RACES

DURHAM, N. C., Sept. 11.—(AP)—The class D Evangeline league of Louisiana claims a new record for close races in an eight-club league during the season just closed.

So hectic was the campaign that at the finish only 14 games separated the first-place club from the cellar entry. Lafayette and Rayne were tied in percentage for the top rung and had to play a game to decide the issue, Lafayette winning.

Baseball is taken seriously in the Evangeline country and the league had a splendid season, drawing over a half million patrons, although one of its members boasts less than 5,000 in population.

TEXAS LEAGUE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Ashley Hillin broke the modern Texas league record for games won when he hung up his 31st victory of the season tonight and hurled the Oklahoma City Indians to their 100th victory. The victim was Fort Worth and the score, 7 to 1.

Score by innings:

Fort Worth	000	001	000—1 9 5
Oklahoma City	400	011	10x—7 10 1

Smoll, Reid, Greer and Jackson; Hillin and Mackie.

BUFFS DOWN MISSIONS

HOUSTON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—John Grodzicki hurled five-hit ball today as the Houston Buffs defeated the San Antonio Missions, 3 to 1.

TIGERS PREPARE FOR CLASH WITH FLORIDA ELEVEN

State University To Have Veteran Team Of Seniors And Juniors

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—A veteran team of seniors and juniors, with one sophomore to add a bit of youthful fire, loomed today a possible starter when Louisiana State university squares off against Florida in the season opener two weeks from tonight.

There isn't an official first team yet, for Head Coach Bernie Moore hasn't picked one, but four seniors, six juniors and one sophomore composed the team that began the first scrimmage of the year Wednesday.

The line will average 192 pounds, smaller than last year's first eleven, while the fast, speedy backfield averages 181.

Ferguson is the only sophomore while Lester, Dumas, Rohm and Morton are seniors.

The second eleven on the field for the opening scrimmage, which Coach Moore pronounced "pretty good," looked almost like a grownup edition of last year's freshman team. Nine of the outfit were sophomores.

Gayle Monget was at center; Joe Messina and Blythe Clark were the guards; Red Farmer, and Paul Pittman the tackles; Ken Kavanaugh and Clark Ward, ends; Jimmy Cajoleas, quarterback; Jabbo Stell and Young Bussey, halfbacks, and Charley Lemak, fullbacks.

Lemak and Farmer were the only veterans.

Six sophomores—they are plentiful here—were on the third team. Sophomores were Ogden Baur and Woodrow Barrett, ends; Dave Bartrain, guard; Bob Kendrick, quarterback, and Bob Fife, halfback, and Jake Staples, fullback.

Joe Williams, a junior college graduate, was the other guard. Ben Friend, tackle; Jimmy Warmbrod, center; Ernie Larsen, halfback, and J. B. Harrist, tackle, are juniors, but only Friend has made a letter.

The 48-man squad, increased by two since the opening practice, ended the first two weeks of practice today with a "satisfactory" stamp from Coach Moore.

The Tigers, disdaining the traditional shorts, donned uniforms the first day out and have worked out twice daily in game equipment since. Only minor injuries marred the work as the defending Southeastern conference champions prepared for their opener against a conference opponent expected to be tough.

TIGER FROSH TO PLAY SOUTHEASTERN FRIDAY

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 11.—Louisiana State university's 1937 freshman team will dedicate Southeastern Louisiana college's new Strawberry Bowl in a night game at Hammond Friday, September 17, at eight o'clock.

The freshmen will begin their preparations for the game Monday when they report to Coach J. B. Whitworth for the first practice of the year. They will have just four days of actual practice before the game.

The L. S. U. band will accompany the team to Hammond on a special train.

The Tiger Cubs also will play the Ole Miss and Tulane freshmen this season.

BROWN DEFEATS CROSSETT, 10-4, IN OPENING GAME

Second Game Of Titular Series Will Be Played This Afternoon At Brownville

CROSSETT, Ark., Sept. 11.—(Special)—With two outs chalked against them in the fifth inning, the Brown Paper mill team went on a batting rampage that scored seven runs and paved the way for a 10 to 4 victory over the Crossett nine today in the opening game of a seven-game series to decide the winner of the Ouachita Valley league championship.

Up to the fifth inning, the game was fairly even, and the score was 2 to 1 in favor of Crossett when the Brownies went to bat in that inning. Two Brown players went out, and then the heavy bat work started, with a base on balls and three errors, along with three clean hits, helping the Brownies to bat around.

Rorie, Crossett hurler who was on the mound as the batting rampage got well under way, was replaced by McGregor. But before the Millers finally succeeded in chalking up the third out, Talbot and Craig, who were the first to bat for the Brownies in the inning, had batted again.

Brown added two more runs in the seventh inning, and the best that Crossett could do was to add two more to its score.

Crossett's ace pitcher, "Lefty" Butler, was held in reserve today, as was the Brownies' ace hurler, Truman Mayes. This pair probably will hook up in a pitching duel in the second game of the series, which will be played on the Brownies diamond at Brownville Sunday afternoon. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock.

TEAMS SCRAMBLE FOR RANK TODAY

Outcome Of Southern League Games Will Be Basis Of Shaughnessy Playoff

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 11.—(AP)—A scramble for second, third and fourth places will mark tomorrow's curtain performances in the Southern association, and the outcome of five games will be the basis for league officials to announce plans for the Shaughnessy playoff.

The important games are double headers between Memphis and Chattanooga, and New Orleans and Nashville, and a single contest between Atlanta and Little Rock.

Percentage points possibly will be used to determine who will meet in the playoff scheduled to start September 14.

	Memphis	Atlanta	New Orleans
Today	.573	.564	.561
Win one	.567	.567	.560
Win two	.579	...	.567
Win, lose	.572	...	.560
Lose one	.570	.560	.557
Lose two	.566	...	.553

Only if the Chicks lose twice and the other teams register victories, will they be displaced from second place.

The third-fourth race is full of possibilities. The Crax can take third by doing anything if the Pels stumble twice. And they'll tie if Atlanta loses and the Pels break even or if they both are completely triumphant in the day's work.

A double-win by the Pels while Atlanta loses, however, will send the Crax into fourth place.

League rules provide for the champions playing the fourth place club and the second and third placers squaring off for two games on the grounds of the first and second place teams.

KIYOSHI SHIKUMA WILL MEET KUSS IN OPENING BOUT

Program Completed For Weekly Wrestling Show At Twin City Stadium

Wrestling fans who applauded the mart work of Kiyoshi Shikuma last Thursday night when this son of Nipon effectively squelched Paul Harper, he Texan, in a brilliant wrestling out, will have another opportunity o see the jap in action on Thursday's ll-star wrestling card—at the Twin ity stadium. His opponent will be tto Kuss, said to be a clean, scientific restler.

Shikuma, known to the fans simply s the "Jap," since his name is hard o pronounce, is an expert in the art f jiu-jitsu, Japan's peculiar type of restling, and last Thursday demontrated that he is a top-notcher in this anch of the bone-crushing art. The uick way in which he disposed of Harper won the fans support and the Texan's unsportsmanlike attitude in he middle of the match, when he von the second fall by ignoring the ules and going after the Jap with 'catch-as-catch-can" holds, won the Nipponese wrestler many friends who sked that he return to the local ring.

Shikuma won last Thursday's bout y beating Harper at his own game nd displayed a knowledge of the rappler's art which was a revelation o the fans. Jiu-jitsu involves a knowedge of certain nerve centers of the ody and how to work on them, and he way the Jap worked on Harper's erves had the Texan ajitter.

Kuss, who opposes the Jap next hursday, weighs 220 pounds and is a ative of Arizona. His record is impressive enough to guarantee that he ill give Shikuma a real battle and is confident that he can turn the ables on the Jap and beat him at his wn game. The bout will be waged nder a one hour time limit, with two ut of three falls deciding the winner.

Chief Little Beaver from the government Indian reservation at North Carolina, weighing 225 pounds, tackles Marvin Westenberg, 225 pounds of clever matman. This match will have a two-hour time limit, with the best wo out of three falls deciding the winner.

The chief had a rough time of it ast Thursday when George Mansour, Syrian of Oklahoma, went right hrough the book of fouls to pick the nastiest ones to try on the Indian. But Mansour's worst only got a grunt out of the chief and the latter came back in the last two falls to dish the Syrian some of his own dirt.

Westenberg is well-known to the Monroe wrestling fans. He prefers to wrestle clean but knows all the answers when his opponent decides to rough it and violates the rules of the game.

Thursday's all-star card will be featured by the giving away of 10 baskets of groceries to fans. The winners of the groceries will be announced from the ring during the program.

ANNUAL REGATTA SCHEDULED TODAY

More Than 60 Outboard Motorboat Drivers Expected To Compete In Races

FERRIDAY, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—More than 60 outboard motorboat drivers are expected to compete Sunday afternoon on Lake St. John in the eighth annual regatta sponsored by the Gray-McCearley post of the American Legion.

Special rates on the ferry across the Mississippi river is expected to attract a large crowd from Mississippi. As an added attraction there will be airplane rides, and a parachute jump with Jesse Bristow in charge of this department.

Mayor E. W. Vogt of Ferriday, one of the past commanders of the local post, will act as master of ceremonies. Dr. E. E. Benoist, an experienced regatta director, will be commodore. Traffic will be in charge of State Highway Patrolman Eugene Rogillio, assisted by Boy Scouts from the troops of Natchez, Ferriday and Waterproof.

The first race will get under way at 1 o'clock and preparations have been made to take care of a capacity crowd from throughout this section of the state, and from neighboring states. Many leading racing drivers will compete and all indications are that this year's regatta will be more successful than any staged in the past seven years by the local legionnaires.

California led all states in population increase between 1920-30, with a gain of 65.7 per cent. Florida was second with an increase of 51.6 per cent.

TECH GRIDSTERS TO OPEN SEASON ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Bulldogs Training For Clash With Highly-Touted Oklahoma City Goldbugs

RUSTON, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—Heated up by the weather and by reports of their first opponents' greatness, the Louisiana Tech football players are doing the best they can in the hardest way to be in shape to hold their own in the opener with the Oklahoma City university Goldbugs here at 8 p.m., Friday, September 17.

With the temperature standing at 96, one afternoon drill period for the varsity Techmen this week was postponed and the gridders were called out for night practice. That same afternoon, a traveling salesman, who had recently visited at Oklahoma City university, informed the Techmen that the Goldbugs are figuring on "taking Tech in a big way." Another visitors here from Oklahoma brought a similar report by word of mouth, and press clippings substantiate the talk—all of which is causing the local Bulldogs considerable concern.

At the close of the first full week of rehearsal, Trainer Eddie Wojecki stated that all of the Techsters are in satisfactory physical condition, with the exception of Aloys Adkins, guard, and S. X. Lewis, tackle, both of whom are not expected to be available for service in the first game, Adkins is troubled with a pulled muscle which originated during the baseball season, it is said, and Lewis is crippled with a badly swollen leg resulting from a knee injury received at the opening of football practice.

Both of the injured men are regarded as valuable assets to the team. Adkins was slated for right guard on the first team, being paired with Laddie Hall at left guard in the starting combination. Since George Rajcan and Captain Johnny Wyss are listed as guards in the so-called "second team" unit, the possibilities for replacing Adkins in the beginning lineup include Ray Nitter, Wimer Girard, Jack Jaggers and Pat Meeks.

Lewis was not booked on either of the two-team combinations, but his 195 pounds of brawn rate him as a standout among the 20-odd other Techmen who are counted upon to play a good "lone hand."

Two late additions to the Tech roster who are shining as end candidates are Butler Eakin, Pattison, Miss., and George Rooney, Urania. Both are playing their first year on the Tech varsity, Eakin weighing about 180 and Rooney 190.

Called from their labors to refreshments, varsity and freshman football players of Tech were entertained by Crosby's pharmacy during the past week. Ice cream and "T" cakes were served to the party of about 100 guests. Souvenirs were small china bulldogs, with red and blue ribbons tied around the necks.

GRIDIRON BRIEFS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Tulane's starting backfield looked set today as Ralph Bond, Dub Mattis, Bill Flowers and John Andrews stepped through their paces.

Bond, a junior who made good in his sophomore year, will call signals, and Andrews, a hard running fullback, with Mattis and Flowers at halves, will lug the ball.

Flowers is expected by Coach Lowell (Red) Dawson, to be the big triple-threat man, although Mattis can also pass, kick and run.

MAROONS WEAR KILTS

STARKVILLE, Miss., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Colonel Ralph Sasse, who still sticks to salt bath treatments to toughen his gridiron charges, came up with a new one today—kilts.

"Football players ought to wear them as Scotchmen do," said the colonel. "Thigh and knee pads can be strapped on without long, heavy football pants. That would give the boys more leg freedom, more speed, I'm ashamed of myself for not thinking of it before."

Sasse said his Mississippi State squad is "further advanced now than at October this time last year."

NEYLAND DISAPPOINTED

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Coach Bob Neyland sent his Tennessee Vols through an hour's intra-squad scrimmage today and at the end of the internal rumpus declared:

"That was the worst opening scrimmage we have had since I have been connected with the University of Tennessee. I am very disappointed in the showing of the boys. It means we have a lot of hard work before we will be ready for a game."

The scrimmage cost Neyland the temporary services of two linemen, Melvin Lampley, a sophomore tackle from Burns, Tenn., and Willie Leffler, veteran guard from Nashville.

TIGERS SCRIMMAGE

AUBURN, Ala., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Despite hot sultry weather, Coach Jack Meagher put his Auburn Tigers through their first line scrimmage of the season today in a performance which lacked snap and precision.

Trainers were kept busy with minor casualties.

Coach Meagher again stressed an aerial attack with the ends and backs receiving special attention.

SOPHOMORES STAR

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 11.—(AP)—A pair of sophomore backs—Vassa Cate and Oliver Hunnicutt—ran wild in Coach Harry Mehre's "audition" scrimmage today, the first of a series to determine Georgia's initial starting lineup.

Mehre expects to make selections following another session Tuesday.

ALABAMA SCRIMMAGES

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Alternate Captain Joe Kilgrow, spearhead of the Crimson Tide backfield, galloped 42 yards for the first touchdown of the Alabama practice season today in a prolonged "offensive" scrimmage on Denny field.

A defensive halfback, Sophomore Herky Moseley, made the longest dash, however, running 70 yards to cross the goal line after intercepting a forward pass.

FINDS QUARTERBACK

ATLANTA, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Coach Alexander apparently found what he wanted as a replacement for Captain Fletcher Sims today in Bill Gibson, a junior quarterback with no varsity experience.

Tech's gridders went through the first trial game and tried all the rough stuff. The "A" team won 15 to 0.

HAPES NOT IN FORM

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Ray Hapes, best running back at Ole Miss, has failed to reach the form expected of him by this time in the training season, said Coach Ed Walker today.

Counted on to head the Rebels' ground game, Hapes led the Southeastern conference in 1935 in scoring with 73 points.

BENGALS TO PLAY OPENING CONTEST AT L. S. U. STADIUM

Monroe Eleven Has Strong Line, But Backfield Players Lack Experience

The Neville High school Tigers, after four weeks' intensive training for the approaching grid season, will open their 1937 schedule Thursday night in the new Louisiana State university stadium at Baton Rouge against the Istrouma High school eleven.

The heaviest, most evenly balanced line in several years is one of the Bengals' best assets this year, but the forwards are hampered by lack of experience and speed. The backfield prospects are only tentative, but Coach Percy Brown is expecting to develop a fairly good set of ball carriers.

Only three veterans returned to the Tiger squad from the 1936 team, two tackles and back.

Upon John Ernest Cole and Edward "Butch" Endom will fall the task of keeping the undeveloped linemen in the traces; while Ray "Tuffy" Spicer, veteran fullback, will head the backfield along with Vaughan Payne, a halfback, up from the 1936 reserves, who is being looked upon as the Bengals' most prospective running back.

Cole and Endom will be back at their old places, flanked by Ben Downing, Jr., and Doug Haynes, ends; Hurlan Beaumann and Perry Snyder, guards; and with Ed Stroud at center. Downing, Beaumann, Snyder and Stroud were reserves last season, leaving Haynes with the only new face in the Tiger line, which is being coached by Bill Ruple, Neville new assistant coach, a former Louisiana Tech star and co-captain of the Bulldog's 1935 team.

Leading the race at the present for places along side Spicer and Payne in the backfield are Don Stewart and Jack Lanham, a couple of 1936 reserves. Stewart and Lanham have developed considerably since last fall, and are being counted on to shoulder a big share of the ball carrying burden. R. C. Rivers, Lloyd Scott, Ernest Pierce, Julius McKnight and Ike Luffey are also seeking backfield berths.

Other prospective linemen are Robert St. John, Earl Vigg, Ben Meredith and Robert Pribble, ends; Louis Masur, Carlton McKeithen and John Wood, tackles; Leander DeMasterson, "Cotton" Ruple and H. L. Cavaness, guards; Billy Jones and Clayton Johnson, centes.

The Bengals have been looking good in workouts this week, but "they still have plenty of work to do," Coach Brown stated. They are heavy, but very few of them are fast enough or experienced enough to hold their own against a seasoned and faster eleven.

Coach Brown, who is going into his seventh year with the Tigers, said he expected the Tigers to start slowly, but, barring injuries, that he expected them to look as good or better than any team he has had by the middle of the season.

His backfield "specialists" are Spicer, who punts and passes and carries the ball satisfactorily from the fullback position; Lanham, punter, passer and ball carrier from any position; Payne, strictly a passer and carrier; and Pierce, a fleet running back.

Team managers will be Guy Miller, Frank "Shadow" Mulhearn and Bob Wene.

Coach Brown also announced yesterday that the schedule was still incomplete as far as games for November 19 and 25 were concerned but that he expected those dates to be filled by El Dorado, Ark., and Vicksburg, Miss.

Other games will be as follows:

September 24: Lake Providence, there.
October 1: Rayville, here.
October 8 Lake Charles, here.
October 15: Bastrop, there.
October 22: Haynesville, here.
October 29: Greenville, Miss., there.
November 5: Ruston, here.
November 11: Homer, there.

CANADIAN TITLE WON BY COOPER

Chicago Golfer Turns In 72-Holes Score Of 285, Five Under Par

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Light Horse Harry Cooper of Chicago, carrying a hot putter on a cold, windy day, won the Canadian open golf championship today with a 72-holes score of 285, five over par.

It was Cooper's second victory in the event, which he won in 1932, and netted him $1,000 and the Seagram golf trophy.

Cooper finished two strokes ahead of Ralph Guldahl of Chicago.

Although their scores couldn't compare with the four sub-par rounds Lawson Little put together to win the 1936 title, they weren't bad under conditions that produced more 80's than par rounds.

Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., and Al Watrous of Detroit tied for third prize with 290's. Manero, of Peabody, Mass., took fifth at 292.

Billy Burke of Cleveland, who led at the halfway mark yesterday with a pair of 69's, blew sky high this morning. He rallied with a 75 and tied with Bobby Alston and Stan Horne of Ottawa, the leading Canadians, at 293.

Little turned in a brilliant 69 in the morning, but blew up in the final round to take a 78 to finish with a 297 total after taking 150 strokes for the first 36 holes.

Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, Tex., another threat, wound up with a 83 and such stars as Leo Diegel, Ed Dudley, Vic Ghezzi and Horton Smith also were blown into the 80's on the last round.

FOOT ITCH
ATHLETE'S FOOT
Relief Guaranteed Or Your Money Back
According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-28, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.
Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching comes intense, and you feel as though you could like to scratch off all the skin.
Beware of It Spreading
Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.
Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious, and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.
Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salves or ointments seldom do any good.
Here's How to Treat It
The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 20 minutes of boiling to kill the germ; so you can see why the ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.
H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.
Itching Stops Immediately
As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected part with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.
H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief; especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

CENTER-MEXICO TILT NOT SLATED

Possibility Remains For Game This Year; Virtually Assured Next Year

The Indians of the Northeast Center of Louisiana State university probably will not play the University of Mexico eleven this season, but a game between the teams is virtually assured for next year, James Malone, coach of the Indians, said yesterday following his return from Alexandria, where he conferred with managers of the Mexican eleven which played the Louisiana College Wildcats at Pineville Friday night.

A slight possibility remains for a game this season between the Monroe eleven and the Mexican gridsters, but various difficulties make such a game appear improbable at this time, Malone said.

Malone yesterday afternoon paced his two first teams—an innovation this year which does away with the designation of first and second teams—through a hard scrimmage which showed him that his charges have plenty of pep and enthusiasm, and which gave him his first definite estimates of the playing ability of the new men added to his squad.

There are a lot of coaches about the country who always become gloomy and melancholy when the newspaper boys ask them about their ideas on prospects for their charges becoming a winning eleven, but Malone waxed enthusiastic when interviewed following the scrimmage yesterday.

The Indians at this stage of the season, in comparison with their apparent strength at the same time in the past two seasons, give evidence of being the best team in the three seasons, Malone said.

He was especially pleased with the work of newcomers to the squad, but added that there is plenty of hard work ahead for every member of the squad before the Indians play their first game of the season here September 24, with the Monticello A. and M. eleven furnishing the opposition. The Arkansas team squeezed out a 6 to 0 victory over the Indians last year, and the Tribe will go out on the playing field to avenge the loss in full measure.

President Jackson in 1828 launched an attack on the Bank of the United States as he considered it a detriment to state banks.

PHILS BILL

Phil Cavaretta, shifted to the Chicago Cubs' outfield this season by Manager Charley Grimm to make room for Ripper Collins, went back to his old post when the Ripper was hurt and has been doing a man-sized job.

BOYS' BASEBALL SCHOOL INAUGURATED AT RAYNE

RAYNE, La., Sept. 11.—(AP)—With approximately 40 boys in atendance and 15 or more expected during the next few days, the Chicago White Sox baseball school being held in Rayne under supervision of Roy Largent, White Sox scout, and Hal Funk, was underway today.

After the first preliminaries Friday, both Largent and Funk were enthusiastic over the material in camp.

The school will run for two weeks.

The daily schedule includes morning workouts, this period being devoted to coaching the players in the fine points of their positions. Each afternoon an intra-camp game is played.

RED SOX TRIM A'S

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox pounded three Philadelphia hurlers for 12 hits and took advantage of six errors by the Athletics to score a 6 to 4 victory in the first clash of a two-game series today.

Boston scored three runs in the fourth and added three more in the fifth to clinch the decision. Bob Johnson's 22nd home run of the season in the sixth inning with none on base started the Athletics' scoring.

Buck Newsom held the A's in check until the ninth when a belated and futile rally drove him from the mound. John Marcum squelched it.

INDIANS, BROWNS DIVIDE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Willis Hudlin turned in his 12th victory of the season when he pitched the Cleveland Indians to an 8 to 0 victory over St. Louis in the first game of a double header today, but the Browns got to Dennis Galehouse in the second game to win 8 to 3.

Hudlin held the Browns to six hits in the opener while the Tribe gathered 12 off Elon (Chief) Hogsett and Gerard Lipscomb. Julius Solters and John Kroner batted out home runs.

Reaching Galehouse for two runs on three singles in the second, St. Louis staged two-run rallies in each of the fourth, seventh and eighth innings.

BANNER SEASON SEEN FOR BEARS

Newellton Squad Rounds Out Second Week's Training Under Swanson

NEWELLTON, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—A squad of 25 youngsters rounded out the second week's training in preparation for what promises to be a banner year in the short history of football at Newellton High school.

Coach Alva E. Swanson, former L. S. U. end star, is driving his Bears hard these days, assisted by big George Boutwell, principal of the local school and a former football and baseball star at Ole Miss. Both coaches have had their squad scrimmaging daily for the past week and the Bruins are fast reaching physical perfection.

Swanson lost three men from the eleven that went through an eight game schedule last season, the second full season of the gridiron game here, with only two defeats against six wins. Only Waterproof, runners-up for the State Class B title, and Delhi conquered the locals. But, the three men lost through graduation were Tap Pierce, second team fullback on the All State squad, Hal Perry, end and Talmidge Crane, tackle. Not so many in numbers, but quite a lot in quality.

However the Bears are by no means weak sisters this season. Swanson could line up a pretty good squad in this order: ends, Fred Outlaw and Pete Vines; tackles, Dick Olds and Dude Pierce, a brother of Tap; guards, Jack Snyder and Jerry Beasley; center Charlie Curl; quarter, Charlie Fizer; halves, Doyle Warren and Walter Smith; and full, Gerald White. This lineup wouldn't be a team of giants, but would have enough weight to combine with the speed that is necessary in the single wing offense the Bears use.

If the going gets too steep for the above lineup, Swanson could shift in the following team: Neal Thomason and Glenn Hollis, ends; Derrell Gateley and Marion Gutherie or Delmas McCarty, tackles; Ed Blanche and Kavanaugh Johnson, guards; Ed Hawkins, center. The backfield would be composed of Buddy Lane, Jack Grace, Irvin Rosy, working with one of the backs in the first string lineup. Hawkins was painfully injured in a motorcycle accident about two weeks ago, but will probably be running with the squad within ten days.

So, while Swanson adapts a Bernie Moore stance and says "we might be good and we might be terrible" the situation at Newellton isn't at all hopeless. The Bears will have a veteran team, composed of fast, fairly hefty men, who have been thoroughly grounded in the fundamentals of the game. No matter what the mentors say, Newellton will probably cut a wide path through Class B teams in a march to the title.

DODGERS BEAT PHILS

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Dodgers had little trouble with the Phillies today and hammered three pitchers for a dozen hits and a 12 to 4 victory to strengthen their hold in sixth place in the National league.

Except for Dolph Camilli, who hit two homers and a single, Waite Hoyt had little difficulty holding the Phillies in check.

The World's Latest Market News

COTTON

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Hedge selling and week-end liquidation depressed the cotton market here today and at the close prices were steady but six to eleven points net lower.

Covering by shorts and some trade calling occurred on the scale down and the demand was supplied in small rallies.

New lows for the season were reached with October breaking below the nine cent line to 8.94 cents a pound, the lowest price since 1933.

Towards the close the market rallied a point or two from the bottom and October finished at 8.96, December at 9.01, January 9.06, March 9.10, May 9.20 and July 9.30.

Trading was only moderate and was purely professional in character. Weather conditions were about as expected and nothing developed to tempt speculative interests into the market.

Exports today were 13,593 bales.

Cotton futures closed steady at net advance of 6 to 11 points.

New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Cotton slowly declined into further new low ground today under increased hedge selling. But persistent trade buying absorbed offerings at each point decline.

Dec. eased from 8.98 to 8.91 and closed at the low with final prices 6 to 10 points net lower.

Cotton futures closed barely steady, 6 to 10 lower.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Whirlwind buying put rallying power behind the stock market today and recently slumping leaders bounced up 1 to 3 or more points at the best.

It was the fastest Saturday session since last March. The ticker tape was several minutes behind at intervals as blocks of 1,000 to 3,000 shares changed hands.

There were also slow periods as profit selling put brakes on the recovery. Extreme advances were reduced in some instances before the close, but most finished around the top.

Inspiring the rebound, brokers said, was considerable short covering based on the belief the market had been "oversold" and was due for at least a temporary come-back. In addition there was the thought today's meeting of the federal reserve open market committee at Washington might take some action that would stem the downward tide. Nibbling by "bargain hunters," too, was seen as a factor in stiffening the list.

The side-lines were found comfortable by many, however, as far eastern and Mediterranean war problems continued to lack a solution.

Transfers approximated 1,300,000 shares.

At Amsterdam, the only leading European market open, international stocks exhibited strength. Purchasing orders from abroad on balance were reported by houses with foreign connections.

Rail liens generally pointed higher in the bond division, but other loans were spotty. Commodities inclined to slip.

Shares conspicuous on the right-about were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, American Rolling Mill, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Goodrich, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio, Southern Railway, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Deere, Westinghouse, General Electric, du Pont, Allied Chemical, Western Union, North American, Electric Power and Light, Kennecott, International Nickel, Howe Sound, Loew's, Borg Warner, Macy and Otis Elevator.

Some issues failed to make the grade. Among these were Public Service of N. J., Peoples Gas, Pullman, Illinois Central and Lone Star Cement.

FOUR PRISONERS FREED ON BOND

Quartet Accused Of Operating Disorderly Houses On Sixth Street

Gladys Trichel, Ivy Gewin, Willie Jennee and Pauline DeLee, who were arrested by the sheriff's department on charges of operating disorderly houses, Saturday posted bonds of $300 each and were released from the Ouachita parish jail. Minnie McHenry, Sid Wilson and Johnnie Jackson Wilson were arrested at the same time Friday afternoon but were able to post bonds of $300 each and were released shortly after being taken into custody.

The arrests were the outcome of temporary injunctions issued Friday by District Judge J. T. Shell against the operation of alleged disorderly houses in the Sixth street neighborhood of the city. Those arrested were charged with "wilfully and unlawfully operating houses for assignation and prostitution." The temporary injunctions were directed against six property owners who were ordered to appear in district court next Wednesday to show cause why the injunctions should not be made permanent.

The petition seeking the temporary injunctions was signed by residents of the area who were reported to have hired a special investigator who had compiled "conclusive evidence" of the operations of at least seven disorderly houses along Sixth street, and supplied the information used in obtaining the temporary injunctions.

It was pointed out yesterday that Sixth street applies only to that thoroughfare south of Five Points to Layton avenue. South Sixth street begins south of Layton avenue.

The houses closed by the court order were scattered along Sixth street from the 100 block, south of DeSiard, to Oak street.

TWO MEN INJURED IN TRUCK MISHAP

While driving a truck loaded with cotton on the Jonesboro highway towards Monroe Saturday afternoon, James Bonnett, 19, of near Eros, lost control of the machine as it rounded a curve in the road and was thrown violently against the embankment, suffering lacerations about the head and hands.

Nick Bonnett, 50, his cousin, was riding on the truck at the time and was also injured, receiving cuts about the face and knees. The two men were taken by Hope Fudge to St. Francis sanitarium where James Bonnett was detained, while Nick Bennett, received medical attention and was later released from the hospital.

Man And Wife Join In Praising The New Herbal Remedy

Gly-Cas Renewed The Health of Both Mr. And Mrs. Wesley Morse; Gas, Indigestion, Nervousness Eliminated, Kidneys Regulated Too; Gly-Cas A Blessing.

"It is wonderful what a single medicine like Gly-Cas can do," said Mr. Wesley Morse, 711 Nichols avenue, Lake Charles, La. "I suffered fifteen years with nervous indigestion, heartburn, gas and bloating. My kidneys also gave me lots of trouble, could not get a good night's sleep because of frequent night risings. My system accumulated so much poison that my limbs and muscles cramped and pained so that I could hardly straighten up. But once I put Gly-Cas to work on my case my health troubles were soon ended and today I am again in good health, feeling fine and enjoy life as others."

MR. AND MRS. WESLEY MORSE

"Gly-Cas gave me the same remarkable results that it gave my husband," said Mrs. Wesley Morse. "My stomach had caused me so much trouble, could not sleep, lost my strength and energy, and was so nervous I knew I could not stand it much longer. But Gly-Cas soon changed all of this. Today I am well, feeling fine, eat and sleep good without any distress at all. My former strength and energy has been restored, able to do my own work, and cannot praise this remedy, Gly-Cas, half enough."

Gly-Cas is sold by Phoenix Drug company, 348 DeSiard street, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. —Adv.

Rubin Attends Dedication Of Monuments In France

Monroe Man Greatly Impressed By Ceremonies Honoring The War Dead

The honor of representing Louisiana at the dedication of American battle monuments in France last August was accorded to Colonel Sam Rubin of Monroe, one of the foremost members of the American Legion in Louisiana, who returned from Europe last week.

Colonel Rubin was appointed to represent Louisiana at the dedication exercises, by Harry W. Colmery, national commander of the American Legion, who advised him of his selection last June.

Each state in the union was represented by a delegate selected from outstanding legionnaires, who sailed from New York in July. They attended a series of impressive dedication ceremonies from August 1 to 9, inclusive, all of which Colonel Rubin attended. At the conclusion of the tour he went to Poland to visit his mother.

The dedication of American battle monuments was the most impressive tribute ever paid to the American soldiers of the great war. Headed by General John J. Pershing, the delegates included members of the American Battle Monuments commission; official delegates, including senators, representatives and their wives. This delegation was headed by William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France, and Josephus Daniels, American ambassador to Mexico; the American Legion delegates and delegates from the V. F. W.

The first dedication of American battle monuments took place August 1, when the Montfaucon monument was inaugufated. On August 2, the St. Mihiel-Montsec (Meuse) memorial was inaugurated in the presence of the official delegation, the prefet of the Meuse, General Hubert and distintinguished French guests. The dedicatory address on that occasion was made by Brigadier-General Bernard W. Kearney, national commander, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Addresses were also made by Representative Lister Hill, Maurice Jean, president of the veterans of the Meuse, and Senator Gaston Roge, president of the veterans of Meurthe-et-Moselle.

"This monument to American valor in the great war, because of its size, its dominating site and the perfection of its architecture, make it one of the outstanding monuments of the world," Colonel Rubin said. "It stands as a tribute of the American nation to the courage, patriotism and achievements of the American soldiers who fought in the neighborhood."

Colonel Rubin attended the dedication of the following monuments: Blanc-Mont, near Sommepy, commemorating the achievements of the 70,000 American troops who served in the Champagne region during the war; Indre-et-Loire; Beilicourt (Aisne); Cantigny (Somme), the memorial of which stands in the center of the little village of Cantigny, which was completely destroyed by shell-fire during the war.

The most impressive dedication was that on August 1, of the American Meuse-Argonne memorial at Montfaucon. This stately monument towering above the war-torn ruins of the village of Montfaucon, is the most imposing American memorial in Europe. It commemorates the Meuse-Argonne offensive in which, during 47 days of bitter fighting between September 26 and November 11, 1918, the American first army advanced in spite of all obstacles and forced a general retreat on this front.

The dedication was attended by the president of the French republic, Ambassador Bullitt, Marshal Petain, General Pershing, all delegates assigned to the inauguration by Commander Colmery of the American Legion and Commander Kearney of the V. F. W. and a large number of officials from the governments of the United States and France.

Addresses were made by Ambassador Bullitt, General Pershing, who made the dedicatory address, Commander Colmery, Marshal Petain and Deputy Andre Beauguitte.

A feature of the dedication ceremonies was the address of President Roosevelt which was transmitted by radio from Washington, and which was followed by an address by the president of France.

During the tour, Colonel Rubin visited Verdun, Douamont, Montfaucon, the cemetery at Romagne, Thiacourt cemetery, St. Mihiel, Reims, the cemetery at Fere-en-Tardenois, Chateau-Thierry, Bellear cemetery, Belleau wood, Chartres, Vendome, the chateau at Blois, Orleans, Soissons, Maubeuge, all of which are the scenes of historic import in connection with American activities in France during the war. Colonel Rubin also made special visits to the graves of Louisiana soldiers who were killed in the war and placed wreaths on the graves.

"The tour of the American battle monuments and the visits to the graves of comrades who died during the war are experiences which I shall never forget," Colonel Rubin declared. "During the nine-day tour, all who participated in the dedication exercises were forcibly reminded of the great part taken, and the sacrifices made by America during the war. The president of France, General Pershing, Marshal Petain and other distinguished speakers were sincerely moved as they reviewed the heroic acts of American arms, and rededicated themselves and their comrades to the task of peace."

Colonel Rubin said that many of the old battlefields which he visited still show the ravages of the conflict even though nearly 20 years have passed since the war ended.

On August 4, Colonel Rubin was a guest of Ambassador Bullitt at a dinner which was served at the American embassy in Paris. The dinner was attended by General Pershing, Commander Colmery, Commander Kearney and other distinguished guests.

IN FRANCE

Colonel Sam Rubin of Monroe pays tribute to a Louisiana soldier who made the supreme sacrifice in the Meuse-Argonne fighting in 1918. Colonel Rubin was official representative of Louisiana at the dedication ceremonies of American memorials to this nation's soldiers who died in the great war. The picture was taken in the Meuse-Argonne cemetery, the largest cemetery in France, where 14,443 American soldiers lie buried.

'Y' DRIVE WILL START SEPT. 20

President Cites Constructive Leaders Of Women's Movement

The annual drive of the Young Women's Christian association will be initiated on September 20, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, president.

Mrs. Tisdale, when interviewed, stated concerning the work of the "Y," nation-wide, as follows:

"We of the Monroe Young Women's Christian association, made an interesting discovery recently. We found that several of the outstanding women of the country are hearty supporters of the 'Y.' The first of all, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, became actively interested in this work when living in Albany, N. Y., as the wife of the governor. She believes so strongly in what the association is doing to help jobless girls that when she appealed to an audience in New York the other day to support the 'Y,' she said: 'Give not only all the money you can afford, but also a little of yourselves.'

"Then there is Mary Pickford, the 'first lady of the screen.' She, too, is quite active, being a member of the board of directors of the Studio club which is the Hollywood 'Y.'

"The former Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, now the wife of a Danish nobleman, is active in furthering the 'Y' movement."

Mrs. Tisdale then proceeded to cite the case of Dr. Mary E. Wooley, one of the foremost of educators of all time, who for years headed Mount Holyoke college, who was always anxious to aid the movement. Amelia Earhart Putnam, who lost her life in a world flight the past summer, and Frances Perkins, head of the department of labor in the president's cabinet, were all mentioned as outstanding in their efforts to promote Young Women's Christian association work.

Former presidents of the local association have been indefatigable in their efforts to advance the cause. They are Mrs. Palmer Hardie, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. Fagan Cox and Mrs. W. B. Clarke.

Mrs. Tisdale stated that these farsighted women have guided the destiny of the "Y" here, giving of their time, energy and finances in order that the army of young women who come to the city seeking employment and education may have the background of the institution as a home which offers the right kind of environment and the inspiration of lofty ideals.

ALUMNI CLUB ELECTS

JENA, La., Sept. 11—(Special)—The L. S. U. alumni of LaSalle parish held a meeting at the court house here recently. Greetings were extended to the group by members of the association after which Mrs. Guy Nesom brought greetings from the faculty and spoke on the developments of the university during the past few years. After the program the following officers were elected to serve for the following year: Dr. D. L. Trax, president; J. B. Davis, vice-president; Representative A. D. Flowers, secretary-treasure. J. O. Davis was selected as candidate for the executive council from the eighth congressional district. Miss Maud Turnley and J. D. Miller were awarded football tickets to the L. S. U.-Florida game to be held in Baton Rouge, September 25.

LOUISIANA GAME LAWS EXPLAINED

Short Dove Season To Open Wednesday And Last Until Oct. 1

L. H. Peevy, game warden with headquarters in Monroe, announced that hunting licenses can now be obtained for the fall season of 1937 at various places in the parish. He also cited game laws as they now appear on statute books.

The licenses can be obtained at the sheriff's office in the Ouachita parish courthouse, at the store of H. M. Perry in Fairbanks, at the D. Y. Smith store in Sterlington, Colbert-Hearn Hardware and Furniture company's store, in West Monroe, Durrett Hardware and Furniture company's stores in Monroe and West Monroe, Miller-Guerriero Hardware company's store in Monroe, Hunt and Whitaker's store, E. R. Kiper Hardware and Supply company's store, and Mack Hammons at the Brown Paper mill.

The season on doves opens September 15 and continues to October 1. Then it re-opens November 20 and continues to January 15. The daily bag limit is placed at 20.

On ducks the open season is from November 27 to December 26 and the daily bag limit is placed at 10.

On geese the open season is from November 27 to December 26 with five the daily bag limit, being the same dates as those for ducks.

Louisiana state laws limit the open season on squirrels from October 1 to January 15 with 10 as the daily bag limit.

Rabbits can be hunted from October 1 to March 1, with no bag limit.

Quail can be shot from December 5 to February 25, and 15 is the daily limit.

The deer season is from November 1 to January 1, and bucks only can be shot.

The sale of all game except rabbits in open season is prohibited. Hunters are restricted to one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. Shipping out of the state is not allowed. All shipments in the state must be tagged and more than one day's limit carried within the state must be tagged separately for each day's hunt.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

J. W. Dumas of Columbia underwent an operation for appendicitis at St. Francis sanitarium Saturday. Later he was reported as being in a satisfactory condition.

JACKSON PARISH NYA PROGRESSES

Recreation And Fair Building Outstanding Achievement Of Youths

JONESBORO, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—The National Youth administration in Jackson parish, under the supervision of Frank K. Buckley, has made remarkable progress during the year 1937. One of the outstanding achievements has just been completed, the recreation and fair exhibit building with a community shop in rear, which was constructed in the new city park of Jonesboro.

This building is 32 feet wide and 100 feet long, and will be used for exhibits for the parish fair, and at other times for a recreation building for the parish, city and community. In the rear will be installed a community shop, electrically equipped with several machines and motors, with which will be made equipment for the city park, such as seats, benches, swings, etc., and also equipment for the schools of the parish.

The building was built entirely by NYA youths under supervision of O. A. Smith, and the workmanship throughout the building is outstanding, due to the fact that it was done by youth labor. These youths enthusiastically showed a tendency throughout the construction of the building to turn out workmanship that would be creditable to them. The building was finished in exactly 40 working days.

The NYA sewing project, under supervision of Mrs. Mary R. Blalock, is making splendid progress. The police jury of Jackson parish is sponsoring the project, and the garments and other articles made by them are being turned over to the parish welfare office for distribution.

These girls, in addition to sewing, etc., are being taught a general home economics course by Mrs. Blalock.

The P.-T. A. sponsored a garden in cooperation with the NYA and the girls canned something over 500 cans of vegetables, these being turned over to the P.-T. A., and will be used in the soup kitchen at the grammar school at Jonesboro.

The tri-parish library with branches in Jonesboro, Hodge, Quitman, Chatham and Eros is being operated by NYA girls. These girls are developing into skilled librarians, and are handling the libraries and records creditably. There are at the present time 13 NYA girls engaged in the different library branches in the parish.

GOLD CUP GIVEN TO LOCAL FIRM

Monroe Furniture Company Wins Trophy For Radio Sales Record

The feature of the Stewart-Warner radio convention held at the Monroe Furniture company last Sunday was the presentation of a beautiful gold cup engraved with the legend, "Stewart-Warner, Highest Award, 1937, Radio Sales Accomplishment, Monroe Furniture Co., Ltd., Monroe, Louisana."

The cup, representing the highest award in the United States for distributors, was presented at the meeting to Joe Isaacman, vice-president and manager of the Monroe Furniture company, by M. O. Beckham, Stewart-Warner executive. The award cup was originally presented to Mr. Isaacman at the national Stewart-Warner radio convention held at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago.

Attending the meeting at the local store were 150 dealers, store managers, and retail salesmen from all parts of Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas. After a welcome address by Mr. Isaacman and an introduction of the members of the audience, M. O. Beckham gave an address in which he discussed the new 1938 Stewart-Warner radio line, feature of which is the new "magic keyboard" with the "mystic mechanism."

Among other things, Mr. Beckham pointed out, "the magic keyboard is the most vital improvement in radio since the invention of the dynamic speaker. Only Stewart-Warner offers this exclusive development, because only Stewart-Warner's 30 years' experience in building precision instruments makes possible such radio magic."

Following Mr. Beckham's address, a 30-minute sound moving picture was shown, which featured a very interesting story around the new Stewart-Warner "magic keyboard" radio. After the showing of the moving picture, the 1938 Stewart-Warner models were presented dealers. Included were eight table models, 10 consoles, and three new chair size models. Orders were filed for more than 500 new 1938 sets. The consensus seemed to be that the forthcoming season promised to be one of the best in many years for radio.

Following the radio convention at the store, the entire audience and their friends were invited to an outdoor barbecue held at Mayor Arnold Bernstein's place near Northeast Center. Entertainment at the barbecue included a negro orchestra and the "Harmony Singers," negro quartet. Joe Isaacman and H. K. Touchstone, officials of the Monroe Furniture company, were hosts to the more than 200 people who attended the barbecue picnic.

CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

JENA, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—The Old River Home Demonstration club, at a recent meeting with Mrs. B. M. Pritchard, discussed plans for an achievement day to be held September 24, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. D. D. Crooks; vice-president: Mrs. B. M. Pritchard; secretary-treasurer and reporter, Mrs. Coy Doughty; council member, Mrs. R. L. Crews; food preservation leader, Mrs. C. C. Pritchard; clothing leader, Miss Edith Crews; garden leader, Mrs. R. L. Crews; poultry leader, Mrs. Coy Doughty; recreation leader, Mrs. C. H. Coon.

JOE ISAACMAN RECEIVES HIGH AWARD

John F. Ditzell, radio and refrigeration sales manager of Stewart-Warner corporation (left), presenting the national highest award cup to Joe Isaacman of Monroe Furniture company, Ltd., at the Edgewater Beach hotel, Chicago. The award represents the highest distributor rating in radio sales for the year 1937.

CATAHOULA SCHOOLS REPORTED CROWDED

HARRISONBURG, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—An increase in the number of students attending the present school term is reported by Catahoula educational authorities.

Over 500 students are registered at the Harrisonburg schools, while 800 students are registered in Jonesville schools. Other schools in Sicily Island, Manifest and Enterprise are also crowded this year, it was reported.

REVIVAL SCHEDULED

JENA, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—The first revival of the year for the local Methodist church will begin Monday, September 13, at the Nolly Memorial Methodist church here. Rev. D. B. Boddy, a former r· 'ent of Jena, will have charge of the services. Rev. W. R. Milton, pastor of the Trout-Goodpine churches, will be in charge of the singing. Morning and evening services will be held each day, with evening services following a young people's service and various prayer groups which will be organized.

FERRIDAY STREETS TO BE BLACKTOPPED

FERRIDAY, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—Mayor E. W. Vogt announces work will begin Monday on amiesiting of municipal streets and installation of considerable additional corrugated culverts and an improved drainage system throughout the city.

The paving work will cost approximately $17,000 and will give employment to a large crew of workmen, Mayor Vogt stated. Culverts to be used in the city improvement project have arrived and will be put down at once, the mayor said.

Mayor Vogt has been working for several years to have side streets and avenues paved. The main thoroughfares of the city have been paved for a number of years but because of a limited budget it was impossible to pave the remainder of the streets until the present time.

Back to School Monday

Throughout the nation, every child from six to young men and women interested in getting ahead in life, has uppermost in mind returning to some school Monday. This is the date set all over this country as the beginning of a new school year. Your friends all around you will go into action bright and early tomorrow morning after additional training and knowledge that may be used by them later in determining their future success. The growth of individual life and the progress of the nation as a whole depends very largely upon individual decisions that are made at this time each year. Don't stop school. Get in the habit of going ahead and you more than likely will continue that habit on through life.

Returning Travelers Relate Interesting Stories Of Places They Visited

Two Residents Back From European Trip

Monroe Society Editor Much Impressed By Beauties Of Southern Florida

By Eve Bradford

SUMMER is definitely on the wane. The ancient story of autumn is being retold in the mystic haze and in the great fleecy clouds, like ships with canvas unfurled, shouldering through September's sky of heavenly blue.

Returning vacationists are giving their friends vivid slices of their recollections of vacation spots visited during the summer. Most colorful of all, perhaps, is Eleanor and Robert Faulk's vacation in Germany, Italy, Austria, Hungary, France and England.

They landed at Selman field over the Delta Air lines from Montreal, where their steamer Duchess of Richmond docked last week. Miss Faulk's trip around the world several years ago enabled her to get away from the beaten track of the average American tourist and tread the paths known only to the seasoned travelers. Eleanor and Robert saw the moon rise over the Alps, toured the Grand canal in ancient Venice, listened to heavenly music in Salzburg, where the opera Faust was presented in a natural setting in a vast amphitheater. They found their hotel in Genoa to be an ancient palace with magnificent circular staircase. In Rome they made a tour of the catacombs, the cathedrals, the Vatican, the Sistine chapel and Castel Gondolfo.

According to an old saying, "kings and dictators pass on but Rome goes on forever." In Florence they rode in open carriages in the evening with the river Armo at their feet and in the distance the cathedral and the dome of the Plazza Signoria. Miss Faulk says that so much has been written about Venice it is impossible to say anything more. She does say, however, that all the beauty you have hungered for is found 'neath the pale Venetian moon. Drift down the Grand canal, in a golden gondola and listen to the Serenata, and life will have a new meaning. Bathing at the Lido in the golden sands was a delightful experience. The most enjoyable of all their experiences was the motor trip through the Black forest of Germany. In a rented car they bowled along the countryside drinking in the beauty surrounding them.

In London they were entertained on a lavish scale by a friend Eleanor met in Cairo, India, several years ago and motored through Europe with. Her home is a typical English estate and afforded our American friends a taste of real British life. We hope that Miss Faulk will consent, in the near future, to give a complete pen picture of her summer abroad.

Our own vacation brings back happy recollections. Take the matter of the gulf stream . As a child we read about this miraculous current in our geography and pictured it as a heavenly blue stream flowing calmly and benignly through the gray waters of the tempestuous Atlantic. Our first trip on the gulf stream, several years ago, was anything but benign. We flattered ourselves that the fluid in our ears could not be upset since we had sailed the Atlantic, the Pacific, and the Great Lakes, and appeared in the dining room for every meal while other passengers languished and pined. We thought we had really earned our sailor's license cum summa laude. The gulf stream, however, put us in our place. When we failed to appear for meals it wasn't because we didn't like the ship's company, and when we reclined in our deck chair it wasn't because we preferred the languourous pose. Fortunately a steamer trip in the gulf can't go on forever. Came the dawn and we were safe in port in New Orleans. That was several years ago.

When we boarded our steamer at Galveston, bound for Miami last month, we were fully prepared for stormy weather and installed in a stateroom on the lower deck where the rolling and rocking is less noticeable. There was no need for these precautionary measures—the gulf stream was as placid as a mill pond and quite like the miraculous current we dreamed about as a child. Returning home, the gulf was equally as calm and we boldly took a stateroom on the very top deck and defied the elements.

We found Miami an amazing place of superlatives, and a place so fantastic and unbelievable that one must visit there to realize that such places really exist. Watching the city rising straight from the sea in dazzling white splendor, we drank in the beauty as our ship drifted down the canal to the piers. Palm trees swayed in the morning breeze and flaming hibiscus created great splashes of crimson as far as eye could reach. Miami does not hurl itself at the visitor—it opens soft feminine arms and draws one to its breast. Everything—the city, the sea, the flowers and the caressing wind blowing in from cross the Atlantic—all flow, as it were, melodiously into each other. Hialeah race track is one of the most startlingly beautiful of all the man-made beauties of southern Florida. It is a never-to-be-forgotten sight with or without the racing thoroughbreds, for the park is open to the public all year. Long avenues of palms lead to the grandstand covered with flaming hibiscus and bougainvilleas. A lake in the center of the track is the rendezvous for dozens and dozens of flamingos, swimming majestically in the water. These birds are of deep pink in color.

Motoring around Palm island and Hibiscus island supplies unending beauty. Everything is in harmony on these quiet stretches abounding homes —veritable palaces—sheltered by towering palms tossing to the music of the surging waters that forever lap the shores.

We wished that life in the picturesque villa beside the sea, where we spent our vacation, might go on forever, but all too soon the time had flown and we again steamed out of the harbor with the memory of Miami silhouetted against the evening sunset, lingering and lingering for many a day.

Dorothy Breese Will Marry Bailey Grant

Wedding Will Be Solemnized At First Methodist Church On September 16

Romance . . . romance. One would think it still June, for September is as busy, nuptially speaking, as the romantic month usually preferred by brides.

Adding to September's prestige is the announcement made by Mr. Frank Breese of the engagement and approaching marriage of his sister, Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Breese, to Mr. Bailey Grant. The wedding will be solemnized September 16 at the First Methodist church at six-thirty o'clock in the evening.

Miss Breese is the youngest daughter of Mr. Frank C. Breese of Vicksburg, Miss., formerly of this city, and the late Mrs. Dora Monteith Breese. The Monteith family, identified with the pioneer days in old Trenton, were prominently connected. Captain Houston Monteith, father of Mrs. Breese, was a colorful figure during the early steamboat days on the Ouachita and Mississippi. Miss Breese is a charming member of the younger set and a member of Delta Beta Sigma.

Mr. Grant is in the employ of the federal government and is associated with the United Gas Public Service company. He is a member of Phi Kappa fraternity.

Miss Hood Tells Of Bermuda Trip

Miss Maible Hood, who has just returned home from a visit in Bermuda following attendance at the national convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs in Atlantic City, spoke before the members of the local club on the subject of Bermuda as follows:

"We left Atlantic City at 7 a.m. Saturday morning. Arrived in New York about 1:30 and went on board the Monarch at 1 p.m. This is a very palatial steamer, and will accommodate 1,002 passengers. It has swimming pools, lovely dance floors, two elevators, several bars, a well-stocked library, in fact everything is provided for the entertainment and comfort of passengers.

"After two days and two nights on board we landed in Bermuda. Bermuda is an English possession located 600 miles from the coast and is directly opposite the Carolinas. It is 19 miles long and three miles wide. Bermuda was first discovered in 1511 by a Spaniard under the direction of Juan de Bermuda, from whom it gets its name. But Bermuda's real history didn't begin until 1609 when Admiral Sir George Samers, an English sea venturer, was wrecked on the Bermuda rocks. All of his crew landed safely, built ships of the native cedar and sailed to Virginia, only to return later and establish a colony called St. George. It now has a population of 28,000 of which over half are negroes. It has 100 miles of fine coral roads. There are no automobiles on the island. The only mode of travel is by carriage and bicycle, there being over 30,000 bicycles on the island, and everybody travels on the left side of the street.

"The temperature seldom rises above 85 degrees in the summer and averages 65 degrees in the winter, so naturally it is the ideal climate for the vacationist.

"Their houses are built of coral rock hewn from the earth and are of Spanish architecture. All the roofs are of pure white. They are built corrugated style and washed with lime and burnt stone. The reason for this is their only source of water supply is rain water, and when passing over the roofs it filters and purifies the water and finally finds its way to tanks attached to the houses.

"Bermuda has ten golf courses, fine hotels, beautiful cathedrals, smart shops where you can buy lovely jewelry, corals, china, amber and all kinds of perfumes for about half the price we buy it for in this country. There is luxuriant vegetation with onions, potatoes, celery, parsley and bananas raised in abundance. The flowers are always in bloom, especially the oleander, hibiscus, poinsettas, poincianna and roses. Easter lillies grow in abundance around February and March. Oleanders grow 20 feet high, in fact are regular trees.

"All roads are fringes with the wild poinciannas which are scarlet in color and make the streets very beautiful. The exciting season to visit Bermuda is in the spring, as this is when the climate is the most ideal and the island is entirely covered with Easter lillies.

"Bermuda to me is very quaint and will always stand out in my memory for its colorful, tropical appearance. I hope each and every one of you who haven't visited the island may have the pleasure of doing so in the near future."

Mr. Charles Lee Cole has returned to his home in the Rio Grande valley, Harlington, Tex., following a visit with his cousin, Mrs. C. Noble Hatch. His visit was rendered exceedingly pleasant with numerous al fresco affairs in his honor. Horseback riding was one of the outstanding pleasures with barbecues, swimming parties and buffet suppers adding to the pleasures. An al fresco affair was given in the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Hatch's home with their niece, Miss Le Fenre, also an honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thompson are spending the week-end in Galveston and Houston.

Boat Ride Given For California Visitor

Boating on the Ouachita river has again leaped into popularity with the approach of autumn and cooler days and nights.

Mrs. Mattie Stewart and Mr. Larry Splane were hosts on board the Noe's Ark last week complimentary to Mr. Ray Splane of San Francisco.

The guests assembled on the top deck, where the beauty of the star-lit night was enjoyed to the fullest. A buffet supper with barbecued chicken, the piece de resistance, was served during the evening.

Enjoying the evening as guests of Mrs. Stewart and Mr. Splane were Miss Dot Railey and Mr. Ray Splane, Miss Beverly Russell and Mr. Bruce Helm, Miss DeDe Arnold and Mr. Robert McGowen, Miss Marie Arnold and Mr. Paul Blackman, Miss Janet Rosenberg and Dr. Harold Wilenzick, Miss Fay Curry and Mr. Bill Walker, Miss Katie McGee and Mr. Leon Hammonds, Mrs. Dora Anish and Mr. David Kaplan, Mrs. Sadie Skinner and Mr. Robert Pollard, Mr. Harry Kuhn, Mr. Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Backschies, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Troy, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Anders.

Miss Laverne Kent Weds John Bayles

The interest of friends in this parish is centered in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Laverne Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kent, and Mr. John Bayles on September 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayles left immediately following the ceremony for a honeymoon in the west, including a visit in Dallas, where they will attend the Pan-American exposition. Mrs. Bayles traveled in an advanced fall model of black and white crepe.

Upon their return they will be at home in West Monroe, where Mr. Bayles is engaged in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayles are both graduates of the Ouachita Parish High school. Mrs. Bayles was graduated with the class of 1937 and Mr. Bayles with the class of 1934. Mr. Bayles attended Northeast Center of L. S. U.

We Didn't Decorate the 10 Finest Homes in the South

Frankly, that isn't the aim of Monroe Furniture Company.

We've never tried to cater to women with unlimited house-furnishings allowances. Many of them are our customers because they find what they want in our Heirloom Shops.

But our main concern is with you who make a moderate income go a long way—you who make your home look smart on a reasonable allowance.

For you—we have the same beautiful period reproductions those ten finest homes will have.

Our buyers have scoured the great furniture centers of the world—Grand Rapids—New York—Chicago—and selected for you the best available in lovely period reproductions at moderate prices.

We have for you Berkey and Gay furniture—fine bedroom and dining room reproductions.

We have Imperial Furniture Company's fine tables in 18th century designs, suites from Drexel of Drexel, period pieces from Pullman, modern designs from Hekman of Grand Rapids, W. and J. Sloane's Alexander Smith and Sons rugs and carpets.

In short, we foresee the needs of you who want smart styles at bread and butter prices—you who want good furniture at reasonable expenditures.

That's what Monroe Furniture Company stands for. Furniture Fashions that make your home look the way you want it to—for what you want to pay. Furniture that will give your home the same comfort, beauty and dignity achieved by those 10 finest homes in the south.

Welcome Branch Club Holds Initial Meeting

Unit Of Twentieth Century Organization Meets At Home Of Mrs. Zell Smith

Mrs. Zell Smith, assisted by Mrs. Frank Black, entertained members of the Welcome branch of the Twentieth Century Book club for the first meeting of the new club year on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Dudley Stone, the president, presided over the short business session, and presented the guest speakers.

The general federation was featured on the program, with various departments discussed by fifth district chairmen.

Mrs. H. M. James gave an interesting talk on "Southern Artists and Art Exhibits," stressing the fact that club women were the logical ones to make the public art conscious.

Mrs. J. R. White spoke on "Publicity." She stressed cooperation as the keyword to successful publicity, and the importance of formulating "drops of ink to make people think."

Mrs. W. D. Cotton, of Rayville, chairman of junior clubs, urged the sponsoring of a junior club this year by the Welcome Branch Book club, naming as chairman Mrs. Lewis Langford.

Judge W. M. Harper received much applause for his discussion of traffic regulations and observance of the law in relation to public safety. He distributed booklets of the law for the city of Monroe, and maps of the streets having right-of-way.

Members present were Mrs. Frank Black, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. Harold Deloney, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. H. H. Douglas, Mrs. C. H. Dunnaway, Mrs. J. T. Eubank, Mrs. E. C. Bridge Party Given For Miss Maroney

Miss Winifred Maroney, whose marriage to Mr. Edward B. Shaver the latter part of September is engaging the interest of her friends, was the guest of honor at a bridge affair Friday night with Miss Ruth Elkins as hostess at the home of Mrs. J. R. Gilhoula on Breard street.

Autumnal flowers created an atmosphere of festivity in the reception suite where tables were grouped for bridge and later a delicious salad course was served.

The hostess presented handsome gifts for high bridge scores to Georgine Murphy and Miss Dot Slocum. Miss Maroney also received a lovely gift from her hostess.

Enjoying this gracious hospitality, in addition to Miss Maroney were: Mrs. Lucille Coates, Mrs. Hattie Phoebus, Mrs. Joseph Ramey, Mrs. Diana Anders, Mrs. Eleanore Merklin, Miss Dot Slocum, Miss Janet Rosenberg, Miss Fay Curry, Miss Edna Arnold, Miss Georgine Murphy, Miss Annie Laurie Smith and Miss Elise Glenn.

Miss Mary Wilba McKee has returned from Camp Sequoya, Bristol, Va., where her ability as a danseuse resulted in an offer of assistant dancing instructor at Sullins college this winter. Miss McKee declined the offer, however, as plans had already been completed for a year of study at Northeast Center of L. S. U.

Mary Noel Stinchcomb Becomes Bride Of Charles Lutes, Jr.

King Plantation Is Scene Of Nuptials

Bride Is Niece Of Mrs. James Standley; Newly-Weds Leave On Trip To Mexico

King Plantation, shrouded in the mystic haze of September, was the scene of a fashionable nuptail event on Wednesday morning, September 8, at 10 o'clock, when Miss Mary Noel Stinchcomb, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Stinchcomb of Longview, Tex., and Mr. Charles Lutes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lutes of New Orleans, were united in marriage.

The spacious halls and drawing room, radiating the gracious atmosphere of other days when life was lived on a broader, more pretentious scale than it is lived today, were banked with woodwardia fern and classic urns overflowing with superb white asters.

While the guests were assembling, Mrs. Emory Boring of Longview, pianist, rendered a pre-nuptial concert embracing the bride's favorite classics. Mrs. Boring was wearing a black crepe imported model with corsage of white carnations. Mrs. B. H. Acker of Longview, soloist, sang in lovely voice D'Hardelot's "Because." Mrs. Acker wore a handsome advanced fall model of navy wool with grey furs and accessories of blue.

Mrs. Howard B. Coons of Louisville, Ky., cousin of the bride, was the only attendant. She wore smart grey wool model with dubonnet accessories and a corsage of Souvenir roses.

Mr. Eugene Walet, Jr., of New Orleans, served in the capacity of best man, and Mr. James Standley served as groomsman.

Due to the illness of the bride's father she was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Bluford Stinchcomb. She wore a distinctive model of cartridge blue with Russian caracul collar and cuffs. A close-fitting hat with caracul trimming was worn. A corsage of orchids and valley lilies added coup de grace.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederick Few, pastor of the First Methodist church of Longview, before an improvised altar hedged with luxuriant palms and ferns and immense urns of white asters. Tall cathedral tapers in handsome antique candelabra gleamed in the background.

The informal reception, following the ceremony, permitted friends to offer their felicitations to the bride and bridegroom, and to meet their charming mothers who stood in the receiving line. Mrs. Stinchcomb was wearing a handsome black crepe model with corsage of white gardenias and Mrs. Lutes was wearing a navy blue model with corsage of white carnations. Mrs. James Standley, aunt of the bride, and in whose home the marriage took place, wore on this occasion a navy blue early fall model with corsage of white gardenias.

The wedding cake, a luscious three-tiered confection surmounted with a miniature bride and bridegroom, graced the bridal table, covered with renaissance lace. The cake encircled with sprays of fresh valley lilies, was flanked by handsome, antique crystal candelabra supporting myriad white tapers. Candles also gleamed on the flower banked buffets and mantels.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutes are spending their honeymoon in Mexico, and upon their return will be at home in Longview, where Mr. Lutes is associated with the Humble Oil company.

This marriage, attended with considerable artistry of detail, united two prominent southern families, members of which have been identified with the cultural, social and civic life of east Texas and this section of Louisiana for generations. The bride, who possesses all the graces, attended Hockaday school for girls in Dallas and attended Southwestern university. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. She was judged the "prettiest" student at Southwestern during the year 1933.

Mr. Lutes is a graduate of the Louisiana State university. He attended McGuire Military school at Richmond, Va., and Darlington prepartory school at Rome, Ga. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lutes have traveled extensively in foreign countries.

Many out-of-town guests attended the wedding and enjoyed the gracious hospitality, reminiscent of the old south, extended at King plantation which is located on the Milhaven road near Monroe.

Dr. and Mrs. Scott Hamilton are receiving the congratulations of friends over the arrival of their first child, a lovely daughter, at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel clinic, on September 10. Mr. and Mrs. John Breard are the maternal grandparents.

Mrs. Minnie Ruffin has returned from a visit with relatives in Memphis and will resume her work as principal of the Neville High school on Monday.

TAKE PART IN P.-T. A. MEET

Mrs. E. Fay Walter of Winnsboro (left), first vice-president of the Louisiana P.-T. A., who will speak on the program at the Fifth district school of instruction, Thursday, September 16, at Crosley school in West Monroe. Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, associate director of the fifth district P.-T. A. and president of the Neville High school P.-T. A., who will also take part in the school of instruction.

Meeting Conducted By P.-T. A. Council

Reception Held At Home Of Mrs. King Hunt For Members Of Twin City Group

An informal reception in the home of Mrs. King Hunt, president of the Twin City P.-T. A. council, Thursday afternoon, brought members together in delightful comaraderie following the vacation period.

A brief busines ssession featured the appointment of health chairman from each association to participate in program outlined by Mrs. W. C. Holstein of the Red Cross.

Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, associate fifth district director, gave some interesting highlights of the school of instruction to be held at the Crosley school on September 16. All associations were requested to send as large a representation as possible.

Mrs. Julia Arnold, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., was a guest speaker. She presented interesting facts concerning life at the "Y" and stressed the importance of cooperation of the P.-T. A. in the annual drive.

A feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a handsome gold pin to Mrs. E. P. Cudd in appreciation of the splendid work accomplished during her term as president of the council.

Mrs. Oberlin Hamm, former president of the Fairbanks P.-T. A., was a guest speaker.

During the social hour delicious confections were served in the dining room, where Mrs. W. M. Greenwell presided over the punch bowl. Mrs. Harry Burdeaux and Mrs. Rube Henry assisted in the courtesies extended to representatives from every P.-T. A. unit in the Twin Cities.

Executive Committee Of P.-T. A. Assembles

A business meeting of the executive committee of the Neville High school Parent-Teacher association was held Wednesday afternoon at the school. Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, president of the organization, presided.

Plans for the coming year were discussed and chairmen of committees named.

The budget committee including Mrs. P. I. Sandman, Mrs. Horace Fluker and Mrs. G. A. Aden, discussed at length their plans for the year. It was brought out that the funds of the Neville P.-T. A. are not used for equipment of the school, but for needy children, and for the expenses of delegates to district meetings and state conventions.

Plans for the district school of instruction were discussed and a committee named with Mrs. E. G. Waring chairman to have charge of a tea to be given September 20 for the members of the faculty and the new P.-T. A. members

The object of the executive committee meetings was given by Mrs. Armstrong, who explained that plans and projects of the organization were whipped into shape, in order that they might be presented in concise and intelligible form to the organization at the regular meeting time, and voted upon.

Officers and chairmen of standing committees who will officiate during the coming year are president, Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, first vice-president, Mrs. D. I. Garrett, second vice-president, Mrs. L. B. Chambers, secretary, Mrs. W. C. Oliver, treasurer, Mrs. H. F. Fluker, chairman of the program committee, Mrs. L. B. Chambers, chairman of hospitality committee, Mrs. E. G. Waring, publications chairman, Mrs. E. S. Hilburn, chairman of finance and budget committee, Mrs. P. I. Sandman, membership, Mrs. G. A. Aden.

Plans for the district school of instruction to be held Thursday, September 16 at the Crosley school in West Monroe are being formulated and much interest is being shown in preparations for the event. The hours will be from 9:30 a. m., until 3:30 p. m.

At a meeting held at the home of the council president, Mrs. King Hunt, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Rhes McCook, Mrs. G. A. Aden and Mrs. W. S. Vincent were named on a committee to be in charge of refreshments and Mrs. W. H. Armstrong was named chairman of the decoration committee. Mrs. Carl Couch, district director will preside during the meeting, and will be assisted by Mrs. Armstrong, associate director.

Guest speakers during the day will be Mrs. Albert Smith, state president of the Louisiana P.-T. A. and Mrs. E. Fay Walter of Winnsboro, first vice-president.

All presidents of organizations throughout the district as well as other officers and members are urged to attend the meeting.

A wedding of interest and one that came as a surprise to their many friends was that of Miss Lucille Clark, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Turner and Mr. Will Haden Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Griffin of Collinston. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist parsonage in Monroe Friday night, September 3, with Rev. A. D. Langston officiating. The bride wore a beautiful black crepe dress trimmed with white lace and wore black accessories. Mr. Griffin attended Northeast Center at Monroe and is now engaged in business in Collinston where the couple will make their home.

If you have been fortunate enough to visit Williamsburg in Virginia, or if you have read about its restoration, you realize that it constitutes a glorious gift to the American people, a historic shrine magnificently restored.

Here in The Williamsburg Galleries, we have followed the spirit of that fine enterprise by bringing you adaptations of the furnishings of "The Golden Age of Graciousness" created or assembled to meet modern living conditions.

You will find in them a balance nicely contrived to suit present-day life—a balance of designs true to the period, superior craftsmanship, fine finish and in-built values which make the prices distinctly moderate.

Here goes a-Shopping

Being a chronicle of the things she saw and the things she bought on a shopping tour with the merchants of the Twin Cities yesterday.

AT GRANT'S I ran into the best bargain of the season. More than 3,000 pieces of "POUND PRINTS" in short lengths of from ½ yard to 7 and 8 yards. Prints that sell anywhere for 25c to 35c per yard and GRANT'S BRINGS THEM TO YOU IN TIME FOR SCHOOL DRESSES . . . HOUSE DRESSES . . . STREET DRESSES . . . DRAPES . . . PILLOW TOPS . . . SLIP COVERS, etc., at only 10c per yard. Go to Grant's the first thing tomorrow morning and buy your needs for every member of the family . . . and your home. No two pieces alike . . . and what lovely material. I was told they purchased these short lengths from a well known factory in a huge amount. Only 10c per yard . . . and right when we need such materials for a new season.

I VISITED several of the new homes this week . . . and, of course, you can guess what a thrill I got when I saw the beautiful kitchens . . . Inlaid Armstrong Linoleum in special cut designs of various colors to blend with the wall and furniture was featured in almost every home. I learned from the builders that DIXIE BEDDING & FURNITURE COMPANY is supplying most of these jobs . . . and what credit is due them. I visited their home service department and was shown the entire ARMSTRONG set-up . . . A suggested floor, a drape and wall colors in large hand-painted charts make it an enjoyable and easy task to select your new fall color scheme for your home. Phone 362 . . . ask for a representative to visit your home and suggest a new floor of ARMSTRONG . . . Yes, and how about your Venetian Blinds? . . . Dixie can supply you with the ever popular and dependable WARREN BLIND.

MADEIRA ISLANDS . . . Gee! . . . wouldn't you love to visit this country? . . . Well, it was almost like a visit to this foreign land this week when I visited YORK LINEN SHOPS. I watched them unpack huge boxes of beautiful hand-made fancy work from these far-off lands and among them were the most exquisite Madeira Pillow Cases that are going to sell for only $1.98 per pair. I was told that they ordinarily sell for $2.95 elsewhere. There were bundles and boxes also from the Philippine Islands. By the way . . . I found a most beautiful group of Candlewick Bedspreads that you will not only love for their colors and designs but they are priced so reasonably . . . $1.25, sells elsewhere for $2.35 . . . $1.95, sells elsewhere for $2.95 . . . and $2.98, sells elsewhere for $4.50 . . . I especially liked the colored Breakfast Sets with 6 matching napkins, size 54x54, selling for only $1.00.

HUSBANDS need wish no longer that nice little "wifey" would learn to make delicious hot "homade" rolls like her neighbor on the other side of town . . . because Jitney Jungle's North Fourth Street Bakery has captured the secret and tomorrow they will have ready for you the most delicious "homade" rolls called "Buttercup" rolls . . . folded, my dears, into petals like a buttercup. Fill the folds with fresh butter and set them in a warm oven for a moment . . . Pronto . . . you have a plate fit for a king . . . 15c per dozen . . . Another treat you will find that is as new as tomorrow . . . is LEMON CHEESE CAKE in three sizes—15c, 24c, 49c. Fresh grated lemon rind is used in making this cake. A tasty filling is made of fresh butter, egg yolk and grated lemon. After the cake is spread with this luscious mixture, it is sprinkled with fine grated cheese. Gee! it sure is good. Mothers, since school began . . . better keep the cookie box filled with Crown Rolls, Cinnamon Rolls, Cookies and Pineapple Buns. You'll find all these goodies at Jitney Jungle North Fourth Street Bakery.

YES! . . . The teacher and students go back to school smartly . . . (If she chooses her man-tailored suit from the new woolens at FINK'S) . . . It's the one Tailoring Shop that can assure her of a perfect fit . . . (and who wants a suit that hangs on your figure from every point?) . . . Fink has been kept busy for weeks finishing up and taking measurements for women's Man-Tailored Suits . . . These suits put the accent on YOU with a new, new silhouette so wanted in today's fashions. The new woolens are arriving every day and a SUIT made at FINK'S costs you no more than an ordinary suit that is ready made. . . . So . . . Go to Fink's tomorrow . . . get an individual fit . . . and be fitted throughout the styling of the suit.

GIRLS . . . GIRLS . . . GIRLS . . . So there is going to be "big doings" in the south end of Monroe Tuesday, September 21 . . . The merchants have set their plans to "find out who is the most popular girl in the Twin Cities" and one of the most interesting "Popularity Contests" is now under way. Did you see the notices posted in the various stores in South Monroe of the many girls who have already entered, lending their support to this lively group of merchants? . . . Of course, the lovely silver engraved trophy that is the first prize is being sought by every contestant. Well, there are so many prizes and nice things in store for the winner . . . you'll just have to call at 2505 Lover's lane, which is "headquarters" for the South Side Merchants' Party . . . The committee will explain in detail the whole affair. Be sure to read the full page advertisement in today's issue.

SCHOOL BELLS are ringing . . . and that bell not only calls for more and more wearing apparel but always a fresh, clean outfit every day. The Monroe Steam Laundry is ready now to clean up your wardrobe for the school days that are to come. Before the rush . . . why don't you have this cleaning job done . . . How about that winter coat or suit or dress? . . . Get it out . . . have it fitted again . . . who knows . . . maybe you lost those pounds that you wanted to lose last season. . . . After you have made the necessary alterations . . . Call 102 and 103 for a good cleaning job that the Monroe Steam Laundry is noted for and "pronto" . . . you have a brand spanking new outfit for the small cost of cleaning it.

I SAW A PREVIEW of the picture that is being shown today at the PARAMOUNT . . . called "Topper." I really got a new "wrinkle" from the laughs it gave me. It is screamingly funny . . . really! . . . Sights you'd never believe. Camera gone wild! Unbelievable tricks of photography that will make you gasp. Never before on the screen! And each one a HOWL! Why how could you photograph an invisible blonde beauty taking a shower? How could that strange auto drive itself with nobody at the wheel? A big cast of favorite stars, 6 of 'em—and they were never funnier! Connie Bennett and Cary Grant romancin' for fun—plus Roland Young and Billie Burke (as Mr. and Mrs. Topper), Alan Mowbray, Eugene Pallette. It is farce comedy of the highest order, smart in production, captivating as diversion. By all means see "Topper," you'll enjoy it at the performance and every time you think of it.

THAT CRUNCHY, flaky, tender toast you have heard about so much lately is Mel-O-Toast. The sensation of any dining table. It makes every meal a treat . . . and every bite of it tastes like more. Of course you have tried it sprinkled with butter and cinnamon . . . or with cheese and jelly or just plain toast or untoasted? Women are serving "Mel-O-Toast" at their bridge parties. Toasted sticks topped with cream cheese and nut meats. Try it . . . Get it fresh at any grocery store. The City Bakery on North Fourth street bakes this new treat.

COLLEGE STUDENTS . . . let me suggest that you take a new style kodak back to school with you. . . . Pictures made on the campus with your chums will keep memories of those happy days fresh always. Send mother and dad a kodak picture often . . . send them to your friends and family . . . include snap shots in your college memory book . . . photograph yesterday's memories for tomorrow's joy. Griffin's Studio has a complete line of kodaks and supplies . . . including movie cameras.

D. MASUR & SONS store makes a specialty of fitting "odd-sized men and boys" in smart clothing. If you are a 7 ft. 2 incher or a 4-footer . . . you can usually go to the racks and pick up a suit that will fit you so perfectly that you could almost vouch that it was made for you. Maybe you are a very fat man with lots and lots of height. . . . Well, you can be served, too! Fine wearing apparel like Hart Schaffner & Marx, Campus Togs, etc., are featured by this store that has been serving men and boys since 1889. The new fall patterns are now on display.

Miss Netterville Marries Wilson Coit

Impressive Wedding Held At Newellton

Reception Held After Ceremony At 'Balmoral,' Plantation Home Of Bride's Parents

The Union church in Newellton was the scene of a beautiful wedding when Miss Elizabeth Netterville, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Howard Netterville, and Mr. Wilson Lindsay Coit of Ferriday, were united in marriage in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends. Rev. Joseph Keunhle of Natchez officiated.

A color scheme of white and green was reflected in masses of white asters and fern. White tapers in tall white standards entwined with fern, were placed at the four corners of the church and flanked on the chancel. Princess baskets of white asters and fern flanked the altar, where ferns formed a solid background.

Before the ceremony, appropriate selections were played by Mrs. George Bland, pianist. "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "O Promise Me" were beautifully rendered by Miss Minnie Allen of Utica, Miss.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin, and Mendelssohn's Wedding march was played as a recessional. The bride had as her attendants Mrs. Frank Burnside, Mrs. Glen Stinson, Miss Helen Ray Coit, a niece of the groom, Miss Annie Laurie Smith of St. Francisville, La., as bridesmaids, Mrs. Claude Earnest, of St. Joseph, as matron of honor, and Miss Naomi Newell as maid of honor. The little nieces of the bride, Wilma and Mildred Rountree, small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rountree of St. Joseph, were flower girls. Charles Whetstone, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whetstone of St. Joseph, acted as ring bearer, carrying the ring on a white satin cushion.

The bridegroom had as his best man Mr. Daniel Donald of Tallulah. The groomsmen were Mr. Clyde Ratcliff, Jr., Mr. Robert Williams, Mr. Brenham Carruthers and Mr. Hugh Bateman.

The bride's attendants wore charming frocks of white taffeta, with puffed sleeves and flaring skirts. They carried bouquets of deep rose asters, tied with tulle of the same shade. The grooms, best man, groomsmen and the little ringbearer wore white linen suits with boutonnieres of white asters and fern.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, Mr. James Howard Netterville, wore a beautiful wedding gown of white satin made on princess lines with long sleeves. The bodice was trimmed with lace and seed pearls with panels of lace in the skirt. Unusually effective and beautiful was the arrangement of her veil of illusion and lace which encircled her head cap effect with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at "Balmoral," the plantation home of the bride's parents. The bride's table in the dining room was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with the beautiful wedding cake decorated with tiny Cupids, silver roses, silver leaves and surmounted with a miniature wedding bell.

Many handsome presents were displayed in the living room. Iced punch was served by Mrs. David Guthrie and Mrs. Alice Baxter of St. Joseph. Mrs. Netterville was assisted in receiving by the bride and groom and the bridal party.

The bride's going away gown was a smart navy blue crepe trimmed with white and a navy felt hat with accessories of navy. After a week's honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Coit will be at home to their friends at their home in Ferriday.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. A. B. Coit, and Mrs. Coit's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coit, all of Enterprise, Miss., and Mr. Howard Netterville of Memphis, Tenn.

Initial Luncheon Of Charity League Held

Members, Gathering At First Fall Meeting, Discuss Plans For 'Follies'

Now that the lazy days under the summer sun have slipped into the realm of pleasant memories, members of the Junior Charity league gather their forces and prepare for a year of great activity in the name of "sweet charity."

Their initial fall luncheon at the Virginia hotel yesterday at one o'clock found the majority of members home from their summer wanderings, greatly refreshed and eager for work.

The main project of the year, will be the Junior League Follies to be presented next month under the direction of a New York theatrical agency whose representative will arrive in the city early in October.

Mrs. Nathan Gaston, the new president, presided over the flower banked table where a four course luncheon was served to: Mrs. Joseph Dawkins, Mrs. Harold Mouk, Mrs. Walter Kellogg, Mrs. Briscoe Torusdale, Jr., Mrs. Neil Buie, Mrs. Mackie Boyd, Mrs. Milling Bernstein, Mrs. John Blackman, Mrs. King Stubbs, Mrs. Robert Layton, Mrs. Henry Hinkle, Jr., Mrs. Hunter Thatcher, Mrs. Bernard Biedenharn, Mrs. Mike Wimberry, Mrs. Bridger Thornhill, Mrs. Thomas Davenport, Mrs. Thomas Munholland, Mrs. Thomas Frazer, Mrs. John Theus, Mrs. Elliott Thompson, Mrs. Ted Allen, Mrs. Victor Davis, Mrs. George Snellings, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mrs. Walter Black, Mrs. S. A. Mrs. Hugh Lennon Gives Boat Party

Mrs. Hugh Lennon's boating party was a refreshing interlude in last week's social activities for a group of congenials who enjoyed to the fullest the informality of the occasion. The serving of refreshments, buffet style, was a feature of the afternoon.

Mrs. Lennon's guests included Mrs. S. E. Huey, Mrs. S. Girault, Mrs. Joseph Ramey, Mrs. W. Riley, Mrs. M. Underwood, Mrs. Leonard Shlenker, Mrs. Joseph Dawkins, Mrs. A. J. McGinn, Mrs. E. K. Theus, Mrs. Frances Barringer, Mrs. J. Fouracres.

Oak Grove Club Wins High Honor

Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, president of the fifth district of the Louisiana Federation of Women's clubs, announces that the Women's Department club of Oak Grove has been chosen the outstanding club in the fifth district.

This club has been under the guidance and leadership of Mrs. W. Dollerhide as president. A few of their worthwhile projects and accomplishments are listed as follows: Eleven children fitted with glasses; two emergency loan chests to the maternity and child welfare nurse of the health unit; a donation for cancer control; a donation to the Norma Overby scholarship fund. They have also participated in many beautification projects, outstanding being the planting of 182 trees, including Christmas trees, live oaks, seedling pines, crepe myrtles and magnolias.

Their safety committee has been active in the interest of public safety.

The club has a membership of 45 active women, thereby winning them the honor of being chosen the outstanding club in the fifth district.

Mrs. Julia Arnold, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., announces the completion of the program arranged in connection with the annual drive commencing September 20. A coffee hour at the "Y" on Friday morning at 10 o'clock will bring members together to discuss plans. Hostesses will be Mrs. Curtis Seamon, Mrs. Joseph Brown and Mrs. Courtney Oliver.

Friends of Mrs. J. Lloyd Warren, who has been a patient at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel clinic, where she recently underwent an operation, were pleased to learn Saturday that her condition is greatly improved. Mrs. Warren is now able to receive friends, it was announced by her physician.

Fifth District Federated Women's Clubs Ready For Year Of Much Activity

Opening Meetings To Get Under Way Soon

Importance Of Work Of Organizations' Publicity Departments Stressed

Elaborate and far-reaching plans have been perfected by members of the fifth district federated women's clubs of Louisiana for the approaching year. Next week will witness the initial meetings of all clubs, with new officers presiding and crisp new year books distributed among the members.

Presidents of all clubs are facing a strenuous year but the most difficult office to fill is that of publicity chairman and press reporter. In years past, the reporter often left a hurried scrawl on scraps of paper on the editor's desk expecting to see a glowing account of the meeting appear in the next edition. Reports over the telephone were not uncommon in those days. Today all this has been changed and press reporters find themselves confronted with the job of typing all articles sent to the editor's desk for publication. For the benefit of new reporters, a word regarding the strict enforcement of these requirements will avoid future misunderstandings.

Reports will not be received over the telephone and will not be printed unless typed or written plainly in long hand. Even though the editor might be inclined to discriminate, time prevents. Deadlines must be observed.

The blue ribbon for bravery and endurance should be hung reverently on the neck of the telephone committeewoman, for it is truly the job of jobs—thankless and nerve-wrecking.

From being president of the United States to working as an extra clerk during the Christmas rush, there is no experience in meeting the public like that of the woman who pledges herself to club work on the telephone. It will teach you more of your fellow club members than a thousand meetings.

After hearing the bitter tales of those who survived this herculean task, one's better judgment says, "No, no, don't ever accept such a burden. Get out of it any way you can, but get out of it you must."

But these tactful persons who approach you are past masters of the art. They have that way about them that makes you feel so important. A committeewoman who served faithfully and well tells of the approach in this manner. "After great deliberation, my dear, you have been especially chosen for your finesse and dependability to fill this particular niche. It is the most important of all our contacts and you'll become acquainted with every member." Certainly you are flattered. Suddenly you feel you must be indispensable to the organization. You've been honored! Then the first thing you know you've done it—accepted! And now that you're in for it you get the first knockout blow.

There are only 25 on your list—just 25 persons to call at least once a month, to notify about changes of meetings, for flower collections, and special funds and holiday contributions. For no woman's club can go a whole year without some member in the hospital, and now and then a baby born. But these are the minor calls.

It's the telephoning for dues that really floors one. Money does not roll in with the mere asking. You almost have to bare your own soul to get that 50 cents per head. In order to get 25 paid up memberships you have to humble yourself till a worm looks like a glorified bit of life to you. You may have to inquire for all members of a family, even solicitiously asking, "And how is your dear mother managing with her new set of teeth?"

There will be exasperating minutes of wasted time before you can bring yourself to the point of your call. With fear and trembling you finally launch forth on the important issue. And this is the acid test of your ability as a telephone committeewoman.

All at once you find yourself cut off. At first you think it a faulty connection, but a telephone can't automatically fail you at the mention of 50 cents. And a reminder of delinquent dues can bring more iciness than borrowing money from a relative.

Then there are food calls about who's to bring what and "transportation calls" till you wish every member had to walk for her health. Hour after hour you must sit at your telephone with twitching nerves and raw elbows.

On the other hand this telephone committee does have its redeeming angle. That is if you remain optimistic enough to see it.

It may serve as a good racket to legitimately excuse you from accepting other obligations you don't care to accept. It will appeal to any woman's sacrificial nature to say something like this:

"Oh, thank you so much, Mrs. Whiffle. I regret I can't accept your kind invitation. I'd adore hearing your enlightening paper, but I'll be on the telephone now continuously for weeks. Yes, a mere telephone committee, my dear, but when one accepts an obligation one must carry on, mustn't one?"

Too, it is so pleasant and gratifying to find so many people on your list who dislike the same people you do. And occasiionally you can pick up a good recipe and hear something pleasant.

Again, you may fall into news that never gets into print. While no woman exactly approves of gossip—well, sometimes one has to listen. One can't be rude.

As a hint to those who get roped into this service let one who has served suggest a priceless pastime while sitting those hours at the telephone. Hang a mirror over your stand and study your best facial expressions, remember television is about to swoop down upon us. You can watch your gray hairs grow, count your wrinkles and massage your double chin with the hand not in use. At times you'll believe all women who answer the telephone fall into two groups, ladies or fishwives.

To live a well-rounded life it has been said that you should pile up all the varied experiences you can. While you may never thumb your way across country nor sleep a night in the park, you will have added something, equally as unforgettable to your life after having served on a telephone committee. Turn to yourself and ask, "Did I ever answer rudely?" A telephone committee job will make you a lady on the telephone, even if your mother failed to give you proper training.

Mrs. Rubie G. Eustis, worthy grand matron of Louisiana, Order of the Eastern Star, will make an official visit to the following chapters:

Priscilla, Pinehurst, at De Ridder, on September 13; Sabine, at Many, on September 14; Mt. Carmel, Katherine B, at Florien, on September 15; Esther, at Leesville, on September 16; Corona, at Pitkin, September 17.

Mrs. Clyde Mitchell and Mrs. B. Poimbeouf are spending a few days in Dallas enjoying the Pan-American exposition as the guests of relatives.

Monroe Teachers' Association Meets

The Monroe City Teachers' association held its first social and business meeting of the school year in the auditorium at the Barkdull Faulk school on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, president of the Neville P.-T. A., gave an interesting talk on what the parents expect of the schools. She stressed the need for thorough school work, for training in right ideals, and for a sympathetic understanding among pupils, parents and teachers.

Following Mrs. Armstrong's address, Miss Katherine May contributed a lovely vocal number and Miss Julia Wossman talked on the subject of work of the curriculum class at L. S. U.

Miss Myrtle Rodgers talked on the subject of curriculum study for the year.

A charming social hour permitted Miss Clara Hall, Miss Julia Wossman, Miss Sara Bres and Mrs. Jesse Grandberry to serve refreshing frappe and confections in the Kaliski Memorial library, which has just been dedicated and open to the pupils and faculty of Barkdull Faulk school.

The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Childers of West Monroe was the inspiration for a family reunion and the assembling of old friends in the home of their grandson, Mr. Lloyd Walters, and Mrs. Walters, Thursday evening.

The evening was devoted to happy reminiscences with Mr. and Mrs. Childers, the central figures, receiving with deep appreciation the manifestations of love and esteem.

The high moment of the evening was the cutting of the luscious wedding cake by the celebrants, who recalled at this time their wedding day 50 years ago.

Their son, Mr. Lee Childers, whose birthday anniversary was observed on this memorable occasion, shared in the pleasures of the evening.

Handsome gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Childers, who were also showered with felicitations and messages expressing the good wishes of friends.

Mrs. W. E. Boyett and daughters, Gewn and Winifred, of Pollock, were the guests last week of Mrs. H. C. Riggin.

Mrs. Clyde Jackson of New York City will be a guest this week of Misses Bernice, Opal and Georgia McCoy.

Mr. Thomas Sullivan will leave next week for Boston, Mass., to continue his study of engineering at Boston Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Howe and Miss Wilsie Howe of West Monroe, are enjoying a motor tour of Florida. A card tells of the beauties of Rainbow Springs, where the glass-bottom boats permit a view of the underwater scenery.

Miss Dorothy Calvert will leave this week for L. S. U., where she will be a member of the senior class.

Mrs. Ted Mahr and two children, Ted, Jr., and Mary Elizabeth, have returned from Boston, Mass., where they spent the entire summer with Mrs. Mahr's mother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, Jr., and son, Harry Williams III, are enjoying a visit in Mineral Wells, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Mr. Carl Metcalf, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, will leave this week for Atlanta, where he will attend Georgia Tech.

Friends of Mrs. T. E. Humphries will be glad to know that she is convalescing nicely from a recent appendectomy at St. Francis sanitarium.

Members of Delta Beta Sigma will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Miss Beverly Peevy.

Mrs. Henry E. Weldon and Ann Weldon of Alexandria were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. H. Benoit.

Miss Marjorie Renshaw has returned from Alexandria, where she attended the Hanley-Pratt nuptials.

Miss Hilda Ann Hair will be a member of the Gilbert school faculty this year.

Mr. Truard Breard, who underwent an operation several months ago, continues ill at his home on DeSiard road, to the regret of his many friends.

Miss Beryl Madison, who obtained her master's degree at the state university this summer, has accepted a position at the university and will not return to Monroe. Friends regret exceedingly her decision to remain in Baton Rouge.

Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shlenker and two children, Betty and Leonard, Jr., have returned home from a three months' visit in Los Angeles and nearby mountain resorts, as the guests of Mrs. Shlenker's sister. Dr. Shlenker joined his family in Los Angeles for a two weeks' visit and returned home with them.

Mrs. W. C. Tanner and son Edwin Gray have returned home after a visit in Junction City, Ark. Mr. Tanner will resume his studies at the state university where he is taking a pre-medical course.

SEPTEMBER 15th LAST DAY!
Act Now Before It Is Too Late!
Five minutes time NOW may mean $5,000 to you. It's your golden opportunity. Don't delay one minute longer. All entries must be postmarked before midnight September 15th. Entries postmarked after that time cannot be accepted. So send in your names for the Snowdrift men before it's too late. Think up your name suggestions. Get your Snowdrift. Mail your entry today.

READ THESE SIMPLE RULES
1—Think of your suggestion for naming the little Snowdrift men pictured here. "Bake and Fry", for instance; or the "Freshness Twins"; the "Creaminess Boys", Snow and Drift" or "The Goodness Team." Write your suggestion on any kind of paper or on the entry blank. Print plainly your name and address, and name and address of your grocer.
2—Buy a can of Snowdrift. Unwind the metal strip that seals any size Snowdrift can. Clip off that portion of the wording on the strip which says, "We look in all its goodness." Enclose this piece of strip in envelope with your name suggestion and addresses, and mail to "Award Editor, P. O. Box 994, New Orleans, La." That constitutes an entry. Entries will not be considered unless metal strip accompanies each name suggestion. For example, "Bake and Fry" needs one strip; "The Creaminess Boys" one strip.
3—Every entry, duly accompanied by metal strip, will be acknowledged, and in appreciation we will mail you a coupon acceptable by your grocer as 10c against the purchase of your next 3 or 6 pound can of Snowdrift. Because of the large number of suggestions, we cannot enter into any further correspondence with any entrant. No entry will be returned.
4—Contest closes September 15th, 1937. All entries must be postmarked prior to midnight of that date. All entries become the property of the Wesson Oil and Snowdrift Sales Company. Judging will be directed by one of the Calkins & Holden Advertising Agency of New York, and (the Lasker) Advertising Agency of New Orleans. Decision of the judges will be final. Anyone may submit suggestions, in conformity with the rules, except employees of the Wesson Oil & Snowdrift People, their advertising agencies, or their families.
Duplicate awards will be made in case of ties. A complete list of winners will be published as soon after decision as possible.
5—State awards will be made only to entrants from states listed in this advertisement, but the 364 other prizes are open to any one in the U. S. except as specified in Rule No. 4.
WESSON OIL AND SNOWDRIFT PEOPLE . . . NEW ORLEANS, LA.

FREE 10c COUPON
For each complete entry you send us, we will send you a coupon worth 10c on the purchase of a 3-lb. or 6-lb. can of Snowdrift. A double opportunity to save money and earn money. Take advantage of this 10c-a-can saving on Snowdrift and use this opportunity to earn one of the big cash awards.

Constance Bennett, Cary Grant Starred In 'Topper'

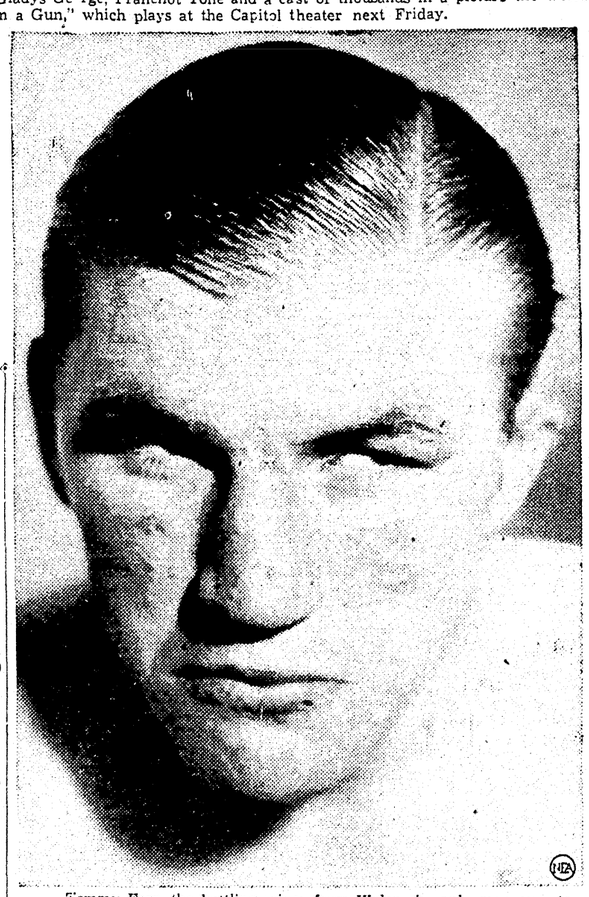
Bing Crosby has heart and hands full with Mary Carlisle and Martha Raye in his latest comedy, "Double or Nothing," which opens Tuesday at the Paramount theater.

The filmization of Thorne Smith's deliciously delirious comedy, "Topper," brings to the screen four of the merriest laugh-makers in Hollywood. From left to right they are: Roland Young as "Mr. Topper," Constance Bennett as "Marion Kerby," Cary Grant as "George Kerby" and Billie Burke as "Mrs. Topper." This newest and funniest of the Hal Roach feature comedy productions plays at the Paramount theater today and Monday.

A scene from the great sequel to "All Quiet on the Western Front," "The Road Back," featuring John King, Richard Cromwell, Slim Summerville, Andy Devine and Barbara Read, playing at the Paramount next Friday and Saturday.

Spencer Tracy, Gladys George, Franchot Tone and a cast of thousands in a picture the world will talk about, "They Gave Him a Gun," which plays at the Capitol theater next Friday.

The laugh star of "Wake Up and Live," Jack Haley awakens to love when he meets Rochelle Hudson in "She Had to Eat," the feature attraction at the Capitol theater Thursday.



Tommy Farr, the battling miner from Wales, the only man ever to stay 15 rounds with the world's heavyweight champion, Joe Louis. The official, authentic motion pictures of the fight taken direct from the ringside, Yankee stadium, New York, will be shown in conjunction with the feature attraction, "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Capitol theater.

Preston Foster and Jean Muir in Bret Harte's "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," which plays in conjunction with the Louis-Farr fight pictures at the Capitol theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Hal Roach Feature-Length Comedy Opens Engagement Today

THE astounding adventures of Mr. Cosmo Topper, sedate Wall Street bank president, who was destined to take part in hilarious and ribald escapades with sundry madcap gentry of another world, is transcribed from Thorne Smith's sensational novel to the screen in the new Hal Roach feature-length comedy, "Topper," which comes to the Paramount theater for the next two days.

Constance Bennett and Cary Grant are co-starred as the young married couple who, upon meeting a violent death, find themselves imprisoned in spiritual space and who can only advance to a higher plane (presumably heaven) by achieving one good deed. Their idea of a good deed is reconstructing the staidly normal life of Cosmo Topper.

Roland Young as "Topper" finds the ethereal couple a source of constant embarrassment in their material and invisible efforts in his behalf. They upset his henpecked life with his domineering wife, played by Billie Burke. How they flit in and about astounded natives, how they pursue an incredible series of adventures across a bewildered countryside, lifts "Topper" from the rut of his snug existence and makes of him a disreputable but happy human being.

Thorne Smith, the author, dedicated one of his "Topper" books, "Topper Takes a Trip," to Roland Young, which corroborates the studio's idea of casting Young for his role in the new picture.

Norman Z. McLeod, fresh from his succes sof directing Bing Crosby in "Pennies From Heaven," directed "Topper." The screen play is the work of Jack Jevne, Eric Hatch and Eddie Moran.

A supporting cast of well known players is headed by Alan Mowbray and Eugene Pallette, and also includes Arthur Lake, Hedda Hopper, Virginia Sale, Theodore Von Eltz, J. Farrell McDonald, Elaine Shepard, Doodles, Si Jinks and the "Three Hits and a Miss."

Photographic effects, highly technical and spectacular on the screen, are introduced in "Topper" to portray the startling and hilarious episodes of beautiful ghosts fluttering through space.

An elaborate physical mounting was given the production. Anthony Garrity, well-known artist who contributes sketches to "Esquire" and other publications, was brought from New York by the Hal Roach studios to design and personally supervise a futuristic automobile roadster which is filmed in much of the action. An ultra-modern streamline railroad coach was created by A. I. Royce of the Roach art department.

"Topper" is being heralded as another "My Man Godfrey," the original story for which was authored by Eric Hatch, who did the dialogue for "Topper."

RAYVILLE LEGION INSTALLS OFFICERS

Installation of officers of Tommie Cook post No. 122, of the American Legion, was held at Rayville, September 9. The following officers were installed by Sam Orchard, fifth district commander: A. J. Willis, commander; G. R. Moon, first vice-commander; Fred E. Doucier, second vice-commander; J. W. Dorsey, adjutant and finance officer; Dr. J. C. Sartor, service officer; Rev. L. N. Hoffpauir, chaplain; R. M. Dillard, sergeant-at-arms; Ernest G. Brown, historian; Hugh J. Stodghill, George B. Franklin, Dr. J. C. Sartor, Warren Hunt and E. G. Brown, executive committee members.

This post the past year, under the leadership of A. J. Willis, made an excellent record in membership, having a total of 116 members and exceeding the stipulated quota.

The post recently suffered the loss by death of Robert E. Whatley, who had been first vice-commander the past year, and who was to have been installed in the same office.

G. R. Moon had been elected to serve as second vice-commander, but by unanimous voice, he was elected to fill the office of first vice-commander and Fred E. Doucier was then elected to fill the office of second vice-commander vacated by G. R. Moon.

Immediately following the installation, refreshments were served.

CLAIBORNE SCHOOL NOT TO OPEN ON MONDAY

All schools of the city and parish will open Monday for the fall term with the exception of Claiborne school of the parish system located west of West Monroe. This school will not open because of the presence of two cases of infantile paralysis in that vicinity.

Dr. Douglas Williams, director of the Ouachita parish health unit, stated Saturday that while there is no cause for alarm, it had been deemed wisest to defer opening the Claiborne school for a few days.

PARISH SCHOOL BAND TO PRESENT CONCERT TODAY

The Ouachita Parish High school band will give a concert on the campus of the parish grammar school, South Grand street, today at 3:30 p.m.

Walter Minniear, brand leader, announced that the program will be as follows: "America," "Commander March," "The Grenadiers," "Dear Old South," "Corinthian Overture," "Trombone Toboggan," "Over the Top," "Nonette Waltz," "Star Dust," "El Capatain," "Grandiose Overture," "Star Spangled Banner."

'Girl Loves Boy' Shows At Capitol

Eric Linden And Cecilia Parker Starred In Romantic Roles

ROMANCE, the essence of youth, and the tribulations which so frequently accompany it, form the basic elements in the theme of "Girl Loves Boy," the B. F. Ziedman Grand National picture, which will open today at the Capitol theater, with Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker, the popular young romantic team, in the starring roles.

According to Manager Bicknell of the Capitol theater, "Girl Loves Boy" marks a new high point in the careers of these favorite young screen lovers, who appear in their fourth consecutive screen success as a team in this picture. Many will recall them as the young lovers in MGM's "Ah, Wilderness," where they scored sensationally, and later in "Old Hutch" with Wallace Beery. More recently, in their previous B. F. Zeidman production, "Sins Of Children," which was the premier production on the Grand National program, they registered another screen triumph.

A strong supporting cast includes Roger Imhof, Bernadene Hayes, Dorothy Peterson, Pedro de Cordoba, Patsy O'Connor, Rollo Lloyd, Buster Phelps, Spencer Charters, Sherwood Bailey and many others. Duncan Mansfield directed.

Many marvels of the kingdom of Neptune, as well as thrilling views of the fierce monsters who inhabit it are shown in "Killers of the Sea," an added attraction picture starring Captain Wallace Casewell, Jr., the famous Florida fishfighter, which will also be shown at the Capitol theater today.

For years Captain Casewell has made a specialty of killing and capturing the huge killer fish, which abound in the Gulf of Mexico in a fashion that no other man has ever attempted. Armed only with a knife, he attacks them in their own element and only once has he come off second best in one of these dangerous encounters. That was when a great 20-foot broadbilled saw fish gashed his forehead with a sweep of its terrible, jagged weapon and nearly put an end to his hunting for good.

It was months before the intrepid captain was able to take the sea trail again, and today the entire front of his forehead has a five-inch silver plate under the skin to replace the shattered skull bone.

All killer fish are regarded by the captain as his natural enemies. But his favorite opponents are the tiger and leopard shark, the great man-eaters, which are the rapacious lords of the gulf, or the huge Mantas who bulk as big as a small auto truck, but are far more dangerous.

In "Killers of the Sea," the Manta vanquished by the captain, who is called the "Man of Steel" because of the great strength needed in his odd calling, weighed over sixteen hundred pounds, but was regarded by the captain as a small specimen. The tiger shark he killed before the camera in the open sea was eighteen feet in length and weighed nearly a ton.

OFFICE OPENED BY FAIR ASSOCIATION

The Ouachita Valley Fair association has opened a downtown office in the Coates building on Trenton street in West Monroe, with Webb Goodlett in charge.

Mr. Goodlett will be in charge of the clerical work in connection with the issuance of season tickets to families, and keeping of records and other office details.

Tables, benches, platforms and other necessary adjuncts have been constructed, stated John Birdsong, manager. They will be built in units so that they may be easily removed after the fair, leaving the large building available for other uses until the 1938 fair.

Three-lane highways are much more dangerous than those with only two opposed traffic lanes, according to officials of the state-wide highway planning survey of the Louisiana highway commission.

Study Shows Typical City Paint Needs

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Illustrative of the volume of painting work, both interior and exterior, necessary in a typical city after several years of neglected property maintenance work, is a current report to the Federal Housing Administration from Elizabeth, N. J.

Out of a total of nearly 4,000 property repair jobs unearthed in a canvass conducted by the committee, 1,063 were for exterior painting(which topped the list) and 996 were for interior decoration (second on the list).

The following is the break-down of a total of 3.960 jobs actually going forward at the present time, involving a total expenditure of $724,086:

	Number of jobs	Costs
Exterior painting	1,063	$210,848
Interior decoration	996	112,819
General repairs	389	72.773
Miscellaneous	339	93,337
New siding and shingling	292	94,542
Carpentry	224	21,086
Roofing repairs	171	14,784
Plumbing	150	19,777
Heating systems	119	47,758
Roofing	116	29,661
Heating repairs	101	6,701
Total	3,960	724,086

This New Jersey Better Housing committee reported its canvass turned up a total of $1,069,250 in work pledged but the $724,086 represents the proportion actually carried out, as revealed in a unique recheck.

AD SERIES BACKS HOUSING PROGRAM

TUCSON, Ariz.—A valuable educational aid to the general program of the Federal Housing Administration has been included in recent issues of the Arizona Catholic Herald.

A 10-week series of full-page display advertisements built around the general subject of better homes is under way in this publication and includes simplified discussions of the modernization credit plan and the single-mortgage system. Further information pertaining to the program is being distributed around the subject of the Phoenix Union High school model home.

CONSIDER 40 HOUSES UNDER INSURED PLAN

WARREN, Ark.—A movement is under way here to provide for the construction of 40 houses under the Federal Housing Administration's Single Mortgage System. The Arkansas offices of the Federal Housing Administration have been informed by the president of the Merchants & Planters Bank in Warren that such a need exists in the community. Other housing needs in various parts of the state include 25 homes in Jonesboro, 10 in Oscelo, and 20 in Paragould, and construction involving $85,000 in West Memphis, Earle and Marion.

'ONE-MAN CLINIC' GROUPS ORGANIZED

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The United National Bank of Long Island has arranged with the New York state office of the Federal Housing administration to use the services of its special financial representative in conducting a series of "one man mortgage clinics." The bank is running a series of advertisements in Long Island and Manhattan newspapers advising the public to consult representatives of the Federal Housing administration at their four branches where the clinics will be conducted. The schedule and dates for the clinics are included in the advertisements.

SELECTING A NEIGHBORHOOD

If you are buying or building, it is advisable to consider carefully the character of neighborhood in which you should settle.

Try to select one where the people already established there are of your own income class and otherwise congenial. Do not let the physical beauty of the spot carry you away if the surroundings are poorly developed. There is no money or satisfaction in trying to raise the tone of a neighborhood; it seldom works.

Don't aim too high. It is a good investment, from a financial point of view, to build in a neighborhood of a higher income group, but the disadvantages of trying to keep up with the Joneses usually more than offsets any satisfaction your street address may give you.

Consider the distance from business, markets, schools, churches, and places of amusement. All these factors have a distinct bearing on the contentment you will feel in your new home.

Roofs Worthwhile

This Means Only Flat Surface Built-up Roofs

The actual cost of different materials and quantities required: I have the ammunition, as to years of experience. I am going to lay bare mechanical facts which are very stubborn facts and cannot be disputed.

Come straight to me and not the general contractor, who plays my figures against other roofers' estimates, and of course accepts the cheapest which will show him, individually, the most profit. What does the general contractor care—the roofer gives the guarantee. See me direct about roofing. I will lay the cards on top of the table as to exact cost of roofing materials from factory to me and from me to you.

Some wholesale groceryman sells roofing—pays no compensation insurance, on Tom, Dick and Harry, who apply the roof after a fashion. Tom, Dick or Harry falls off the roof and breaks his neck—and costs the wholesale groceryman nothing. If the roof leaks, see Tom, Dick and Harry; the groceryman is not responsible. It is Pigism so far as some wholesale grocerymen are concerned, and viewed from any angle. They sell anything from a necktie to a sack of flour, canned goods, flour, meal, bacon, butter, whiskey and beer, and expect you and I to steal money and buy the necessities of life from the wholesale grocery—a million dollar chain store at that.

My purpose in view is to give honest people the lowdown on roofing and knock the socks off of bad brands of roofing. If you feel you must have a Bird roof, see me; there are no patents on them. Forget about the General Contractor. I have always made the grade and am not licking any general contractors', lumber yards' or wholesale grocers' boots. See me about Roofing Materials at first cost. My experience in roofing—not running a general store, but applying roofs that will keep the house dry—is at your service, free of any charge.

The tin roof on the Keller Building, 112 DeSiard Street, has given sixty-five years' service—and will last thirty years longer. The profits on roofs, like potatoes, hinges on the almighty Dollar.

Watch the Sunday morning paper for roof dope worth while and see me about the application of roofs built up and applied for service. There is more profit in a cheap roof—I am not trying to hog the roofing trade.

Phone 132, collect, or wire about my water tanks—delivered anywhere.

FHA Appraisers Wage Fight On 'Jerry Builder' Of Homes

ROSELLE PARK, N. J.—Appraisal by Federal Housing Administration workers here saved $4,000 for Dr. Maurice Davidson, who recently applied for an insured mortgage loan. Dr. Davidson was quoted a price of $17.000 on a property and applied for a $15,000 loan. Housing administration appraisers placed a value of $13,000 on the property because of neighborhood conditions. Several days later the agent with whom Dr. Davidson was dealing reduced the price of the property from $17,000 to $13,000. Now, according to the associate director for New Jersey, Dr. Davidson is a most enthusiastic supporter of the Federal Housing Administration's appraisal system.

BIBLE CLASSES WILL HOLD JOINT MEETING

Men's Bible classes of all the churches of the two cities will hold a joint meeting at 9:30 o'clock this morning in the educational building of the First Baptist church on St. John street. The speaker of the occasion will be Rev. James Kramer, evangelist, who has been conducting revival meetings at the Monroe Baptist church the past week. The men's groups participating in the event are Major Memorial class, Frank P. Stubbs Memorial class, men's Bible classes of the First Methodist church, Monroe, First Methodist church, West Monroe, First Baptist church, West Monroe, First Christian church, Monroe, Gordon avenue Methodist church, Monroe.

The meeting is the third monthly joint gathering of the men's Bible classes held this summer.

FUGITIVE CAPTURED IN ARKANSAS TOWN

J. D. Harris, 46, living in ward eight, who is wanted by Ouachita parish authorities to face a statutory charge involving a 13-year-old girl, was arrested Saturday morning at Batesville, Ark., and is being held there for local authorities.

Sheriff Lloyd Allen of Batesville notified the Ouachita parish sheriff's department that Harris was arrested at the home of relatives in Batesville. Harris is charged with committing the alleged offense last Tuesday at the girl's home during her mother's absence.

Harris' extradition from Arkansas will be asked by Ouachita parish authorities and a deputy sheriff will be sent to Baton Rouge this week for the necessary papers.

THANKS EXPRESSED BY COMMANDER OF LEGION

Alton T. Harper, newly-elected commander of Burnett-Downs Post No. 201, American Legion, West Monroe, last night stated he wished to thank residents of Monroe and West Monroe for their attendance during the week to the tent show of Willard the Wizard. The show made its appearance in West Monroe under the sponsorship of the Burnett-Downs post and a part of the proceeds went into the legion group's treasury.

Commander Harper also expressed his thanks to Mayor C. C. Bell, of West Monroe, and city council for their support in making the show possible. The show made its last appearance in West Monroe last night.

Madman's Island

BY NARD JONES Copyright 1937 NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER XIII

The "Mistral's" speedy power tender eased along the shoreline. There were no green and red lights forward, no white light at the stern. Only the creamy wake and the sound of the motor indicated its presence in the darkness.

Tom Forrest, at the wheel with Priscilla beside him, had cut down the motor, wanting to keep their search as quiet as possible. Although it would be desirable for Grant Harper and Kay to know of the nearness of the speedboat, there was every chance that the unknown island resident was with them.

Mac, seated tense in the after cockpit with Melita, could stand it no longer. "This isn't getting us anywhere," he told his brother. "There's not a sign of life on shore. I move we use a light and the whistle, and try to let Kay and Grant know where we are."

Tom was silent a moment. "It's hard to tell which is the best plan," he said. "Priscilla, hand me that flashlight from the side pocket." He took it from her trembling nands. It was in a foot-long slender case, with a huge lens and powerful bulb. The button clicked under his thumb and a shaft of light shot clear to shore, bringing into their vision the trees and sand, but no sign of humanity.

"Turn off the engine," Mac suggested. "And give the whistle a try."

Tom obeyed. But there was only the echo and re-echo of the whistle to reward them. Doggedly, Tom drove the speedboat farther along and repeated the process. Occasionally he bathed the shoreline with the flashlight's gleam.

They had almost circled the island without success when Melita cried out: "See there!" She pointed toward the wood. "There's a light!"

Tom motioned for quiet while they sat breathless in the gently rolling speedboat. Unmistakably there was a flickering light ashore.

"It's someone with a flashlight," Mac whispered. "He's walking with it, and the trees between us and the light make that flickering effect."

"It must be Grant," Priscilla said. "Give him a signal."

"No," Mac advised. "Grant didn't have a flashlight when I left him. That's the man we're looking for, 10 to 1. And maybe Kay and Grant are with him." He started the motor at slow speed, began "coasting" down the shoreline. "We'll land a little farther down, and see if we can follow that light."

Carefully and quietly he nosed the speedboat into the sand. "You girls stay here with the boat," Tom said. "We'll leave you one of the revolvers."

"But—"

"Remember what happened to the dinghy! The best thing is for you to stay aboard. Look here . . . the control lever is in reverse. If you have to get out of here, just step on the starter. When Mac and I return we'll flash the light three times so you'll know who it is." He climbed over the bow and onto the beach. "Can you still see that light, Mac?"

"Yes, but it's getting fainter. We'd better start right now."

Melita and Priscilla had no desire to stay with the speedboat, but they realized the wisdom of a guard for it, recalling vividly the damaged dinghy which had been the start of all their present troubles.

Melita touched Mac's arm. "Please be careful."

"Don't worry . . ." He smiled down at her.

A moment later the two men had disappeared in the darkness, leaving a pair of tense young women huddled in the speedboat. They could no longer see the flickering light which they had detected from the water, and the very silence around them grew frightening and oppressive.

How long they sat there, ready at any instant to start the motor of the boat, Melita and Priscilla never really knew. It seemed hours. Then suddenly they heard a sound in the brush quite close to the beach. For a second they sat rigid. Melita's foot crept toward the starter button—and then came the flash from Tom's light . . . once . . . twice . . . three times.

"What did you find?" Melita cried as the Forrest brothers hurried down the beach.

They did not answer at once. Shoving the speedboat out from the beach and climbing aboard, they were strangely silent. Tom started up the motor, veered around in the direction of the "Mistral."

"Tell us what happened!" Melita insisted.

"Precisely nothing," replied Mac in a troubled voice. "That's just the devil of it. We got quite close to that blamed light. Then suddenly it disappeared, and we couldn't see or hear a thing. Finally we decided it would be the better part of valor to get out of there. We had a creepy feeling that the man with the light had got on to us, and was watching.

"It wasn't," added Tom Forrest, "the pleasantest feeling I've ever had."

"What do we do now?" asked Priscilla dejectedly.

"The only thing we can do is return to the yacht and wait until morning. Maybe in daylight we'll have a chance to see what this is all about." His jaw set in a grim line. "I know I'm going to comb that island—every foot of it—until I find out something."

There was a moment's silence. Then Melita said slowly, "I guess that's all we can do. But now I—I'm afraid of what we'll find.' Then she blurted out, "Why did we have to come to this awful place, anyhow?"

"Few people do," Mac Forrest said. "If you were headed for Larramore island you were far off your course. This island here was up for sale by the government years ago, but I don't think anyone ever bought it. It had a bad name, as they say. I can't think what happened here, but I know I've heard some sort of story about it."

All four were quiet until they reached the sleek white side of the "Mistral." Tom maneuvered close while Mac helped the girl aboard. "Go easy until I get the lights on," the latter advised. He opened the door to the main cabin, turned the master switch which bathed the yacht in light from stem to stern.

"Look!" Melita cried, pointing to the deck. They stared at a trail of water near the rail. In one spot there was as unmistakable imprint of a bare foot.

"Someone's been aboard," Tom said in a low voice.

Cautiously they entered the lighted cabin. On a table in the center was a square of damp paper on which something was scrawled with a wet pencil. Tom Forrest picked it up as others crowded around to read the ominous message.

"There is no chance to be of assistance to your friends, and to save your own lives you must leave this place at once."

PASTEURIZATION KILLS BACTERIA

Cooperative Dairies, Inc., Assures Best Possible Milk Obtainable

The management of the Cooperative Dairies, Inc., is particularly proud of the system of pasteurization which eliminates all possible danger from harmful fever bacteria, giving Monroe and West Monroe milk that is as "pure as the purest." Only grade A raw milk is purchased and this is given the most careful treatment in pasteurization.

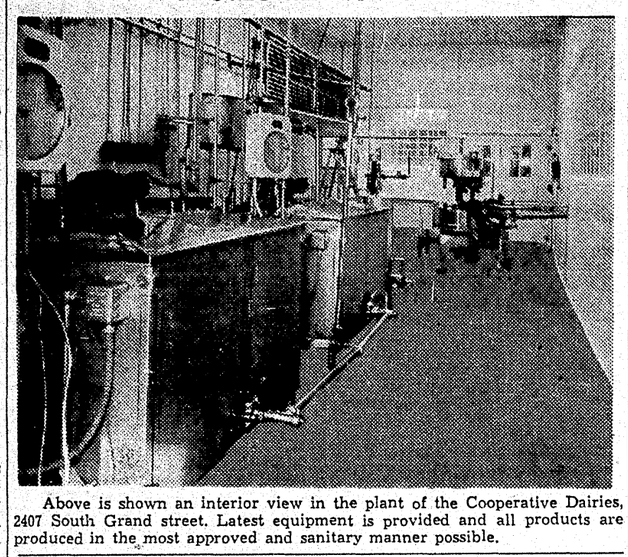
Milk is received from farmers making deliveries daily and passes through a series of pipes which convey it through a so-called "spray type" system where it is treated to a temperature of 143 1-2 degrees, which is maintained 30 minutes.

Then it is bottled by the most sanitary process known, no human hands touching the milk from the time of reception to that of delivery.

Bottles also go through processes that require 12 minutes of time to complete. They are first rinsed in ordinary water, then they are passed through an alkali solution, thence into a second rinsing water, followed by a chlorination process.

When the milk is bottled it is capped with the latest type of metal cap which eliminates all dust and can be opened only with a can opener.

PASTEURIZING ROOM



Above is shown an interior view in the plant of the Cooperative Dairies, 2407 South Grand street. Latest equipment is provided and all products are produced in the most approved and sanitary manner possible.

This plan was adopted recently and has proved an instantaneous success and health safeguard.

In addition to milk, buttermilk, chocolate milk, cream, cream cheese and butter as output of the plant, Bireley's orangeade also has a wide sale. It is pasteurized, being heated to 180 degrees and is handled with all the painstaking care that milk receives.

Between 30 and 40 farmers bring milk to this plant which is, as the name signifies, cooperatively owned. There are 27 employes, and 14 separate routes are operated to all parts of Monroe and West Monroe.

The company owns its own building which was completely reconstructed to meet requirements and represents a total cost of building and equipment approximately $40,000.

The president of the company is Robert G. (Bob) Harmon; E. S. Eby is secretary; Charles Beadles, general manager; Clarence Johnson, plant manager, and Frank Pettit, auditor.

:-: CHURCHES :-:

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH
Jackson At Wood Street
Walter C. Scott, Minister

"If I Had Known Then What I Know Now" will be the sermon theme at the morning hour. The pastor will occupy the pulpit at both services. At the evening service he will discuss "Persecution for Righteousness Sake." This church is here to serve the community. Its purpose is to help men "to see Jesus" and to carry out the divine intention, "Not to be ministered unto but to minister." You are cordially invited to join us in the worship services.

The Methodist Men's club will meet Monday evening in the annex for the Fellowship meeting. Rev. C. K. Smith of Tallulah will be the guest speaker. A record attendance is expected. Immediately following this meeting, the board of stewards will hold the regular monthly business meeting.

The Woman's Missionary society will meet in circles on Tuesday at 3 p. m. The meeting places will be found in the calendar of the daily paper and the church bulletin.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
L. T. Hastings, Pastor
D. C. Black, Director of Education And Music

Sunday school meets 9:30 a. m., instead of 9:45 a. m. Be on time. The Major Memorial class will, meet on the second floor of the educational building; the other classes of the adult department will assemble in their respective class rooms, make their offerings and take the record, then the entire Sunday school from the junior department on up will come to the second floor promptly at 10 o'clock for a service which will be conducted by our visiting minister, Dr. J. W. Kramer. We have as our attendance slogan for Sunday, "Beat 800 Absolutely." We are praying and working to the end that Sunday shall be the greatest day we have ever had in attendance on all the services, in conversions and additions and in offerings. We can if we will. Dr. Kramer will speak at the 11 o'clock hour on "Sheltering Wings." At 3 p. m. he will address a great mass meeting on "What's the Matter With the American Home?" Everybody is invited to be there. At 7:30 he will deliver what is perhaps his most famous sermon, "Don't Die on Third." He has just written a book that carries that title. Services will continue, day and night, through the week. Great crowds are hearing Dr. Kramers' heart-felt, soul-stirring messages. Come early to get a good seat. Loud speakers have been installed in the auditorium to enable all to hear. The large choir under Mr. Black's direction, with Mrs. G. C. Cornett and Mrs. D. S. Albritton at the pianos, is an attractive feature of the meeting. The week-day services are held at 9:30 to 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Just follow the crowds to the First Baptist church. You are as welcome as the flowers in May.

FIRST BAPTIST SCHURCH
West Monroe
Rev. E. E. Huntsberry

Sunday school at usual hour, J. G. Cobb superintendent. Morning preaching service, 10:50 a. m.; the pastor will preach on the theme: "Open Windows." The usual young people's meeting will be held Sunday night and at 8 p. m.; the pastor will preach on the subject: "Where a Tree Falls, There It Shall Lie." There will be a baptismal service at the close of the evening service.

METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH
Stone Avenue and South Third Street
I. L. Yeager, Pastor

These are indeed strange times upon which we have fallen. The mutterings of war can be easily heard. The war clouds threaten to overcast. The entire world, to all appearance, is on the verge of a mighty conflagation. The dove of peace awaits with out-stretched pinion, but whither shall she go? There is "distress of nations, with perplexity the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth." The heart of man cries out for peace, and peace cannot be found in things material. There is only one source of lasting peace, and that is Christ Jesus. He said, "Come unto me, and I will give you rest." "My peace give I unto you." Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. At this time the Lord's supper will be taken. Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p. m. Evening service at 7:30. Circle meetings at 2:30, Tuesday afternoon. Prayer service Thursday evening at 7:30. Mrs. M. B. Hearne, will lead in the service.

CHURCH OF NAZARENE
Thomas and Richmond Streets
G. M. and Ina Lee Akin, Pastors

J. P. Lowrey, Minister

Bible Study at 9:45 a.m. Preaching at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Communion, morning and evening. Ladies' Bible class, Tuesday, 3 p.m. Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:45 p.m. Young Peoples' meeting, Friday, 7:45 p.m. The entire membership of the church is urged to be present at the Sunday morning service. Visitors are always welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont at Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Minister

One of America's best known writers and a man who played a prominent part in the recent Democratic victory is a faithful attendant upon church worship services. He writes: "I have sat in my quota of hard pews, and listened to enough uninspired and uninspiring sermons to last a lifetime but I still go to church. I go because I like to be in a place now and then where men take off their hats. What I mean is something more than custom. I suppose that "reverence" is the word for it. I go because I believe in God. But if I did not believe in Him, I would go anyway—out of reverence for the size of the mystery with which the little we know is surrounded. I go because the big idea back of what goes on there is to encourage whatever, in me, is good. I go to church because, after having sized up things all week by standards more or less selfish, I am ready for an hour in which they are sized up by great moral standards. What the church needs is not the defense of men but their patronage. It is very much like having an annual overhauling or seeing your dentist twice a year. Except that in the area where the church operates, I think I need to be overhauled oftener than that. (Stanley High, Saturday Evening Post, September 4, 1937.) The men of the Frank P. Stubbs Memorial Bible class will meet with other Bible study groups of the community at the First Baptist church at 9:30 a. m. "While yet it is Day," and "The Faith of Abel" are the subjects about which we shall think. A cordial greeting awaits you.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH
Harrison and D'Arbonne
Sherrouse Addition
Vernon C. Grosse, Pastor

Services will be held at the regular time. Sunday school and Bible class at 9:45 a. m. Church service at 10:45 a. m. The communicant members are urged to attend in order to register for holy communion. All are cordially invited to worship with us.

GRACE EPISCOPAL CHURCH
North Fourth and Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for the 16th Sunday after Trinity as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 and 9:30 a.m. The choir will be present at the 9.30 service and the rector will preach. Beginning with September 19, the church school will resume its sessions, the hour for the school being 9:30 a.m., and the church services will be at the accustomed hours of 7:30 and 11 a.m., instead of 7:30 and 9:30 a.m. This week is Ember week. Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are the Ember days. The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated on Wednesday at 9 a.m. and Friday at 7:30 a.m. After the heat of summer, this week is a good time for stirring up one's heart for the work of the Lord during the autumn. The days grow shorter; the stormy equinox is not far off; but the fields are ever green in which the Good Shepherd leads the soul; and prayer and fasting are as the still waters in which heaven is reflected, and where the soul may bathe and be refreshed with the peace of God. Now in schools and colleges, the youth of the land are coming together, after long vacations, to go on much rain on their young souls; that with their studies. Let us pray for every college may be as Gideon's fleece, drenched with the dews of God's Grace; and that the choicest youth of the land may be called of God, as was Samuel, and led to answer, as he did, "Speak, Lord, for Thy servant heareth." The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. "Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate."

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
3400 Lee Avenue
D. D. Cantrell, Pastor

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; song and preaching service, 10:45 to 11:45 a. m.; B. T. U., 6:45 p. m.; song and preaching services, 7:30 p. m. We are happy to announce that Mr. Dale Cobb has been employed to have charge of music and general educational of our church. Dale is a fine, talented and efficient, as well as consecrated young man, and we welcome him and his fine wife to our church with all our hearts. The pastor will have charge of preaching services both morning and evening. The new baptistry will not be ready for use before September 19. We expect to baptize a large number of candidates at the evening hour of this date. We anticipate a great day on this Lord's day. Bring your friends. Welcome to all!

COTTON PROBLEM WILL BE TALKED

Statewide Meeting Called At Tallulah To Discuss Seed Question

TALLULAH, La., Sept. 11.—(Special)—Due to the fact that cotton oil mills are refusing to receive cotton seed on account of the damaged condition of the seed, and which has led to a widespread misunderstanding regarding cotton seed prices, a statewide meeting of cotton oil mill representatives, ginners, planters and farmers has been called to meet at the Tallulah courthouse next Wednesday, at 10 a. m., it was announced by C. E. Hester, parish agent.

This condition has been largely brought about by the ginning of damp or wet cotton which is affecting t quality of the lint and seed, as w as the loan value of the cotton. T situation is so serious that it deemed advisable to bring the wh matter up for a free, open and fra discussion between all interested pa ties, it was stated.

Harry D. Wilson, commissioner agriculture, J. W. Bateman, direct of extension, G. E. Lindsey, Sr., of t Louisiana Ginners' association and mill representatives, have accept invitations to participate in the me ing.

JOHNNY, IT'S ALL CLEARED UP NOW. DANNY SUPEENA POISONED YOUR MOTHER BECAUSE SHE THREATENED TO EXPOSE HIM AND HIS GANG.

YES, YOU SEE, WHEN I SECRETLY RETURNED HOME TO SNEAK OUT A COUPLE OF MY SUITS, SEVERAL WEEKS AGO, MOTHER SHADOWED ME AS I LEFT—AND CONFRONTED SUPEENA.

SHE SCREAMED AT HIM THAT SHE WOULD EXPOSE HIM EVEN IF IT MEANT A PRISON TERM FOR ME. SHE SAID THAT WAS THE ONLY WAY SHE COULD SAVE ME

BUT I NEVER BELIEVED SHE WOULD GO THROUGH WITH IT.

WELL, SUPEENA DID—HE KILLED HER TO MAKE SURE SHE WOULDN'T.

—AND ALL I ASK IS THAT YOU KEEP ME OUT OF JAIL LONG ENOUGH TO HELP YOU CATCH THAT RAT.

OKAY, JOHNNY! —COME ON NOW— GET INTO THIS DRESS. YOU'VE GOT WORK TO DO.

BRING IN MABLE, PAT.

OKAY—TRACY.

JOHNNY, THIS IS MABLE MURMER, DANNY SUPEENA'S SWEETHEART. THE BOYS PICKED HER UP, YESTERDAY.

WHAT KIND OF A DIRTY STUNT HAVE YOU COPPERS GOT UP YOUR SLEEVE NOW?

THIS DRESS IS A COPY OF HER DRESS— AND I WANT YOU TO STUDY HER VOICE— AND TRY TO TALK AS NEAR LIKE HER AS YOU CAN.

OH, YOU'RE WORKING OUT A TRAP FOR DANNY, EH?

OF ALL THE DETESTABLE SCHEMES— —AND YOU— TAKE YOUR HANDS OFF ME.

HEY WOMAN! —CUT THAT OUT!

LISTEN! IF YOU WERE A MAN I'D SOCK YOU SO—

YEAH—AND IF YOU WERE A MAN, I'D LET YOU.

LISTEN, JOHNNY—SUPEENA HAS A BROTHER, JAKE—WHO'S A MOVIE OPERATOR AT THE BROAD CIRCLE THEATER. HE'S ABSOLUTELY RESPECTABLE, HOWEVER, AND HAS DISOWNED HIS BROTHER—BUT THIS IS THE PLOT——

Meanwhile

KEEP RINGING!

BUT I'VE BEEN RINGING HER FOR AN HOUR! MABLE IS EITHER OUT—OR SHE WON'T ANSWER HER PHONE.

LISTEN—GO TO HER FLAT—AND GET HER. TELL HER IT'S GETTING TOO HOT HERE AND WE'RE ALL LEAVING FOR THE COAST TONIGHT.

OKAY, DANNY.

ADVENTURE STAMPS

FOUNDED SUN-GIVEN CIVILIZATION

SECOND highest plateau in the world is that in the upper reaches of Peru's ancient Andes. Its general sweep is from 11,000, to 15,000 feet. Only in Tibet is there a parallel. Here by turns it is excessively cold at night, burning hot by day.

And in this country of rigors the fascinating Incas once flourished. Legend records that the Sun and his Moon wife, having pity on the misguided barbarism of the country, one day dispatched their son and daughter to found a government which should teach the benefits of civilization. So Manco Capac and Mama Ollo Huaco, carrying with them the golden wedge, founded holy Cuzco, the seat of a new sun-given civilization.

That empire grew as if by magic. In the 400 years of its existence it was extended to embrace millions of square miles. It attained a high culture. And then in 1532 it was destroyed by Pizarro and his adventurous conquistadors. But not before the Inca leaders had ordered that a wealth of jewels and gold be hidden in their holy caverns.

The end of one of these caverns, Chincana, in Cuzco, has never been discovered. In it are supposedly hidden great portions of the Inca treasure. But the cavern is so complicated and so numerous are its passages that its secret is still unknown. Many have entered it but few have returned. An 1896 Peruvian stamp pictures Manco Capac, first Inca emperor.
